in riots. Prices have soared and those shops not yet closed by strikes may soon run out of 'The Big Push Is On'

TEHRAN, Dec. 28 (NYT) - Opponents of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi today consolidated strikes in all sectors of the Iranian economy, attempting to bring down the monarchy a refrain among opposition politi-cal groups and the followers of Islamic activists, who have formed the spearhead of the two-month-old drive to bring down the imperial

But many people tried hard to conserve their normal lives. The Nepalese Embassy gave a luneheon reception at a large hotel, children in Zorro capes and swords chased each other on the streets, and the song "Manhattan," by a German pop group, moved up to No. 24 on the Radio Tehran Hit Parade.

Official Reasoning

A test of wills had developed around the shah's apparent reasoning that the shortages growing out could be turned around to work against the opposition movement behind it. A spokesman for the imperial court told a reporter, "We've already beard that people are reacting against the shortages in gasoline and heatiog oil. They've said they're disgusted by being made to suffer by people with polit-

But the National Froot, the organization that groups the main op-position factions, said employees in the oil fields, banks and govern-ment ministries signed pledges to cootinue refusing to work until the

The most sensitive area among the shutdowns was the oil sector.

Rationing began at dawn and by midday lines of up to 200 cars, each waiting three to four hours, formed at gas stations. Soldiers armed with submachine guns enforced a 20

Crowds with blue, yellow and plastic jerry cans mobbed stores at which kerosene and heating oil are sold, and a diplomatic informant said there was rioting in two depots in the oorth of the capital. He estimated that there were supplies in

The state radio said oil production was at a standstill, a statement described by the National Front as an attempt to panic the population.

The front said oil workers were producting about 300,000 barrels, enough to supply limited basic needs, but that the martial-law authorities were withholding it from Tchran for two or three days.

liter limit per customer.

shah leaves Iran.

the developing general strike

No. 29,822

PARIS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1978

New Demands by Russia

U.S. Says SALT Stalled on Cruises guard. Some of the demands were that Moscow introduced the new is-

"dredged up some minor technical problems to stretch out the talks."

Delayed by Demonstrations

U.S.-Taiwan Talks Start on Ties

Carter's decision to establish ties

A taxi driver screaming for revenge set himself aftire outside the Foreign Ministry. Wimesses said the driver locked himself in his cab,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (NYT) — U.S. officials said yesterday that last minute Soviet proposals calling on the United States to curb new generations of advanced missiles were a key factor behind the failure of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to complete a new arms limi-tation agreement in Geneva last

The officials said that, in the last phase of the three-day session, Mr. Gromyko proposed that a ban be placed on the U.S. deployment of Cruise missiles with multiple war-heads and that limits be placed on remotely controlled long-range re-connaissance planes. Officials said the new issues must be resolved before a treaty can be signed.

Both type of craft make use of advanced U.S. computer technology and electronics. According to some officials, Moscow has put a premium in the talks on cootrolling those areas where the United States has a technological edge.

Although the officials disagreed over what impact the Soviet pro-posals would have oo further ef-forts to achieve an accord, several said it was still possible to complete

They said that, with one exception, Mr. Vance and Mr. Gromyko had been able to agree on long un-resolved issues. These included the sensitive question of whether the new arms treaty, running to 1985, would allow the Soviet Unioo to timed Taipei-Washington contacts in talks that were delayed by anti-

"the United States.

for the Monarch Wine Co.

about 75 cents a bottle.

In Manile, a ship carrying about

. - .

While the negotialors met under leavy guard in a hotel, the demon-mations continued for the second

TAIPEI, Dec. 28 — U.S. and Chinese Nationalist negotiators failed we today to reach agreement for conbanners denouncing President banners denouncing President

U.S. Distributor Announces Deal

To Market Chinese Beer, Vodka

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP) - A U.S. wine producer announced a deal with China yesterday to market Chinese beer and vodka in

The beer, tsingtao, and the vodka, an 80-proof potion that could rival the Russian version, is scheduled to make its debut in this country in April or May, said Chester Moss, director of operations

Mr. Moss said that the deal was scaled after two years of oegotia-

As part of the beverage deal, Mooarch is to provide China with technicians to help improve the brewing, bottling and packaging of its beer, Mr. Moss said. It also would supply the Chinese with yeast

He said that the vodka would sell for $9 a fifth and the beer for "Our hope is to sell I million cases of beer a year after about five years," he said. "We're aiming at Chinese restaurants. There are more than 12,000 Chinese restaurants with liquor licenses in this

Peking Plans U.S. Anthology

TOKYO, Dec. 28 (AP) - An anthology of short stories by country, and if we can corner that market, we're in."

tions. He called the Chinese the toughest bargainers he had ever cow a three-year duration.

However, officials said, Mr. Gromyko raised additional questions that caught the Americans off they said that Moscow had revived

Cruise missiles equipped with mul-

Other officials dispute this view.

They say that the Russians, in a last-minute push, were attempting to close off potentially important U.S. arms options. For example, said to be oew; others were de-scribed as issues that had not been raised in the talks for more than a Most of the Soviet proposals, the Americans said, cropped up Saturday morning, 12 hours after a U.S. spokesman had said, "We are close to the end of the road." The fact surprised when Mr. Gromyko sues on the last day led some officials to conclude that the Russians were looking for an excuse to delay an accord and, in the words of one,

As Violence in Capital Continues Tehran Nearing Chaos TEHRAN, Dec. 28 (AP) — Months of strikes and civil disorder have brought this city close to chaos. Transportation is breaking down, the banking system is near collapse and there is anarchy in the streets for hours every day. Because schools have closed, children wander through the city, sometimes getting caught an old proposal calling for a ban on the deployment of Cruise missiles equipped with multiple warbeads.

Andrei Gromyko

In earlier talks, the United States is said to have told the Russians that it had no plans to deploy a Cruise missile with multiple warheads before 1985, but that it was unwilling to agree on a formal pro-hibition. This issue was regarded as closed, and officials were evidently tiple warbeads.

Officials said Mr. Gromyko also raised the possible inclusion of unarmed remotely controlled vehicles in a new arms accord. These (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8) then lighted it, shouting: "Long live the Republic of China."

taxi and doused the flames. The cabbie was taken to a hospital where he was reported in poor con-

The U.S. negotiators had been greeted yesterday by thousands of angry demonstrators screaming "Down with Carter," "Sellout,"

Diplomatic sources said the two three-hour first session today but there were fears the talks may end a framework under which the two countries will be able to cootinue their relations after the United States switches its diplomatie recognition to Peking. Charles King, information direc-tor of the Foreign Ministry, told reporters after the meeting at the suburban Grand Hotel that the two sides held "serious discussions" in "a solemn atmosphere." Mr. King is a Nationalist delegate to the

Another Nationalist delegate

James Soong, deputy director-gen-eral of the Information Office, said the two sides now understood each other's positions and views on the

Neither Mr. King nor Mr. Soong would say wbether any agreement

'No Agreement'

gates did not even try in the first

The Carter administration at one

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

But the diplomatic sources said, had been reached.

The negotiations are to work out at the U.S. motorcade.

in a deadlock.

Bystanders pulled him from the nightly 9 p.m. curfew, the effects of the last week's disruptions across the country are now spreading everywhere. Oil-field strikes have cut gasoline supplies to a trickle, and public bus service stopped yesterday. Motorists in oeed of gasoline and citizens who rely on kerosene for cooking and beating must spend bours eve-ry day in line for rationed supplies. Many banks closed today, blaming a shortage of cash and the inability of their employees to get to work because of the bus stoppage. The banks have been of little help to their customers for days, howev-

The bank closings are expected to cripple businesses even further, because most offices pay bills by direct transfers between bank Traffic in Tehran, always frus-

er, because many bave not had the

Waiting for Troops

cash to pay their depositors.

themselves in their homes after the trating, bas often been forced to a standstill in downtown areas. A favorite tactic of demonstrators is to block intersections until troops battle with them.

Demonstrators slip sheets of pa-per with anti-shah slogans under the windshield wipers of automobiles. After getting out of traffic jams, drivers scramble to crumple up the signs and throw them in the street, for fear of harassment or arrest by police and troops.
Frightened by mobs and soldiers, and exasperated by traffic tie-ups, some motorists avoid driving downtown, thus reducing business, even more. The city's traffic police have almost disappeared, and stoplights and one-way street signs are widely ignored.

Storekeepers have raised prices dramatically. Eggs, once 3 rials (4 sides made their stands known in a U.S. cents) apiece, have tripled in price this mooth. A can of instant coffee jumped from $3.85 to $5.44 in the same period. Taxi drivers de-mand $14 for a ride downtown from the airport, compared with $6 last week.

The price of bread, meat and sugar is controlled by the government. But the state radio warned of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7) by dislocating every aspect of national life. The central banks closed, stores failed to open, the state airline suspended operations and oil refineries stopped production. Tens of thousands of Iranians waited hours to fill jerry cans with rationed heating oil, sometimes fighting with soldiers and among themselves, and cars that had run out of gasoline were abandoned on the streets. Shorting and depresentations continued in the control of the product of the production of the streets. goods because of transportation snarls. The decline has been particularly rapid in the last week. While Tehran's 4.5 million Shooting and demonstrations continued in the capital, although at a lower level than during the daylong clashes yesterday. Protesters in the streets were reported to have told each other that "the big push is on." A qualified Western diplomat said the phrase "the big push" had become a refrain among opposition politicitizens could live a somewhat normal life a week ago by avoiding riot areas and shutting

Strikes Spread Throughout Iran

Demonstrators in Tehran use discarded Christmas trees to set alight an overturned army jeep.

Fires raged in the middle of a street in center of Tehran yesterday as rioters continued to disrupt the city. Many motorists drive with headlights on to show sympathy with anti-shah protesters.

State Funeral Takes Place Today

Millions Mourn Algeria's Boumedienne

From Wire Dispatches
ALGIERS, Dec. 28 — More than million Algerians massed today outside the building where President Houari Boumedienne's body lay in state, as the country began a 40-day mourning period. Chanting "Allah Akhbar" (God. is great), people jammed windows and balconies when the body was moved to the Grand Salon of Officers at the Palace of the People.

Authorities moved police rein-forcements into the capital today to guard against disorderly outbursts of grief during tomorrow's state

A huge crowd gathered as offi-cials paid their last respects. Many businessmen locked their doors and joined mourning processions. Flags flew at half-mast and verses of the Koran were read at mosques around the country.

The government set the funeral for tomorrow afternoon in Algiers' Martyrs Square, and burial in El tery on the heights overlooking the capital.

Col. Boumedienne died of a rare blood disease yesterday after lying in a coma on life-support systems for 40 days. World leaders sent their condolences, and the Soviet Union's Communist Party newspaper Pravda said that Moscow would sensit Alacia's Malakia would remain Algeria's "reliable and loyal friend."

The National Assembly named its leader, Rabah Bitat, as interim president for up to 45 days. He de-clared that Algeria remained com-mitted to "the irreversible course of socialism, national independence, economic progress and justice."

Col. Boumedienne, who seized power in a bloodless coup 13 years ago, did not name a successor. The eight-member Council of the Revointion is expected to name a new

The new leadership is expected to be faced with growing discontent with Col. Boumedienne's "socialist revolution," widely blamed for food and other shortages. Algeria exported agricultural products during French rule, but now imports much of its food.

Arab and developing countries, will assemble here tomorrow for the Hafez al-Assad has said that he would attend, and Presidents Spyros Kyprianou of Cyprus and Seyni Kountche of Niger are among other heads of state expected. Premiers were to include Salim al-Hoss of Lebanon, Hedi Nouira of Tunisia and Pedro Pires of Cape Verde. Romania has sent Vice President Emil Bodnaras, Yugoslavia is to be represented by Vice President Fadilj Hodza, and Iraq by Vice President Taha Moheddin Marouf.

Tunisian President Habib Bourgulba has sent his son, Habib Bourgniba Jr. Turkey is to be represented by Deputy Premier Faruk Sukan. Foreign ministers expected are Jean Francois-Poncet of France, David Owen of Britain, Hans-Dietrich Genscher of West Germany, Henri Simonet of Belgium, Simeon Ake of the Ivory Coast, Munyua Waiyaki of Kenya, and Moustapha Niasse of Senegal.

The United States is sending Treasury Secretary Michael Blu-menthal, and Canada its postmaster general, Gilles Lamontagne.

An industry source confirmed that crude-oil production went ahead this morning at a daily rate of between 300,000 and 400,000 barrels, but said the amount produced and the discussion about it were academic because all export and refining facilities were shut. More cars and vehicles were burned in Tehran and troops fired on crowds, killing several persons, according to the National Front. The group reported two deaths by army bullets in the oil center of Ahwaz, and two more in the south-(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

To Solve Mideast Treaty Impasse

U.S. Said to Consider February Summit

TEL AVIV, Dec. 28 (UPI) — Officials of the Carter administration are considering another three-way summit meeting in February to solve the impasse in the Egyptian-Israeli peace oegotiations, an Israe-li newspaper said today.

Diplomatic sources said they did not expect U.S. Secretary of State Cyrus Vance to return to the Middle East in the near future. They said they thought only another summit could bridge the differences between Egypt and Israel.

Quoting a source close to the White House, the Davar newspaper said the United States was considering the summit as a possibility if last weekend's meeting in Brussels between U.S. Egyptian and Israeli officials does not lead to a resumption of the peace talks.

Meanwhile, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said at a meeting of the Knesset's Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee that Egyptian Peace Municipal Management (Management Management) rian Premier Mustapha Khalil had told him in Brussels that Egypt would not join Syria if it initiated an attack on Israel, another newspaper reported.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry refused to confirm or deny the refrom the closed meeting. But such a promise could have an effect on the dispute over Article 6 of the draft peace treaty, which gives the pact priority over Egypt's defense com-mitments to its Arab allies.

There was also no official reac-There was also no official reaction today to a statement by Egypt's acting foreign minister, Butros Ghali, that a "new battle" would start between Egypt and Israel after the signing of the peace treaty because Egypt wants a Palestinian state and Israel does not.

Sakharov's Wife Given Exit Visa

MOSCOW, Dec. 28 (AP) - Dissident Andrei Sakharov said today that his wife has been granted an exit visa for medical care in Italy, following more than 10 months of delays and just six days before the Nobel Peace Prize winner had threatened to begin a hunger strike. His wife, Yelena Bonner, an active member of the Helsinki human rights group, has been to Italy twice for operations to correct glaucoma in her left eye. She had been told by ber doctor to return for more work.

committee, Moshe Arens, told Israeli radio that Mr. Ghali's declara-tion would lead to a "sober reassessment" amoog those who believed what they had heard from Egypt in private talks.

Mr. Areas said that after the

But the chairman of the Knesset signing of a peace treaty, pressure would be brought on Israel for a full withdrawal to the pre-1967 war

Mr. Khalil's reported pledge to Mr. Dayan not to aid Syria if it attacks Israel could have been a move to ease Israeli coocern about being labeled an aggressor by Cairo be-cause of its occupation of the Golan Heights io Syria.

The Arabs branded Israel the ag-or in the 1967 and 1973 wars. Israel fears that its mere occupa-tion of Arab territory could be declared by Egypt to be an aggressive act that Cairo could use as an excuse to join with Syria in another

A U.S. legal opinion supports the contention that Egypt does not have to give up its joint-defense commitments to its Arab neigh-bors. Israel wants the United States to draw up another opinion.

war against israel.

more than 20 American writers including Theodore Dreiser, Ernest "No agreement has been reached on any single problem and the dele-

Despite Drownings, Illness on Boats

Hemingway, Washington Irving, Jack London and Mark Twain has been published in Peking, the Chinese oews agency reported today. Also included, the agency said, was work by Nathaniel Hawthorne describing "the American people's courageous struggle for national independence and liberation during their revolutionary war 200 years ago."

Asian Ports Bar Thousands of Refugees HONG KONG, Dec. 28 (UPI) — Hong Kong, the Philippines and Driven today refused to allow ship to head for its next port of call in southern Taiwan and will sit in Hong Kong's waters until they are allowed to land.

"We will not allow [the captain]

"We will not allow [the captain]

"Taiwan" a spokesmen of the facilities of the facili boats carrying a reported total of some than 5,000 Vietnamese refuto go to Taiwan," a spokesman said. "He has no choice but to to land on their shores despite tad tales of wretched living condiobey." The refugees are unarmed.
The Hong Kong secretary for security, Lewis Davies, said: "The Many of the refugees were of Chinese origin and had worked for U.S. companies or served as solgovernment's stand remains that in accordance with agreements accepted by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the ers during the Vietnam war. Othwere merchants whose property Hong Kong officials said a liwan-owned freighter within a meters of colonial waters — on 20,000 Are Foodless mich approximately 2,700 refuses hold the captain and crew virginian prisoners—"is not our approximately." In Sumatra Floods

JAKARTA, Indooesia, Dec. 28 (Reuters) — Floods on the Indonesian island of Sumatra have left more than 20,000 persons in urgent need of food and other assistance, local officials said today.

300 Vietnamese was refused peressent to discharge its passengers cause the Philippine refugee mps already are overflowing and Taiwan said it would not acted to the philippine refugees from either vessel build they head there. The floods, which have cut roads and bridges in Jambi province, have inundated Jambi City's markets and threaten the beadquarters of the port authority. Government agencies have organized delivery of The refugees aboard the 2,794 agence Panamanian-registered Huey emerging say they will not allow the areas. emergency supplies to the stricken struggle to board the freighter Tung An, which arrived in Manila yesterday with a canvas streamer proclaiming in red paint: "We wish to get on land." We wish Philippine officials and the UN representative met to discuss the fate of the refugees spilling from the bolds and the decks of the old

While in the bay the refugees will be provided with food, water and medical supplies, the Foreign Min-Cargo of Feed

Sheu Dah Shing, 35, the ship's skipper, was quoted as saying the Tung An left Bangkok Dec. 2 with a cargo of cattle feed and developed engine trouble in international water off the coast of southern Four days later the skipper said a fishing boat with about 700 refugees aboard sank oear his immobile ship, drowning about 230 of its pas-(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

U.S. Deficit Yearly Record But Narrowing WASHINGTON, Dec. 28

The Council has four factions.

Ahmed Bencherif, 41, a large landowner, leads an almost-conservative faction opposed to socialist experiments. Mohammed Salah

Yahiaoui, 46, heads the National Liberation Front, Algeria's only political party. A favorite of the Soviet Union, he advocates more

Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika, 43, was regarded as Col. Boumedienne's most faithful companion. Diplomats who know him say that he was loyal but has said privately that it is time to tone of staff of the 90,000-man army, is a moderate said to have no personal leadership ambitions. But no president could be named over his veto, and he could emerge as a compromise candidate.

Several heads of state and high-ranking officials, particularly from down the "socialist revolution." Col. Bendjedid Chadli, 49, chief (IHT) — The U.S. trade deficit narrowed to $1.95 billion during November from $2.13 billion the previous month, the Com-merce Department reported today, despite fears that an oilbuying surge prior to the OPEC price rise would widen the gap. However, the data pushed the 1978 total deficit to a new yearly record and the department also reported that the index of leading economic indicators, which tends to foreshadow economic trends, declined in the See story Page 7.

Taipei taxi driver Chiao Shao-ying, 40, is held by passersby after they pulled him out of his burning cab yesterday. Mr. Chiao doused himself with gasoline and struck a match to it, shouting "Long live China," in a protest at U.S. recognition of Peking. Officials said he was badly burned.

U.S.-Taiwan Talks Begin on Relations time considered pulling back the high-level mission led by Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher after the motorcade was mobbed by more than 10,000 demonstrators last night.

Twice that many people gathered in front of the Foreign Ministry today to continue the protests.

State Dept. Says Carter Can Terminate Treaty

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP) - The State Department says that President Carter has the right, acting alone, to terminate the U.S. defense treaty with Taiwan.
The Senate's role in giving advice and consent to the making of the treaty is fulfilled when the treaty is made, said an internal memoran-ing U.S. relations with China on made, said an internal memoran-dum prepared by Herbert Hansell,

Thereafter, execution and performance of its terms, including

The nine-page memorandum and

The Carter action, which Sen Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and 14 congressional colleagues challenged

Strikes Spreading in Iran As Turbulence Continues (Continued from Page 1)

ern city of Shiraz, where a firebomb was thrown at the building of the

It was thought the capital could come to a complete standstill Saturday, the day after the Moslem sabbath, when Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the exiled Islamic lead-er, has called for a day of mourning.

The situation, according to a Western diplomat, seemed to have created vague signs that some generals were becoming weary of the daily battling with the crowds, which the palace insists are Communist-inspired. The diplomat said an unnamed general was reported to have told the shah that some kind of decisive action would have to be taken in the next few days. Speculation on the shah'a psy-chology centered around the idea that be thought that by giving the population a deep draft of chaos, it might realize that be was the only source of order in Iran. Political efforts to end the crisis seem stalled. The Islamie activists, the National Front, and a group called the Union for Liberty, which includes members of the present parliament, all are demanding the shah's departure.

The only initiative that would involve his staying on is one that the shah has assigned to Gholam Hosein Sadighi, 71, a former interior minister. The shah has asked him to form a new government that would eventually lead to elections next summer, but Mr. Sadighi appears to have difficulties putting together his cabinet list.

The majority of informed Iranians appear to expect that the shah is most likely to be replaced by military men, either the current senior generals or younger officers.

A diplomat said, however, that the shah "has muddled through in other difficult situations" and that his fall from power could not be predicted with any certainty.

Tanks Attack in Ghazvin

TEHRAN, Dec. 28 (UPI) Tank-borne troops today attacked an estimated 600 and-shah demonstrators in the industrial city of Ghazvin, shot up n university hospital in a southern oil town and fought with protesters in Tehran the department's legal adviser.

those relating to duration or termi-nation, are delegated by the Consti-tution to the chief executive.

a 35-page historical index, prepared by Mr. Hansell and his staff for Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, will be distributed among members of Congress to support Mr. Carter's decision to terminate the 1954 treaty on Jan. 1.

for the sixth consecutive day, witnesses reported. An unspecified number of people were killed in the tank attack, the Iranian-American Society. first reported in a year of strife although the military deployed its armor to fight unrest more than a > Radio Iran said military authorities in Ghazvin, west of Tehran, reacted to two days of bloody clasbes and extended the curiew hy an hour. At least four persons had been killed in Ghazvin yesterday, witnesses reported.

Today, they said, a "tank just rove into the crowd," which was marching along a street shouting anti-shah slogans. "Lots of people were wounded and bleeding, they were everywhere," said a doctor who drove to Tehran with appeals for blood for the wounded.

Steel Workers Set New Strikes In W. Germany

ESSEN, West Germany. Dec. 28 (UPI) — The West German metal-workers union announced today that it will close three more steel plants in its monthlong strike for a 5-hour week.

The new strikes will affect 20,000 workers and increase to 100,000 the number off the job in the first major steel strike in the Ruhr in 50

Kurt Erb, n union leader in the Ruhr, said at a news conference that the strikes will begin Wednesday at a Fried Krupp Huet-tenwerke AG plant in Bochum, a Kloeckner Werke AG plant in Bremen and a Krefeld plant of the Thyssen Edelstahlwerke AG.

On Nov. 28, the union struck eight steel plants with 50,000 workers. Employers in retaliation shut eight plants and locked out 28,900

The union is demanding a 5 percent raise, but its main demand is reduction of the 40-hour work week, which it says is necessary to save jobs. "We are ready to discuss a compromise with the employers, but we will accept only an agree-ment that clearly makes an opening toward a 35-hour week" Mr. Erb

New Year's Day.
Mr. Carter and Mr. Vance are the defendants named in the suit.

The administration is preparing to respond to the suit, both along the historical lines set forth in the Hansell memorandum and by ask-ing the court to dismiss the case as a nonjudicial, political dispute.

A principal argument of the congressional group is that the Senate and the president are partners in the treaty-making process. The log-ical and natural consequence, the said, is that the Senate share the power of terminating the defense pact.

The State Department memorandum flatly rejected that argument,

Beginning with President James Madison's annulment of a commer-cial treaty in 1815 with the Netherlands, the department cited Presi-dents William McKinley, Woo-drow Wilson, Calvin Coolidge, Franklin Roosevelt, Dwight Eisenhower, John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson as all taking actions similar to the one taken by Mr. Carter.

But the department acknowledged that the Constitution does not specifically address the question of treaty termination.

in a poster consisting of six large sbeets of white paper. It was surrounded by a crowd of more than 500 people. "Chairman Mao is our leader, but after all, didn't be have his faults?" the poster asked. "Didn't his instructions have their

It was signed by name, an act

Chinese Attack Radicals

Province Posters Call Meetings of Protest

By Fox Butterfield

two with a friend.

A few of the posters related personal complaints and problems. One said that the author had an exemplary political background, with three brothers in the army, but was being unjustly persecuted by offi-cials. "Out of 360 ments," it said,

"I failed to learn one thing well: how to brownnose. I dared to speak the Chinese news agency "are invit-ed to attend," some of the posters;

Youths Demonstrate

A group of youths from southern

China unfurled a banner in the center of Peking yesterday demanding a meeting with senior leaders so-that they could present grievances.

The 28 youths said that they would not leave the snow-covered about life on a state farm.

PEKING, Dec 28 (Reuters) -

HANGCHOW, China, Dec. 28 that an onlooker said was "very (NYT) — Wall posters have been put up in this ancient lakeside city calling for unofficially organized mass meetings this week to discuss na can people say such things." democracy in China, political persecution and the current local situa-

The call for the privately spon-sored gatherings is highly unusual in China, where political activity is normally under the firm leadership of the Communist Party. A middle-aged man reading one of the posters here on Tuesday remarked that the meetings could be held only if the government approved. A large yellow poster was signed by a person who identified himself someone who suffered greatly Chekiang," the province of which Hangchow is the capital.

The posters calling for the meet-ings are only a few of dozens of broadsides that are pasted on walls around the city, which was the cap-ital of the southern Sung dynasty from 1127 to 1279. The appearance of the posters here indicates that word of the poster writing and impromptu rallies in support of democracy that began in Peking earlier this month bas spread to other parts of China.

Another poster here was entitled: "We demand the right to live as human beings." It said that Chinese should be guaranteed "three meals a day," and "when it comes time for marriage at 30, a small room with a bed." The latter demand appeared to be a reference to mand appeared to be a reference to the shortage of urban bousing, that bas forced many Chinese to postpone marriage or live with their parents in overcrowded conditions.

The poster also said that Chinese should bave a "social life other than meetings," a criticism of the Communists time-consuming penchant for calling meetings on virtually any subject.

A series of questions were raised

Vietnamese "boat people" waiting yesterday on the deck of the freighter Tung An off Manila. The approximately 2,300 refugees aboard have been refused entry by the Philippines.

Asian Ports Bar Thousands of Refugees

(Confiamed from Page I)
sengers. He said of one family of 30 only one survived.
"When I saw people were dying.
I felt it was my duty to save them," Capt. Shen said.
Six other boatloads of Vietnamese came aboard later. The ships sailed for Brunei, a small nation on the island of Borneo, but

Although they bave been allowed to remain about a mile offshore in Manila Bay, their condition was de-

the refugees were denied entry scribed as desperate. "The place is a mess. We can't stand it any more, A lot of people will die," said An Hong Tai, a 29-year-old accountaint from Saigon who acted as spokesman. Five critically ill refugees, including a pregnant woman, were brought ashore for medical treat-

Canada to Triple Quota

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia. Dec 28 (Reuters) — Canada will accept 5,000 Indochina refugees for resettlement next year, nearly tripl-

Dalai Lama Gets Reported Call Back to Tibet

BELGRADE, Dec. 28 (AP) — The Dalai Lama has been officially invited to return to China and join the country's other nationalities in building "a modern, strong socialist country," the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking

Tanjug said that the invitation was made by the Panchem Lama, a former close aide of the Dalai Lama, who now holds official status in the Peking regime. The Pan-chem Lama reportedly expressed hope that the Dalai Lama would return to Theet as soon as possible to see the present situation there. "If you return, you can be sure that the (Communist) Party and the people will welcome you," the Panchem Lama was quoted as saying. The "necessary preparations and secure accommodation" would be

The Dalai Lama, once Tibet's re-ligious and state leader, fled Tibet with several tens of thousands of fellowers after an abortive nprising and an attempt to separate Tibet from China in 1959. He settled in

Naples Opera Shut By Cutoff of Funds

NAPLES, Dec. 28 (UPI) - The celebrated San Carlo opera house remained shut again yesterday after political bickering canceled the theater's opening night for the first time in its 241-year history.

In a dispute between Communist and Socialist deputies on the Naples City Council, the latter said they would not approve funding for San Carlo until the council agreed on a new board for the opera house. The funding cutoff left San Carlo without singers and props. Verdi'a "Luisa Miller" was to have ing its intake for this year, the mission said that Canada also canadian High Commission would make special financial con and (embassy) said today.

A statement said the new quota tributions in the new year to Thai land, Malaysia and other Southeas would increase the number from 70 to 200 families monthly. The com-

Asian countries sheltering large numbers of the refugees. Valued at Up to $3 Million

Three Cezanne Paintings Stolen From U.S. Museum

By Douglas E. Kneeland

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 (NYT) -Three paintings by Paul Cezanne, the 19th-century French master, were discovered missing yesterday from the Art Institute of Chicago. Institute officials estimated that the total value of the paintings, which were removed from their. frames in a locked storage area, was $2.5 million to $3 million. The missing paintings were identified as "Madame Cezanne in a Yellow Armchair," circa 1893-95, "Apples on a Tablecloth," 1886-90,

"House on the River," 1885-90. "We are deeply distressed by this terrible event," said Laurence Chaimers Jr., president of the Art Institute. "Cezanne is one of the most important painters in the his-recovered, it will be a tragic loss." Patrice Marandel, a museum curator, said the theft of the Cezannes was one of the largest in art history. Noting that the paintings were extremely fragile, he warned the thief or thieves that they were "oil paintings on canvas and should not be left outside in the freezing weather.

Mr. Marandel said that all the Cezanne works in storage were from the artist's post-impressionist

He said the portrait of Madame Cezagne, which other officials described as the most valuable of the missing paintings, was "part of a series of portraits of his wife and a magnificent example of Cezanne as a portrainst."

Mr. Marandel said that a number of other paintings of comparable value, including several Gauguins and Toulouse-Lautrees, bad been left untouched The paintings had been in storage for a month and a half while new walls were being put up in a renovation project. Larry Termo-len, the museum's public relations director, said, and the area had not been checked for several weeks.

The discovery of the loss was made before noon yesterday, be acks affect bakeries.

Tehran: City Near Chaos (Continued from Page 1)

not on strike are still being paid. but their salaries depend on how much cash employers have stashed away. Almost everyone is keeping ter system still works, and electricity is usually available, except for daily blackouts that can last up to several hours. The telephone service is deteriorating, with long-dis-tance calls becoming particularly difficult.

Many Tehran citizens with the money to do so have sent their children out of the country, or have decided to take foreign vacations. themselves.

those who dare remain in the city is that apartment rents have fallen by 20 to 40 percent since the riots began

Colombo to Visit China said, when the head of the shipping department was returning sompling () ticed the empty frames.

As the police and FBI agent (CVIII) questioned museum employees lat (CVIII) into the afternoon, Mr. Termole: said that only a "limited number of persons working at the institut had keys to the second-floor stor³ in a age area in the Allerton wing at the east end of the sprawling museurs on South Michigan Avenue F downtown Chicago.

Mr. Termolen said the police ha found no sign of forced entry int the storage area nor at any of the entrances or exits to the museum. Employees as well as members cut the the public are checked by guards a --he said, and any parcels are supplement. posed to be examined.

"I'm sure that there are times with wben a guard may know someonand doesn't check them as closely as you might bope," Mr. Termole and

The theft was the second discourse ered at a major U.S. museum thing week.

On Christmas Day, a guard state in the Michael H. DeYoung Museur in March Michael H. DeYoung Museur in San Francisco found that there are the march in the had entered the building through a he had skylight over the weekend and ha skylight over the weeken in million and in the removed more than $1 million million worth of 17th-century Dutch pain with the removed that the removed that the removed the removed that the removed t ings, including Rembrandt's "Polyage of trait of a Rabbi."

SALT Failed has the real has the real marine On Missiles (Continued from Page 1)

systems, like Cruise missiles, at the manner aircraft equipped wif weld in cameras and electronic equipmer and the for reconnaissance. Moscow is sales and the formal state of the fo for reconnaissance. Moscow a man in a man to be concerned that, unless con the army is a trained, they could be fitted with the could be fitted wi warheads.

Early in the session, Mr. Gn hater the bare raise of the session of the bare raise of the session of myko was also said to have raise an objection to the construction (eq. rl. in shelters over U.S. land-based mi a consiles housed in underground silo later to the shelters, built as protectic later to the shelters, built as protectic later to the shelters. against rain and snow, were critical against rain again against rain agains against rain and show, we have a standard and accepted on the ground that they him contained the standard and the standard an

. Vance Accord .

In contrast to his opposition = the other new points raised by M. John Coromyko, Mr. Vance is said white have quickly arreed to the removal. have quickly agreed to the remove, of the shelters.

The government seems to be sp on why Moscow chose to rail gotiations and how mnon tance the Soviet negotiators and how mnon tance the Soviet negotiators

Some officials believe that M. That Gromyko's move was tactical, really flecting both anxiety over Preside Carter a full recognition of Chiland and a desire to hold a Soviet-U. and a desire to hold a Soviet of the summit meeting after the visit of the summit of the month.

Other aides say Moscow man have believed that the Unit have believed States was so eager to complete accord that it would be willing in the make last-minute concessions. Only the White House aide described right. new proposals as "a typical exa the ple of 11th-hour negotiating by ite and 11th-hour negotiating by ite and 11th-hour negotiating by ite and 11th-hour ne led to a discussion on whether to present full in the talks signals:

from THE HOTEL GEORGE V IN PARIS where the first event of 1979 will be the opening of the Merit European Backgammon Championship on the 5-6 and 7th January.

ANDRÉ SONIER Tel 723 54 00 Telex 290776

Season's greetings

In Communist Cambodia's Ideology

Angkor Wat Given New Symbolic Role

(This is the third article in a series by recently became one of two U.S. monument. journalists allowed to revisit Cambodia for the first time since the Com- to take care and maintain these munist victory in 1975.) By Elizabeth Becker

ANGKOR, Cambodia (WP) -The early morning dew mingled with smoke from cooking fires, and bung like a fog over the jungle floor this offers a clue to the intensely as our car approached the ancient ruins surrounding Angkor Wat, the 12th century temple. I was especially eager to view the monuments because of widespread reports that they bad been careless-

Beyond that, I bad been looking forward to finally walking through Angkor Wat, the largest standing

On my last visit to this part of Cambodia during the days of the Lon Nol government in 1973, the area around Angkor already bad been in the hands of the Communist Khmer Rouge for three years. Earlier Glimpse

I got my only glimpse of the tem-ple on that trip by climbing a rick-ety staircase to the roof of the Grand Hotel in Siem Reap, where I peered at Angkor Wat's 54 towers through binoculars.

This time, however, the Cambodian government gave our party — British scholar Malcolm Caldwell, Richard Dudman of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and myself — the better part of two days to view some of the monuments scattered ther from the war, or vandals the ancient complex.

But the droppings of animals, water seeping into foundations, and the white and green fungi growing on statuary seemed to pose a potentially serious threat to Angkor Wat's future.

Bernard-Phillipe Groslier, former curator of the Angkor conservatory who headed a French-Cambodian team that had restored many of the monuments before the the radical education policies of the expanding war forced it to halt in new government.

1973, had told me the monuments

"Our civilization is 8,800 years required constant maintenance in the humid jungle climate. But the Cambodian experts trained to care for the monuments were nowhere to be seen.

did, and the a trained to a trained to care self-reliant," be said.

"I would like to stress to you that the civilization of Angkor is not a

Fields of Expertise

said that intellectuals - unless they were dedicated to the goals of the Cambodian revolution - were not necessarily employed in their fields

But what about the signs of deterioration, the anthills I saw stuck to Elizabeth Becker, who was The rioration, the anthills I saw stuck to Washington Post's correspondent in bas-reliefs, and the piles of bat Phnom Penh in 1973 and 1974. She dung that are eating away at the "We have not enough man power > monuments precisely," be conceded. "But no one loves Angkor better than our own people."

>
> I was to hear Angkor spoken of in similar terms of reverence many times during my visit, and I believe nationalistic ideology of the men who rule Cambodia today. Unlike most Communist countries, where the faces of leaders stare down from the wall of virtually every building, I cannot recall ly — perhaps even systematically seeing a single photograph of the — destroyed by the Communists leaders of Democratic Kampuchea, who won control of Cambodia in as they call it, during my two-week stay.

"We do not want a personality cult," an official said.

Political Message Instead, watercolors, oil-paintings and photographs of Angkor adorn the halls of almost every building, and it began to appear it was more political message than

This apparent use of Angkor as a symbol of the revolution seems to be part of an effort by the new rulers to stress the heritage and identity of a people who until 1953 had been virtually continuously nnder French, Thai or Vietnam domination since the 14th century. After returning from a climb up one of Angkor's towers, we sat sipping coconnt juice in a court-yard and Ok Sakun, a Foreign Ministry official long believed to have been purged, apologized for his shallow knowledge of the Angkor over 60 square miles around Ang-kor Wat. [Mr. Caldwell was later assassinated in Phnom Penh.]

statuary and its meaning.

"When we were children, the Freuch told us that the Brahamans

French told us that the Brahamans It certainly appeared that there of India were responsible for these had been no major damage - ei- monuments - that they were not ours," he explained "to hear them, the temples appeared as if by

He was not the only intellectual I met who initiated a discussion of Cambodia's long-buried heritage.

Radical Education Thiounn Mumm, co-director of the country's main technical institute, abruptly brought up the subject one day while lecturing us on copy of any civilization, not its When I asked wby, our guide architecture, not its engineering or its irrigation," he declared. "In our revolution also, we have copied no one, and no one can say we have."

Thiounn Prasith, the Cambodian old, and we have a tradition of they had lost for many centuries," he said. "Since the Angkor empire, it was lost. Now that we have secared it, we are determined to keep a cult of heritage in the new Cam-The government has also made visits to Angkor Wat a major part of its political re-education pro-One of the questions that I regularly asked Cambodians I met dur-

They must know their culture," an official said. "We reopened the National Museum two months ago something of an extreme.

While I was walking through the Banteay Srei, a small salmon-colored monument at Angkor, I no-ticed Cambodian guards letting young women poke their fingers into the fligreed lintels covering the doorways.

As I watched fingers trace the shapes of statues with their hands one knocked a figure over in the not intend to continue its policy of the past three years of allowing only foreign diplomats and special guests to visit Angker.

Guided Town

I was told that thousands of tourists had already signed up for the $225 sidetrip from Bangkok to Siem Reap.

beginning New Year's Day.

It seems unlikely, bowever, that the new Cambedia will ever resemble the old in most other ways.

Jey Lio 150

Therefore, the writer contended, an enemy at the Hangchow Normal Institute, where he formerly taught history, had "made me lose my mind and my privilege to work. This had happened the writer said after the school official charged. him with being a follower of the radicals.

The posters calling for the public neetings set the times at 1 p.m. today and 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Hangchow People's Meeting Hall Reporters from the local branch of the truth."

The poster said that the people should have "more readable novels" and "a better education for the next generation." It was signed by a group of "young people born before liberation," that is, before

Tienanmen Square until they met

Hua Kiro-feng, the Communist-Party chairman, or Mr. Teng or Communist government has made Angkor Wat a symbol.

"On April 17, 1975, the day ofthe Communist victory, we gave our people the honor and dignity

Although many may quarrel with this historical interpretation, it appears to be the driving force helind

ing our journey was how often they left their village cooperatives, and where they were allowed to go. The only trips they ever mentioned were to Angkor, or to Phnom Penh to visit the Nanonal Museum.

As in many other areas, the new Communist leaders appear to be carrying homage to Angkor to

"Is that wise?" I asked a guide; recalling how French experts frett-ed oversimilar abuse during my vis-it in 1973. "It belongs to them," he But the new government does

A group of 40 Thai tourist agents and a handful of foreign journalists were allowed a brief visit to Angkor as a dry run of new one-day tours that will be operated from Thailand

By reopening Angkor to tourism, the new Communist leaders are bringing back a reminder of an era

Tyrrhenian Sea Quake

UPPSALA, Sweden, Dec. 28 (AP) - The Seismological Institute of Uppsala yesterday registered an earthquake in the Tyrrhenian Sea. Foreign Ministry official in charge earthquake in the of Asian affairs, agreed that the northwest of Sicily.

opened the season Tuesday.

possible bread shortages if fuel cut-Those Tehran workers who are his money at home. City garbage collections were scheduled to end tonight. The wa-

About the only good news for PEKING, Dec 28 (Reuters) -The president of the European Par-liament, Emilio Colombo of Italy, will visit China next week at the invitation of the National People's Congress (parliament), diplomatic sources said today.

Russians."
The difference over wh prompted the Soviet proposals I short delay or a prolonged sta

Carter to Limit Sharply Civil Defense Spending

By Bernard Weinraub

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (NYT)

— President Carter has decided to limit sharply spending on civil delense programs amid growing skepticism within the administration about the effectiveness of civil de-fense and what path, if any, to take to protect the population against nuclear attack.

Administration officials confirmed yesterday that Mr. Carter decided to allot only $115 million decided to allot only $113 million to civil defense and that the figure might drop further in the next few days after the president meets with Defense Secretary Harold Brown. Although Mr. Carter's figure is about $20 million more than was spent on civil defense last year, Mr. Brown had sought at least $145 million in the new hudget million in the new budget.

The officials said that Mr. Carter is uncommitted on civil defense and the money sought by him is largely designed to analyze various civil defense options. "Nobody is taking about a big program at all," a defense official said.

Another administration official said: 'There's a lot of short about civil defense, and the point is to take a modest amount of money and undertake an analysis of what's going on and go very slowly before any change in emphasis."

Earlier Report

A of Rela

Mr. Carter's decision follows reports last month that be had ap-proved a new program for bolster-ing the nation's civil defense against nuclear attack — a plan hat called for a doubling in annual spending on civil defense over the next five years. At the time it was stated that the cost of the improvement program would total $2 billion and be completed by 1985. The president later denied the reports.

A defense official said yesterday that the reports appeared to be a arial balloon floated by the National Security Council, the foreign policy arm of the White House, where several officials have pressed for an accelerated civil defense program.

action against a major civil defense effort may have influenced Mr. Carter's decision. In recent weeks, administration sources said officials at the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the Office of Management and Budget and several Pentagon officials had voiced objections to a large-scale civil defense effort. Although Mr. Brown had asked for more money, he is also known to be somewhat ambivalant about the effectiveness of a civil defense effori that would involve the rapid evacuation of people from large cities in Administration officials emphasized that, contrary to earlier reports, Mr. Carter has not approved a new program for expand-ing the nation's civil defenses. Instead, the president has request-ed plans and options on civil de-fense to see if the United States should proceed at all, administra-tion officials said.

Last year, the administration spent $96 million on civil defense.
The extra money requested this year, officials said, is for the various studies requested by Mr.

The administration's interest in civil defense stems, in part, from the size and pace of the Soviet civil defense effort which is designed to protect population and industry in a nuclear war. Defense officials have repeatedly expressed worry about the civil defense effort in the Soviet Union, which may spend as much as $2 hillion annually on its civil defenses. The Pentagon's concern was brushed aside earlier in the week. however, by Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., who said in a report that the extent of the Soviet program has been highly exaggerated.

He said Soviet apathy about civil defense is pervasive, their shelter areas have no food or water, they have conducted no large evacuation drills and they have made little effort to disperse industrial facilities and power plants in the country-

Pentagon to Seek Funding To Revamp A-Arms Plants

By Walter Pincus

of last year at a high-explosive re-search facility at Pantex killed three WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (WP) - The administration plans to ask Congress for $500 million during the next five years to modernize the weapons complex consists of laboratories, test facilities, manufacturing and assembly plants from Cali-

Some of the key facilities date to the start of the first atomic-bomb program during World War II. Others began operation in the 1950s, when the nuclear-weapons last year found that 14.4 percent of program first went into high gear. A Department of Energy study nology status at the end of 1976."

A report that same year by a dertake its most ambitious nuclear-weapons building program in 20 years. During the next five years.

the government plans to add to the stockpile a new submarineannched Trident intercontinental ballistic missile, a new land-based Minuteman 3 warhead and a new in addition, strategic and tactical inclear bombs are being developed along with nuclear artillery and battlefield missiles.

Panel's Warning

milateral disarmament."

fornia to Florida

At congressional hearings last nation's nuclear-weapons building complex, according to informed year, Herman Roser, manager of the national DOE nuclear-weapons complex, said be believed the pres-The first $100 million for the ent Pantex facility should be reprogram is expected to be included placed "with a new and modern in the fiscal 1980 Department of plant" but that it would take 8 to Energy budget that is being com-10 years to do that without interpleted at the Office of Management rupting production. Meanwhile, be said, upgrading of and Budget, the sources said. the plant is needed because, "we The money would be requested while many existing programs face have come to the conclusion that [it] doesn't meet the latest safety or budget cuts. The government-owned nuclear-safeguard criteria." The Savannah River plant in South Carolina, where the Department of Energy manufactures plu-tonium and tribum used in bydrogen weapons, was termed a situation of "galloping obsolescence" by the House Armed Services study.

Greta Rideout talks with reporters during a break in trial-

Oregon Man Accused of Raping Wife Is Acquitted

By Les Ledbetter

SALEM, Ore:, Dec. 28 (NYT) A jury of eight women and four men found John Rideout not guilty yesterday of a charge of first-degree rape brought by his wife, Greta.

The trial was the first of its na-ture to be held in Oregon since the state revised its rape law last year to eliminate the immunity of husbands to such charges. Mr. Rideout, 21, is also believed to be the first man in the United States to stand trial on a charge of rap-ing his wife while they were living together.
The acquittal, which was unanimous, occurred after three hours of deliberation. Under Oregon law, a jury may convict by a vote of 10 to 2, except in a murder case, in which all 12 jurors must vote for conviction.

In testimony Tuesday, Mrs. Rideout, 23, and ber husband gave conflicting accounts of what happened on Oct. 10, the date of the incident that led to the rape

Marital Privacy

Lawyers observing the trial said that they believed conviction of Mr. Rideout and subsequent appeals would have tested the constitutionality of a state's right to legislate on matters involving marital privacy.

Feminists bere said that they believed the trial had already made women more aware of their rights to refuse to engage in sexual activity, even if married. They said that they hoped the trial would cause other states to fol-

Oregon's lead and revise their rape laws to exclude immu-nity for busbands.

fowa and Delaware also have revoked the common-law doctrine of immunity to rape charges for husbands, and New Jersey has revised its rape law to revoke this doctrine, effective next Mon-

Mrs. Rideout testified that her husband beat ber into "submis-sion" and raped ber on Oct. 10. Mr. Ridcout admitted that be had slapped his wife on that date, but he said that the sexual activity afterward "was voluntary,"

In his summation yesterday, District Attorney Gary Gort-maker told the jury that the revised rape law was necessary to protect wives.

However, Mr. Rideout's attorney said, "This is not a classic confrontation of man vs. woman, men's rights vs. women's

The defense attorney said that this was a case of a marriage that bad been going "bad for a long time" and that had involved marital infidelity and separations that would have resulted in a divorce if the couple had been more "adult."

Mrs. Rideout is seeking a di-vorce after three years of mar-

Mayor Cancels Layoffs

Bank Gives Cleveland Reprieve on Default

celed plans to lay off city workers after Cleveland's largest bank told the city it would not act for at least two months to collect on defaulted

"The massive layoffs will be canceled," Mayor Kucinich said at a news conference after a bank spokesman said it would not press for payment of a $5 million debt until after a Feb. 27 referendum on increasing the city's payroll tax and selling the Municipal Light Plant to selling the Municipal Light Plant to generate funds.

Mayor Kucinich had said he would lay off 2,000 of the city's 10,000 employees on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the City Council president said the panel would refuse to act on the mayor's latest plan to get the city out of default. President George Forbes said Mayor Kucinich's proposal to pledge or Kucinich's proposal to pledge city-owned property as well as tax receipts as collateral for new fiing would have to be referred to the city's planning commission

He made the statement at a morning council meeting called by the mayor to act on the bail-out measure. On Tuesday, the 33-mem-ber council failed to muster a quorum for a similar session.

Howard Schulman of the mayor's legal staff told the council that adoption of the measure was essential in order for Cleveland to recover from default.

But Mr. Forbes produced a letter from Frederick Cox, vice chairman of the Cleveland Trust Co., which is among six banks holding $14 million in defaulted city notes. In the letter, Mr. Cox said that while

Jones Son Fears Incrimination in U.S. Cult Probe

SAN. FRANCISCO, Dec. 28 (NYT) - An adopted son of James Jones appeared yesterday before a U.S. grand jury here and, his law-yer said later, refused to answer more than a dozen questions about his membership in the Peoples Temple because of possible selfincrimination.

Tim Jones, 20, was the fourth. witness known to have been interrogated before the grand jury, which is investigating the slaying of Rep. Leo Ryan, D-Calif., near the cult's Guyana settlement Nov. 18.

Tim Jones' attorney, Peter Keane, said that his client had been asked whether he had bad any knowledge that Rep. Ryan, who had led a fact-finding expedition to the Jonestown settlement, was to have been assassinated. Mr. Keane said that his client also was asked about his relationships with Timothy Stoen and Terri Buford, once chief aides to the elder Jones.

Tim Jones' mother, Rita Tupper, was among the more than 900 fol-lowers of the elder Jones who committed suicide or were slain in Jonestown in the hours after Rep. Ryan's death.

clined to answer every question of substance, not because be did not wish to cooperate with the grand jury but because he had not been offered immunity from prosecuhe had not reviewed the mayor's latest proposal, his bank would not move to collect its $5 million share of the debt until after the referen-

Councilman Earle Turner said that with assurance that the banks would not press for payment of the debt, there was no reason for May-or Kucinich to go ahead with plans to furlough the city employees.

Layoff notices were distributed to $75 police on Tuesday and safety officials began to give them to 450 firefighters yesterday.

The mayor's nusterity plan would remove young officers from the police and fire departments, board up recreation facilities and reduce garbage collection from once a week to twice a month.

Children's Safety

Mayor Kucinich has said the cuts would mean the city could not guarantee the safety of children when a school desegregation plan is implemented in February.

Leaders of the police and fire unions said they would go to court in an effort to block the layoffs. The garbage-collectors' union has threatened a strike Tuesday if even one of its members is idled.

"The city is gambling with the citizeus' lives," said Jack Gannon, president of the firefighters' union.

The firemen scheduled a strike vote for Sunday after a three-hour meeting last night, conducted, Mr. Gannon said, in n total air of militancy."

Mr. Gannon, who wore a black suit, told reporters: "I'm dressed for a funeral — the death of a city."

Search for Bodies of Youths Continues

Alleged Illinois Sex Killer Tries Suicide

DES PLAINES, fil., Dec. 28 (AP) People are digging trenches, filling - John Gacy, who allegedly has trenches. And as they work, their John Gary, who allegedly has confessed to the sex slayings of 32 persons, tried to kill himself while in the Cook County Jail hospital, according to newspaper reports.

The suicide attempt was made Saturday, a source said.

Gacy, charged with murdering one youth and under investigation in the killings as many as 31 more teen-agers and young men, report-edly tried to strangle himself with a towel. Authorities were not available for comment.

Since the suicide attempt, Gacy has been strapped to his bed and released only for brief exercises under the watch of guards, it was reported. Gacy, a contractor, reportedly has told authorities that he had sexual relations with boys and young men and then strangled them.

17 Bodies Found

Police have found 17 bodies in Gacy's home since last week. Another one was found last month in the Des Plaines River and allegedly linked to Gacy by items found in his home. Investigators said a buri-al map drawn by Gacy led them to more bodies yesterday.

Investigators discovered the skeletal remains in a crawl space under the house, said Dr. Robert Stein, the Cook County medical examin-

The scene inside that house is indescribable in its borror," Dr. Stein said. "ft's like a battlefield.

SWAPO Leaders Leave Detention

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa, Dec. 28 (AP) — All six SWAPO leaders detained at the start of South-West African internal elections this month bave been released, police reported yesterday.

The executives of the internal wing of the South-West Africa People's Organization were detained without charges Dec. 3 after bomb explosions in Windhoek before elections for a constituent assembly. SWAPO rejected the election and threatened to disrupt the five days of voting, insisting on a United Nations-supervised vote. The winner of the election, the Demo-Mr. Keane said that his client decratic Turnhalle Alliance, supported by South Africa, subsequently agreed to hold a second election next year - with certain stipulated conditions - under UN supervifaces have such looks of despair."

About 100 persons stood in the cold outside Gacy's modest ranchstyle house as police removed bod-ies and debris. Gacy, who served a prison term

Turkey Sets Up

Headquarters For Martial Law

ANKARA, Dec. 28 (AP)-Turkish Premier Bulent Ecevit today established a martial-law coordina-tion center in his office after declaring martial law in 13 provinces following sectarian violence in which more than 100 persons were

A government announcement said that the coordination command will be headed by Lt. Gen. Sahap Yardimoglu, who will meet daily with Mr. Ecevit and the chief of stell Gen. Searn Even.

of staff, Gen. Kenan Evren. There will be no night curfews in the areas unless they are required because of by exceptional situations, the communique announced. But a 6.p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew re-mained in force in the southeastern city of Maras, where fighting dur-ing the weekend lead to the proclamation of martial law Tuesday.

Martial-law commanders in eastern provinces have banned all assemblies, prohibited possession of firearms and explosives by unauthorized persons and curtailed strikes, lockouts and political gatherings.

Calm prevailed today in martiallaw areas, which include the largest urban centers of Islanbul and Ankara and 11 eastern provinces.

Albania Seeking U.K.-Held Gold

VIENNA, Dec. 28 (Reuters) — Albania, which has been seeking Western economic partners since its break with China in July, said yesterday that Britain must return £8 million (about $16 million) of Albanian gold before normal relations could be established.

Speaking in Tirana, Premier Mehmet Shehu said that the gold, which fell into Nazi, and then British, hands during World War fl, has been blocked in Britain despite an Allied agreement to return it, the Albanian news agency report-

British officials said last month that they were studying a possible resumption of diplomatic relations with Albania and would welcome Albanian approaches on relations or expanded trade.

Pope Prepares for Trip

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 28 (UPI) - Pope John Paul If today met the representative of the president of Mexico to discuss arrangements for his visit there next month for the Latin American Bishops Conferin lowa for a sodomy conviction, allegedly has confessed that he buried 27 bodies beneath the house and threw five others into a river. He drew a rough map of his home last Friday to assist authorities in their search, an investigator

"So far, the map has been com-pletely accurate." the investigator said. "We bave no doubt that we will find 27 bodies in the places he has shown us."

Authorities started digging and tearing out walls at the home in an unincorporated area near suburban Norridge a week ago.

New Soviet Radar Could Threaten U.S. Air Force

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)

— The Soviet Union has successfully tested a radar and missile system that could pose a serious threat to low-flying U.S. bombers and fight-ers in Soviet air space, Defense Department officials say.

The Pengaton's research chief, William Perry, said yesterday that a Soviet MiG-25-type fighter has made at least one successful "look down-shoot down" attack, destroying a target drone the size of a small fighter plane. The system could be operational in the early 1980s, be said.

Mr. Perry said that when the system is in use it will have "signifi-cant implications" for the ability of U.S. fighters and bombers to survive. These planes are believed ca-pable of eluding the radar systems used by the Soviet Union by flying close to the ground.

But he added that the United States has the option of trying to counter the threat by developing advanced jamming techniques or new "deception techniques" for its

Phone: 261.71.71. (2nd Floor, Elevator, NEAR OPERA ALL PERFUMES . COSMETICS BAGS • SCARVES • TIES FASHION ACCESSORIES FLAWLESS MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT

FREE SAMPLES

Salary Levels Depend on Race, Soweto's Blacks Say (This is the third article in a series by John F. Burns, a New York Times at the lace-covered table. "I am so dismissed. After four years with the clean-ing company, Mrs. Tshetshe's With four members of the family the nuclear-weapons production equipment was "in 'poor' physical condition and/or 'inadequate' techcorrespondent who lived for two weeks with a black family to study the strictures of apartheid.)

House Armed Services subcommit-tee said that "putting off the mod-emization and upgrading of the national security nuclear-weapons facilities... could be a form of The decision to finance an uptrading of the complex was made as the United States is about to uning for work.

After folding her blanket atop a neat pile of clothes in her bedroom, Sarah makes breakfast for the children, an acorn-based porridge with cia and Henry off to the Phaka-mani primary school, two blocks away, and beds down for a few

A major focus in the upgrading of weapons buildings will be the plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., where the Department of Energy's study ance is paid for now, and that eases the strain on the family budget; but its batteries have been dead for months. With reserves of less than 10 rand ($11.50). Sarah has been soccer player, bas pasted a color photograph of the Kaizer Chiefs, weto's professional team, on the Hands in Prayer

Nearby is a copper plaque show-ing two hands in prayer, a gift to Sarah from her children. The freshly hurnished plaque has an inscription that Sarah, a regular churchgoer, likes, to quote: "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of.

tired," she says, spreading her el-bows across the table. "I would even like to quit my job, stay home. But what can I do? What can any Orphaned at 9, and sent out to work as a 30-shilling-a-week children's maid in Johannesburg when she was 15, Mrs. Tshetshe has had only one holiday in 33 years, apart from two weeks' leave for each of her pregnancies. In 1953, the family she worked for took her on a beach looked after the children. Later, son keeps most of his pay.

Somoza Threatens Attack Across Costa Rica Border

MANAGUA, Dec. 28 (AP) -President Anastasio Somoza, accusing Costa Rica of complicity with closed Nicaragua's southern border with Costa Rica on Monday, and it would stay closed "until the San-dinista problem is settled, because we consider the liberties that the Costa Rica government is giving (the guerrillas) are complicity on guerrilla raids. But he warned: "If we don't get satisfaction, we will notify them and then take action In a telephone interview later esterday, Gen. Somoza said: "The tional Liberation Front are fighting

ed a revolt inside Nicaragua in September — the Red Cross estimates the uprising — and since then have fought hit-and-run battles along the Costa Rica-Nicaragua frontier.

The beleaguered president had called the news conference to an-called on Gen. Somoza to accept international supervision of a plebiscite in which voters would decide whether he would remain in office until his term ends in 1981.

include the alternative of a constitsaid yesterday that the United States was considering punitive measures against the Somoza government if it continues to oppose weekly wage is roughly equivalent to the daily pay of a white clerk straight out of school. "Do f get mad?" she says, when asked about the disparity between the relative affluence of whites and the poverty of blacks. "Sometimes I do, but mostly I try to forget about it try and get used to it. What is the value of getting angry?"

Among items in the family hudget, the $20.40 monthy rent, increased 40 percent by the government earlier this year, is one of the beaviest. Another is food. With the Government having sharply re-stricted the number of grocery stores in Sowetc, prices in local shops are high, often 30 percent above those at white-owned stores m Johannesburg, Sarah, ever fru-gal, prefers to do ber grocery shopping in the city, carrying the bags bome on the train.

One day Patricia returned from school at midmorning in tears. Her teacher had sent her home to get a uniform blazer and belt to go with her tunic, items that would have cost Sarah the equivalent of $34.50. The problem was patched over with the teacher, but Sarah worried about the damage to her grand-daughter's pride. "The child must feel so inferior," she said. "What a shame!"

By 2:30 p.m., Miriam has been sitting for almost eight hours on a wooden bench at the employment office on Polly Street, which is set amid a cluster of scrapyards, auto-repair shops and gas stations close to downtown skyscrapers. Finally sbe gives up. As she heads for the exit, a friend asks if she will be hack the next day. She nods and heads for the train.

The young woman has listed ber preference as factory work because it pays best, but she will take anything — housework, waiting on tables, office cleaning. However, with hundreds of thousands of blacks unemployed, and with the figure rising by at least 20,000 a month, the lines at the employment office grow each day. Today, Miriam was 25th in line when the office ficials said. opened its doors. Only the first six

After waiting together for weeks, and in some cases months, the develop a camaraderie. Some play cards, some talk, others knit. Miriam, smartly dressed in a white blouse and blue skirt, sits alone, hands folded on her lap. Twice, she gets up to buy a soft drink at a cafeteria nearby, pausing to exchange a few words with the counter girl. At 3:15 p.m., Abner has finished his afternoon break at the offices of Allied Publishing Ltd., a few miles away. Now he is back at his desk, one of a group of elerks checking shipment orders for the magazines and newspapers distributed by the company. Most of the clerks are black, but a couple of whites do similar work. "He's one of our brightest boys," said Stephen Naude, the supervisor, showing a visitor into an office behind a glass screen at the corner of the floor. Mr. Naude, 37, said that the company was proud of the relations between its white and black employees, which be said were better than in many concerns.

"I only make one rule, and that is that nobody discusses polines at work," he said. "Once that is made clear, everybody gets along fine."

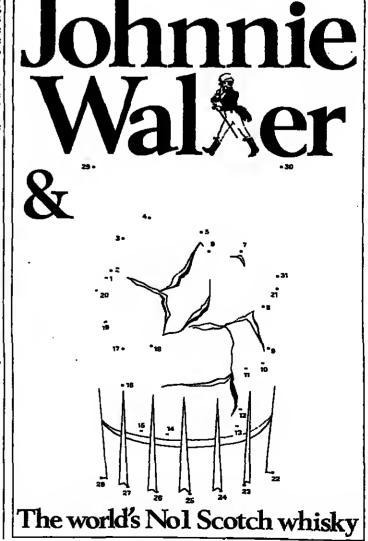

In Soweto the next weekend.

Abner smiled. "Did he tell you that?" he asked. "It's not so bad, but it's not so good either. Some days we quarrel all the time."

The young man said that there was resentment about differences in salaries, which he said conflicted with the company's commitment to the principle of equal pay for equal work. After 18 months, he receives $28 a week, with an extra $17.25 for a 12-hour shift supervising loading at a local newspaper on Satur-day nights. A white clerk doing similar work, with a Saturday shift. receives about $50 a week."

2-Day Strike Delays Spain Airline Flights MADRID, Dec. 28 (Reuters) — Flights of the Spanish national airline, Iberia, were delayed today for the second day because of a 48hour strike by cabin staff, union of-

About a third of the company's 2,300 cabin attendants struck to press demands for a joint pay agreement with Iberia pilots.

found serious deterioration in the milities and equipment. About 43 percent of the utilities at that plant were elassified "poor and/or inadequate" in the study. Oak Ridge parts of the nuclear weapons. Another plant that will receive stention will be the Pantex plant M Amarillo, Texas, where all U.S.

> 6-Day Hotel Strike ls Over in Canaries LAS PALMAS. Canary Islands. Dec. 28 (AP) — A six-day hotel and restaurant strike on the reson iclear warheads are assembled.

Pantex has received additional Department of Energy funds to take its World War II-ern struc-thre safer. An explosion in March afternoon after an agreement was The workers decided to return to Mrk after employers agreed on a demand for 25,000 pesetas ($357) a minimum monthly salary, an acrease of 25 percent.

idend of Gran Canaria ended this of us do?"

By John F. Burns

SOWETO, South Africa (NYT) -Shortly before 6 a.m. Sarah gets off the train at Ikwezi and walks home. Some mornings, she arrives in time to say goodbye to Miriam, who spends her days at the employ-ment office in Johannesburg look-

Today Miriam has already departed, hoping to be at the bead of the line when the office opens at 7 a.m. Sarah's sons, who come home from work after she leaves for Johannesburg late in the afternoon, see their mother only on a mug of tea. Then she packs Patrihours' sleep. By 10:30 a.m., she is up doing the housework. Particular care is taken with the living room, espe-cially the prize family possession, a $300 radio-phonograph. The appli-unable to replace them. From the trasb bins at work, Sarah has collected items to decorate the room. On the mantle is a porcelain mug marked "Present From - a collection of unopened miniature liquor bottles and some darts. Abner, an avid to topple the 40-year-old Somoza dynasty in Nicaragua. They mount-working, the $13.85 a week that she earns from Building Cleaning Services, Ltd., the city's largest office-cleaning company, is less important to the family's survival now than at some times in the past. But she fears that ber sons could lose their jobs, as they have before, pushing the family's total income, now close to $450 a month, back below the poverty line. As things stand, only a fraction of the total income goes vacation to Durban, where she into the family hudget, since each guerrilla attacks in Nicaragua, has warned that his troops may invade the neighboring country. Costa Rica, which denies sheltering anti-Somoza guerrillas, replied that it would appeal to the Organization of American States for protection. Gen. Somoza said at a news conference yesterday that he had the part of the Costa Rica govern-Gen. Somoza said that be, too, would appeal to the OAS and the United Nations, to head off the Costa Rican authoriues want us to invade. They want us to get angry enough to go get the Sandinistas (guerrillas) so the Costa Ricans can yell holy murder."

Guerrillas of the Sandinista Nathat 1,500 persons were killed in Plebiscite Dispute nounce a counterproposal to an in-ternational mediating panel's plan to end a year of turnoil in this country of 2.4 million.

The U.S.-backed mediators

Gen. Somoza's political oppo-nents have accepted the plan, but the president balked at international supervision, claiming that it would violate Nicaragua's sovereignty. Instead, he proposed that the public vote on whether he should remain in power or a con-situent assembly should be named to choose his successor. The plan proposed by the mediators did not uent assembly.

Senior officials in Washington

Page 4 Friday, December 29, 1978 *

Seoul's Challenge

South Korean President Park Chung Hee's decision to release 106 political prisoners is no less welcome for its having an evident political purpose. The dissidents freed include the prisoner best known abroad, Kim Dae Jung, who took 45 percent of the presidential vote in 1971 and subsequently was jailed for denouncing Presideot Park's dictatorial ways. The other Korean prisoner well known outside his country, Kim Chi Ha, who had won honor both as a poet and as a dissident. had his life sentence commuted to a 20-year prison term. They and the others are affected by decrees issued for President Park's inauguration Wednesday for a new six-year term. He was been president since seizing power in a coup in 1961.

We uoderline the overseas reputations of two prisoners because of the strong suggestioo that President Patk decided on an amnesty to soften the Carter administratioo's criticism of South Korea's human-rights record. In November, Mr. Carter in effect offered to confer on President Park the prestige of a summit meeting in 1979 if Mr. Park would do something meaningful on human rights. The traumatic "Koreagate" scandal, with its perceived threat of American ahandonment, was seemingly behind them. But the even more traumatic American troopwithdrawal plan, carrying to Koreans the same threat, still stretched ahead. Mr. Park presumably thought it was a good moment to cut some of his losses. Jimmy Carter, dangling the summit, made it worth his while.

There is, we grant, something wroog about giving Presideot Park credit for freeing people whom, by American lights, he should not have locked up — especially when perhaps 200 other political prisooers remain in jail and the political system allowing a president to lock them up remains unchanged. But it is worth pointing out that President Park has his own domestic reasons to appear conciliatory. He does not rule as a total dictator. In recent parliamentary elections, his party was actually outpolled for the first time by the leading opposition party, 34 percent to 32 percent: Fewer than one-third of the voters endorsed his leadership. His dominance in parliament is assured only by a constitutional provision (he wrote the coostitution) allowing the presideot to appoint a full third of the memhers.

Ooe wonders whether the standing in the United States that President Park has lost over the years by the way he treats his oon-Communist political rivals has been justified by the political stability and cootrol he supposedly has gained. Or whether he thinks so. Regardless, we suspect now that, whatever the threat Mr. Park may feel from his dissidents, a deeper challeoge arises from the Korean underclass. Most South Koreans seem to be as fiercely anti-Communist as the president; that is the irony and the waste of his persecutioo of dissidents. The country's explosive economic growth, however, has produced a class of citizens whose expectations for a hetter life have been aroused eveo as they have come to feel that they are not getting their proper share of the fruits of growth. Not in looking for Communist agents among the elite hut in dealing with the legitimate grievances of the people does the Seoul government's challenge now lie.

THE WASHINGTON POST.

There is a sorrowful similarity to the crises in India and Pakistan. The governments are using the framework of the law to move against former leaders, Indira Gandhi and Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, whose old constituencies are substantially intact. Mrs. Gandhi and Mr. Bhutto have responded by mobilizing their followers against the governments. These painful exercises are going on, more-over, against the fresh geopolitical uncertain-ty caused, or rather signified, in south Asia by the expressions "Afghanistan" and

In still-democratic India, harely a month after her re-election to Parliament, Mrs. Ghandi has been expelled by that body and jailed briefly for abusing her powers as prime minister by ordering the harassment of government officials prohing the business activion the part of Prime Minister Morarji Desai. who ended her harsh "emergeocy rule" and swept her from power in 1977, and she has politicized every phase of the proceedings against her. With an eye to turning her incarceration to advantage, she has sent her supporters into the streets - or at least smiled as they made their own way. Her jail term may leave her better fit to challenge Mr. Desai, who is having his difficulties anyway, than she was when she went in. Precisely that prospect had led some of his aides to argue against adorning her with a martyr's halo.

The stakes are even higher in military-ruled Pakistan. Mr. Bhutto was convicted earlier this year of ordering a rival's assassination and he has since been conducting a legal appeal. He has been making a political appeal, too, relying on the fact that Gen. Mohammed Zia ul-Haq, who deposed him, lacks the legitimacy he won by virtue of being elected. In fact, until last September, Gen. Zia could claim he was operating as military administrator under the 1973 constitution. But then he named himself president outside the constitution. He has since faced a new and serious internal challenge quite apart from Mr. Bhutto.

Now, if the courts and, in turn, Gen. Zia sustain Mr. Bhutto's death sentence, the ties of her son. She claims political vengeance country will likely explode. If Mr. Bhutto is let off, the government, including much of the army, will be disgraced. Mr. Bhutto is playing it like a riverboat gambler, staking his nation's fate and his own on beating the case against him and on bringing the govern-

> The United States has been mercifully slow to offer gratuitous advice. India and Pakistan need to be left to deal with their tortuous dilemmas themselves.

THE WASHINGTON POST.

Cape Horn Peacemaker

Pope John Paul II has lifted the threat of war that has been clouding the southern tip of South America. Bitterness between Argeotina and Chile had been mounting over ownership of three small islands at the mouth of the Beagle Channel, which runs south of Tierra del Fuego.

The hard-line military faction in Argentina appeared to be working up to a grah of the islands. Troops were alerted along the Andean border, and ships of both Argentina and Chile were deployed at the southern tip of the continent.

- The pope defused this situation hy offering to have his personal representative, Cardinal Antonio Samore, visit the two oations to seek "an hooorable and peaceful settlemeot of the affair." The offer was accepted hy both parties and the cardinal, a former presideot of the Vatican's Commission for Latin America, lost no time in flying to Buenos Aires. He is now trying, in conversations with officials of both countries, to get them to reduce the buildup of their armed forces and to agree to Chile, the weaker party, has shown itself readier to compromise. The Chilean offer to restrict its zone of ocean cootrol around these islands to a radius of 12 miles, rather than the 200 miles that is oow international custom, is a gesture toward a reasonable settlement. Meanwhile, papal prestige is keep-ing the peace in the neighborhood of Cape

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

International Opinion

The Outrage Machine

A lot of energy and emotion weot into Western opposition to the Vietnam war. The Fondas, the Bertrand Russells and the McGoverns had a lovely party while it lasted. The universities were turned over by rioting students. President Johnson was driven from office and Vanessa Redgrave put on a white hatband in mourning for the Vietnamese. Now we have a threat of mass suicide by people without hope, a new sort of demonstration not at all like the solidarity with the Viet Cong gatherings which took place in Grosvenor Square and oo the American campuses. We are learning that it is possible to have peace and also to die cruel deaths in great oumbers. Somehow the Outrage Machine which made such violent peace propaganda is not operating for the Boat People. They can die quietly. The West . . . may have to look around at the comforts of Christmas and ask if there is not room between San Francisco and Frankfurt, Stavanger and Cape Town for a better policy

- From the Daily Express (London).

In the International Edition than live and let die.

Seventy-Five Years Ago

NEW YORK - The Anaconda Standard commented in an editorial: "The recent threats upon the life of the president, and the incidence of deranged persons who actually do attack him, have gotten completely out of hand. The solu-tion is simple. President Roosevelt is handy with firearms. If some day he should be attacked, and if, then and there, he were to fill his assailant full of lead, the people of the United States would be greatly gratified. By all means, let the president of the United States tote a pistol. He will certainly only use it when it would do most good."

Fifty Years Ago December 29, 1928

CHICAGO - In 1914 there were 7,000 millionaires in the United States; today the figure is put at between 30,000 and 40,000. At the conventioo of the Statistical Association here this week, a Federal Reserve official offered two reasons for the rise. First, the great debasement of the currency since World War I; second, the enormous increases in security values. But the official did not advise people to seek milions via the speculative route, which he characterized as "incomparably the greatest gamble the world has ever known.

The Stakes in China

By Anthony Lewis

populous country on earth is taking tentative steps toward a more burnane order. After 30 years of near-isolation from the maio eco-oomic currents of the capitalist world, it is eagerly seeking foreign investment and trade.

What is happening in China to-day is a momentous opportunity for freedom and economic development. The opportunity inevitably carries with it a high risk of failure—of the People's Republic slipping back into ideological rigidity. Some of us remember the hopes that were crushed with the Prague spring in 1968. The stakes are even higher now in China.

That is the reality that underlies the American debate about diplomatic relations with China. Those who oppose President Carter's decision to normalize relations are really saying that the United States should play less than its full part at a critical time and place in world history. Or they are somehow closing their eyes to great events. The folly of the opposition argument, or its blindness, was bravely demonstrated the other day by George Bush, the Republican hopeful who once headed the U.S. liaison office in Peking. Writing in The Washington Post, Bush said President Control and State State. dent Carter had acted "without cause or benefit." The United States, Bush suggested, got desired economic and politi-cal benefits from the existing unolficial relationship - without bestowing formal recognition on Peking. Bush has been saying that for some time, so his argument has the virtue of consistency. But to go nn with it now is to ignore the ex-traordinary drama of recent

Under the leadership of Teng Hsiao-ping, the deputy prime min-ister, China has reversed lung-held positions. Last October it signed a treaty with Japan: a step of pro-found importance. It is sending students abroad, emphasizing the need for modern science and technology, experimenting with freedom of expression. It is opening itself to the world, economically and cultur-

The United States has the strong-est reasons to encourage those trends — and to dn so now. We are unlikely to have a more moderate,

---Letters-

Soweto Selection.

very selective eye and a marked ig-

It is true that 80 percent of Soweto's booses have no electricity.

But surely Mr. Wicker could have mentioned that the Soweto Council

(a black body, elected by the Soweto residents) has approved a buge electrification scheme, which will be implemented soon. If he noticed the Orlando power plant in Soweto, surely he would also have noticed the equally massive 2,600-bed Soweto hospital with ultramodern equipment and a budget larger than that of some African states?

Mr. Wicker's stories about white superintendents "whose good opinion often must be won with a bottle or a hribe" to avoid summary evic-tion, and of evicted families left at the nearest highway to walk or hitchhike to their homelands are plainly untrue and even ridiculous.

norance of present developments.

BOSTON — After 30 years of oppressive controls on every aspect of its citizens' lives, the most And the speed with which he handled the normalization question this month made clear how urgent-ly be wanted the reinforcement that a full American relationship could give his policies.

> The overpowering concern of the Chinese leadership is the perceived threat from the Soviet Union. There again Teng and his colleague obviously felt that a formal relationship with the United States, would strengthen China's security. The United States, for its part, has a strong interest in Chinese independence from Soviet influence.

On the strategic question Bush made a remarkable argument. The abrogation of the defense treaty with the Notice lists on Taiwan he said, "diminished American credibility in the world." And "in the privacy of the Great Hall," he ven-tured, "the Chinese are acutely aware of that."

In other words, in Bush's view, China sought a relationship with the United States that would actureduce America's ability to sure. It is an argument reminiscent of Groucho Marc's China withstand Soviet preshe "wouldn't want to belong to any club that would have me as a member." Teng Hsiao-ping has a sense of bumor, but be does not joke about China's security.

The timing of President Carter's move was right for a reason beyond the rush of events in China. The non-Communist countries of east Asia are in an extremely confident state today, and their relations with the United States are better than they bave been for years. Thailand, the Philippines. Singapore. Malaysia, Indonesia and South Korea can all accept the new U.S.-China relational and the control of the con tionship with equanimity; and Japan is on course already.

Taiwan, too, is really in a strong position to survive the change. It is thriving economically. Its relations with other countries that have recognized Peking are good in fact if not in formalities. And despite the public protests against the Ameri-can shift, the official mood on the island seems calm. Nationalist President Chiang Ching-kun, in a moderate speech, ruled nut such re-actions as an approach to the Sovi-

Then why would George Bush, who knows something about the Chinese reality, make an argument so divorced from it? The answer evidently lies in politics. Bush fancies himself as a nominee for president, and he sees the Republican Party moving to the right. If Ronald Reagan should falter, he wants to be an acceptable substitute. In contrast to Bush, Gerald Ford reacted to the Carter announcement with helpful support; be made clear that he would have done the same. But in the months shead we are likely to hear more of overheated words like Bush's, ("The tragic fact is . . .") In the debate about China policy, strong reasons of oational interest are going to be up against emotion and demagoguery.

For Third World, A Missed Chance

By Jonathan Power

L heady days when it was thought that with OPEC the poor nations of the Third World had a weapon in their hands that the rich nations would respect. But who can forget the charged atmosphere of 1974 and 1975 when none less than Henry Kissinger, like some Christmas grocer, was dealing out cookies to the street urchins in case the bis to the street urchins in case the big boys threw bricks through the win-

There was of course good reason for his actions. The great oil-price hike of 1973 had come like a bolt out of the blue—or so it seemed to those who concerned themselves with foreign policy and little with economics. Where was it going to stop? Were the copper producers going to form a cartel next, followed by the coffee producers, tin. hauxite and cocoa? The Organization of Percelular Exercises Corp. tion of Petroleum Exporting Coun-tries was splashing its money around, threatening to organize the poor for Armageddon. Sheikh Yamani, the Saudi oil minister, hinted that oil prices would go through the roof if the West did not immediately concede defeat.

Commitments

A new economic order, a plane-A new economic order, a plane-tary bargain, a global compact— out the words numbled and Kiss-inger, chivying his European part-ners as be went, descended from the clouds into the World Food Conference in Rome, the UN spe-cial session in New York, the North-South dialogue in Paris, the United Nations trade and develop-ment talks in Nairobi, making speech after speech, each one con-taining its own special commit-ment. There would be a world food reserve, the end of bunger by 1985, support for commodity agreements support for commodity agreements to even out the violent swings in raw-material prices, an increase in aid, reform of the International Monetary Fund, an international resources bank to increase private investment, and even, such was the mood of generosity, an offer to modify the world's climate. Nothing was impossible, given goodwill—and restraint on oil prices.

When Jimmy Carter came to power his initial response was to up the hid. Kissinger's unfinished business, like a world grain reserve. would be transacted quickly. Aid would be doubled within four years. And the centerpiece of the Third World demands, a "common fund" to support raw-material prices, the one thing that Kissingar's economic advisers could not swallow, would be seriously discussed. Carter, however, was left like a man riding a horse that had already bolted from beneath him. OPEC come 1977 was no longer pushing. It had its own problems to deal with — not least the heginnings of an oil glut and hig bills to be paid.

other than their own.)

OPEC's change of direction had registered its impact on Congress and European governments. They no longer felt the urge to implement Kissioger's or Carter's pledges indeed, all this was becompared to conserve a carby as the street. ing apparent as early as the summer of 1976, four or five months before Carter was elected.

Political Emphasis

Carter, it may be argued, was aware from the beginning that it would be difficult to realize his rhetoric. Rather than consuming political capital arguing the cause of the economic needs of the Third World, where he is constrained by Congress and the Europeans, he has concentrated his energies on their political concerns. He has moved adventurously on southern Africa and Panama. He has estab-lished diplomatic relations with China and has made some effort to dilute military commitments to op-pressive Third World regimes.

ressive Third World regimes.

This perhaps explains the American side, but what about the Europeans and the Japanese? Apart from the Scandinavians and the Dutch, they seemed to resent the new-found Kissinger enthusiasm. With a better historical record than the United States to cushion their consciences, they spent too much time criocizing the U.S. proposals. This slowed down the pace of negotiations at a critical period when momentum was everything. The Third World comes out little better. The position of supplicant is never an easy one, but the question remains: Why did the Third World put so much of its energies and po-litical capital into fighting for the common fund, a clumsy umbrella-ritype financial structure meant to: even out the savage swings in rawmaterial prices, but so complicated it is likely to develop into a bureauratic nightmare?

Opportunity Missed

They should have used the Kissinger-OPEC period of heightened activity to push for concessions that could have been implemented relatively speedily, while the OPEC electricity was still in the air. Trade concessions, for example. The last three years have seen a multitude of restrictive agreements unilaterally imposed by the Western nations in restrictions that are turning the clock back for the Third World o its drive to industrialize. A careful concentrated attack on tradibarriers in 1974 and 1975 could have avoided much of this. It was an opportunity missed,

Tall Order for U.S. in Mideast

By Fouad Ajami

oon that America wanted: There were tangible interests at stake. But Southeast Asia turned out — after so much blood and treasure - not sources are committed for good reason. This has bred a certain de-pendency in this region, a feeling Israel economically yet without interfering in its affairs, enable Saudi Arabia to modernize while escaping the dislocations of change, bring re-luctant Arabs and Israelis together, protect President Anwar Sadat's flank against his Arab rivals. This is obviously a tall order, the stuff from which disillusionment and large blunders are made.

CAIRO — The United States has become — to use the current jargon — a "full partner" in Middle Eastern affairs. This goes for matters of war, peace and economics. It goes for Arab, Israeli and Iranian matters. This is America's moment in the Middle East. It is a role that the United States has coveted and that it now must live world. Several years ago Henry Kissinger wanted to "copel" the So-viet Union from this region and that was easily accomplished. That was not so much his own skill at work; it was something that Egypt, Israel and Saudi Arabia wanted. The demise of Soviet influence illuminated the extent to which the Soviet Union has been and remains a flawed power: long on military might but with little if any cultural lure and appeal

America may be a declining pow-er elsewhere hut it is pre-eminent and overextended in this part of the Europe too had long ceased to be a major presence in Middle Eastern affairs. Power was to pass in the United States, the one country that supplies the technology of war and sponsors the diplomacy of peace, that exports the gadgets of consumption and the food shipments that keep regimes afloat, that implicitly promises rulers a certain protection against their own subjects and against the hazards of living in an explosive part of the world.

Different assumptions are made y America's "friends" in the area about America's commitment. Twn countries that bave a "special relationship" with America - Saudi Arabia and Israel - have irreconcilable positions over Jerusalem. Jurdan considers itself an American ally and even Syria maintains a stronger American connection than her rejectionist friends assume Plenty of promises have been made by this and by the previous admin-istration. The Carter administration has in face up, candidly and forthrightly, to the limits of American power and must state clearly what it can and cannot deliver specifying the limits and terms of its special relationship.

Stalemated by their rivalries, when America's Middle Easterness invited America presence itself has become a be into their midst. It was an invitapresence itself has become a be political and cultural issue. Fo some, it is a tantalizing thing, repair the prospects of an American-spot sored peace. For others it is a viole there was also the feeling of a new frontier, the challenge of saving the Middle East from its "passions" and from the baggage of its history. The Middle East was to be what tion of self and being, a surrende to alien ways, and a futile search for a way out of the Middle Easter. impasse. Men anxiously searchir for scapegoats to explain ever to be: a place where America makes a difference and where rething — from corruption, will rents; shocking cultural trends Middle Eastern capitals to dipk(my matic stalemate - find it easy blame it all on the resources that the distant superpower will do it all: install telephones in Cairo that work, offer Egypt a "Carter plan" for economic recovery, float

In the Arah states and in Ira some monumental ambidons mitured in the aftermath of the 19 Arab-Israeli war are collapsing. Israel; some lessons deferred or . nored are beginning to sink in : that society sorts out its own che es about what it values most a about its place and future.

Reckoning If this is America's moment the Middle East, it is also moment of reckoning. Amer cannot spare Middle Eastern sc eties the agonies of social chan or prop up rulers who have I touch with their own people, shelter societies from painful p chological or economic realities make the Palestinians disapp and drop their claims. Care no be exercised and some hor American statements must be m: so that this frontier does not up like the previous one in Soc. east Asia: with tragedy for the hahitants and disillusionment. the power from afar.

Found Ajami, assistant profe of politics at Princeton Univer wrote this article for The New \\ Times.

This has to be done at a time

Chairman John Hay Whitney

Co-Chairmen Katharine Graham Arthur Ochs Sulzberger

Publisher Robert R. Eckert

Murray M. Weiss

Managing Editor William R. Holden

mai Heraid Tribume, S.A. at capatal de 9.330,000 P. R.C. Paul No. 73 B.

avenue Charles de Guelle, 97200 Nenitly sur Scine, Tel. 747-12-65
Telez: 612718 Heraid Paris Cabler: Heraid Paris:
Le Directeur de la publication. Walter N. Tauver:
Daily except Sonday
In U.S.A.—Soluccipion price 2235 yearly.

ass postage paid at Loog Island City, N.Y. 11101 C 1978 International Heraid Tribume, All rights pretived
Compulsation Parisage No. 34 231.

100 CO 1560

a man with the means to build his Taiwan own house must pay the state rent We feel sad and furious on hear-for the land on which it stands." In writing on Soweto, Tom Wicker (IHT, Dec. 14) seems to have a This is a rather sinister description of the simple lease-hold system practised in several European countries today.

> Soweto was built as a result of a mass influx of thousands of unskilled work-seekers to Johannesburg. To meet the demand for proper housing, almost 400,000 bouses had to be built with the state funds in less than 30 years. rented by blacks at a nominal fee. Like all similar housing schemes, most of these bouses are basic and monotonous. But without doubt they are a fair deal better than the vast areas of misrable tin and cardboard shacks which they replaced, and which still mushroom around most of the large cities in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Mr. Wicker's picture of Soweto is not a fair reflection of reality.

R.H. GORIS. Information Attache. Mr. Wicker calls Soweto a city of the dispossessed because even Paris. South African Embassy.

ing President Carter's abrupt announcement of the decision to normalize relations with the Peking government at the expense of aiwan's future. Certainly this hasty decision to sacrifice an old alliance on the part of President Carter must have been made for very good reasons. One very good reason could be the president's own serious concern for his success in the next presidential election which seems to take precedence over the honor and integrity of the American people. The desire for massive applause . . throughout the nation" furnished without doubt another very, very good reason. His decision has in-deed plunged the Taiwan people into a rather inconvenient situation for the moment, but at least they can be thankful for one thing -that Mr. Carter, liar and hypocrite, is not their president.

ERIC YANG. Association of Chinese Students in Belgium. Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium.

If Patients Not Advised of Risks

N.Y. Doctors Liable in Abnormal Births

By Lesley Oelsner

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (NYT) -NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (NYT)— if a doctor fails to advise a patient properly that she faces particular risks of bearing an abnormal child, and she then gives birth to such a child, the doctor may be required to pay the lifelong special costs of caring for it, the New York State Court of Appeals ruled yesterday.
The court split 5 to 2 on the issue. The dissenters said that the ruling would prompt doctors in ruling would prompt doctors in marginal cases to recommend abor-tions, rather than risk being sued. In some cases, they said, "otherwise healthy children will be unnecessarily aborted as the only alternative to the threat of pecuniary liability."

Through the ruling by the state's highest court, New York joined a growing oumber of states that in rebe subject to lawsuits in such cases. Numerous other states, though perhaps half, according to lawyers in the case — have continued to bar this kind of litigation.

cent years have allowed doctors to

The court acted in two companion cases from Long Island, one involving a 3½-year-old retarded and brain-damaged girl suffering from Down's syodrome, commonly known as mongolism, the other in-volving a girl who was born with a kidney disease and died of it when the was 2½ she was 21/2 Not Given Test

The mother in the first case, Do-lores Becker, was 37 at the time she became pregnant, in September, 1974. The risk of bearing a child with Down's syndrome increases with age. There is a test, known as amniocentesis, that can be given to pregnant women to determine if the fetus has this disorder. Mrs. Becker was not given the test. She says she was ool advised of the risks of Down's syndrome, or of the existence of the test.

In the second case, the mother, Hetty Park, gave birth in 1969 to a child who had the polycystic kidory disease and died five hours after birth. By her account, her doc-tors advised her that her chances of having a secood child with that afflictioo were practically nil. She then became pregnant again and

Strong Colombia 'Pot' Replacing throughout the United States is three to 10 times more potent than the marijuana that was sold two years ago, according to U.S. drug enforcement officials and pro-marijuana groups.

Both sides agree that this is because most of the marijuana being sold today is from Colombia. Colombian marljuana is stronger than the Mexican marijuana that once dominated the U.S. market. especially in California and the Southwest, that share of the market

The Mexican supply diminished because of intensive policing efforts by customs officials at the border, because of the disclosure that Mexican marijuana was being sprayed with a dangerous herbicide, paraquat, and because of an increased demand for the strong-

"Almost all of the pot sold here is now Colombian," a New York City marijuana dealer said recently, "and that's quickly becoming true everywhere. People won't accept that weak Mexican stuff

It is no more difficult to purchase marijuana now than it was when the Mexican variety was prevalent, according to many dealers and users. The price of an ounce of marijuana has, however, in-

The potency of marijuana is determined by the amount of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the hallucinogenic agent, it contains, Mexican marijuana contains 1 to 2 percent of THC, whereas the . Colombian strain has from 6 to 10 percent.

gave birth to the child involved in the case. Both women sued their doctors on a oumber of counts. The premise underlying their cases is that, if they had known of the risks of bearing abnormal children—and in Mrs. Becker's case, if she had taken the test—they would have obtained abortions have obtained abortions.

Yesterday's ruling does not mean that the doctors in either case are occessarily liable. Nor does it mean that doctors generally will automatically be found liable in such cases. The standard rules developed in oegligence cases and also in medical malpractice cases apply — in a case involving Poem's apply — in a case involving Down's sydrome, for instance, it would probably have to be shown that it is accepted medical practice in that area to give the amnioceotesis test for women of that age group.

Professional Impact

For Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Park there will now be trials of the factu-al elaims. The trials may not take place for a year or two. However, the decision is likely to have a quicker impact on the medical pro-lessico generally.

A lawyer for the doctors in the Becker case, Walter Wortman, said that, as a practical matter, a lot of doctors will interpret the decisioo as almost requiring amniocentesis, which involves withdrawing fluid from the amniotic sac.

The result is that a medical decision will now be made oo legal grounds, not medical grounds, he

And with amniocentesis in particular, he said, there is another problem. The procedure has some risks, including slightly more chance of miscarriage. It is possible, he said, that women who have the test and suffer complications will sue their doctors for malprac-

Doctors will be "in a hind," he said. "They're damned if they do and damned if they don't."

The lawyer for the Beckers, John Anthony Bonina, also predicted wide impact for the ruling, but as a victory for patients. "I think it's a great day for the people of the State of New York, I think patients needed it" he said.

The court's decision did not specify what expenses the doctors could be required to pay, saying, that issue was best left to trial.

Lido's New Year offering.

California Vintages Gaining on French

By Jon Winroth

SAINT HELENA, Calif. (IHT) oratories. By the mid 70s, this new wave was giving the French a run ings on both sides of the Allantie for their money in quality. have proven beyond dispute that certain types of California wines are every bit as good as their more They certainly had the financial means to make the challenge. Many of the small wineries are tax havens for the wealthy. When a skilled winemaker wants to run his own famous French counterparts. Not necessarily better, but at least as winery, he finds someone who For the moment, this pretty wants some husiness losses to write much applies to only two or three types of wine produced in small quantities by small family wineries off against his taxes. This can go on for a long time because it takes a while to make a paying proposition of a vineyard. in California. But some of the big firms, such as Robert Mondavi here in the Napa Valley, also make outstanding wines — and in ever-There are the vineyards themselves to be bought, then the vines to be planted, and vines do not yield for Perhaps California will never quite match the extraordinary the first three or four years. In the meantime, a winery must range of wines grown in France's be built and equipped, generally with only the best U.S. or imported widely varying soils and climates.

And then again maybe they will, especially if the French give up the fight, overproducing and oversustainless steel vats, presses and stemmers-crushers. Not to mention a pickup truck or two, tractors, garing their wines into permament forklifts and a bottle-washing, filling and labeling line.

> Build your own winery out of redwood and, while you're at it, aircondition the whole operation, and you've soon spent enough to write off at least 10 years' worth of taxes. By the time that's amortized you'll be ready for expansion - more vineyards, more vats, imported French oak barrels for proper aging, and so on.

There's no real end to it, and it lows you to bave the best of everything right from the start — all with the highly laudable sim of making the best possible wine. The results speak for themselves.

80 Attractions Vying for Ticket Buyers

By Thomas Quinn Curtiss PARIS, Dec. 28 (IHT) — The Parisian theater season is at high tide. The holiday visitor has a wide choice with more than 80 attractions on the boards at the moment. Even a list of recommendations swells to overwhelming proportioos. Feydeau's famous farce, "La Puce a L'Oreille." spiritedly staged hy Jean-Laurent Cochet, is the Comedie-Française's New Year's 18th-century country life have been with towering decor and high ex-plosives — is at the Theatre de la Ville, and Voltaire's "Zadig" has been transformed by Jean-Louis gift, and at the Odeon ooted Italian director Giorgio Strehler has unveiled his expansive tribute to Goldoni, "La Trilogie de la Villegi-ature," in which three plays of woven into a five-hour spectacle of extraordinary theatrical artistry. Shaw's "Hearthreak House" —

The boulevard booms with direct hits. At the Antoine, Jacqueline Maillan, a favorite comedienne, impersonates a Brooklyn widow visit-ing Tokyo in "Le Pont Japonais," a and solve in "Le Pont Japonais," a Barillet-Gredy adaptation of Leonard Spigelgass' comedy, "A Majority of One." The box-office triumph of the year is at the Theatre des Aris-Hebertot, where Paul Meurisse stars in Sacha Guitry's "Mon Pere Avail Paicon" and cinema's Pere Avait Raison," and cinema's Michele Morgan is making her stage debut in "Le Tout Pour Le Tout," a vehicle fashioned for her at the Palais-Royal hy Françoise Dorin with Pierre Moody and Jean-Pierre Bouvier as seasoned out-riders. Robert Hirsch and Rosy Varte cavort as agitated Neapolitans in "Les Papas Naissent dans les Armoires" (at the Michodiere), and Armoires" (at the Michodiere), and Jean Piat is experiencing the generation gap in "Le Prefere" of Barillet and Gredy (at the Madeline). Jean-Pierre Marielle undergoes the perils of petticoat tyranny in Anouilh's latest, "La Culotte," a satirical fantasy about the triumph of Women's 1 in (at the Atelier)

Women's Lib (at the Atelier). At the Theatre Montparnasse there is the charming nursery fable "Peines de Coeur d'une Chatte Anglaise," exquisitely produced and acted by a company in animal Jacques Dufilho and Georges Wilsoo — assisted by Fabrice Eberhard — are enacting with impact and humor an Irish play, "Les Aiguilleurs," about aged railroad station masters, at the Theatre de L'Ocuvre. There is a beguiling twobersoo revue, "Attention Fragile," with Anny Duperey and Bernard Giraudeau, at the Theatre StGeorges. It is of Broadway origin, while "Bubbling Brown Sugar," at the Theatre de Paris, is the Harlem of the jazz age imported intact and one of the seasoo's phenomenal

Robert Hossein's circus spectacle version of Victor Hugo's "Notre Dame de Paris" has proven so pop-ular that its run at the Palais des Sports has been extended through Jan. 7. At the Varietes, "La Cage aux Folles," Jean Poiret's farce about a drag cabaret, although already filmed, may still be seen as a "live" show. It has attained a record of 1,800 performances and the end is not yet in sight.

The musicial stage offers two lav-ish operettas with Lehar scores: "Rose de Noel" at the Chatelet and "Le Pays do Sourire" at the Mogador. Line Renaud is the twinkling star of "Parisline" at the Casino de Paris, and Michel Gyarmathy's Folie, Je t'Adore" at the Folies-Bergere has singular scenic splen-

The new Lido has surpassed itself with its latest extravaganza, the "Allez Lido" of Pierre Louis-Guerin and Rene Fraday; it is as sump-tuous a spectacle as has brightened the boards since Ziegfeld's day.

Barrault into an Arabian Nights' "Frenesie" at the Bal du Moulin divertissement at the Theatre d'Orsay. "Frenesie" at the Bal du Moulin Rouge recreates the Montmartre of Toulouse-Lautrec with picturesque enchantment, and mingles costal-gia with modernity most dexterous-ly. Alain Bernardin, transforming the striptease into a fine art, has another dazzling revue on the 2-by-4 stage of his Crazy Horse Saloon. Patachou is heading the dinner-

Theater in Paris

Marie Riviere is master of ceremo-nies at the Paradis Latin, conducting spectators through a maze of brilliant tableaux and hilarious acts, and at L'Alcazar (un and frolic beams in Dick Price's festive nonstop cotertainment.
Theatrically, it is a very happy

The London Stage Good Production Props 'Saratoga'

By John Walker

ONDON, Dec. 28 (IHT) - As an end-of-year diversion, the Royal Shakespeare Company has dug up from some dusty archive an early American play, Bronson Howard's "Saratoga, or Pistols for Seven," which was a New York hit in 1870.

Howard, known as the dean of American drama at the time of his death in 1908, is now largely and not surprisingly forgotten. For "Saratoga," a comedy of rich Americans adrift at a fashionable spa, is totally derivative, based on the worst of European drama of its time. It was possible to Anglicize the play, for a successful London season to 1874, merely by changing the locale to Brighton and altering a few lines of dialogue.

Yet, for all that, the evening at the Aldwych Theatre is a pleasant and delightful one. Just as a bedraggled, shapeless Christmas tree can be given a transitory glam-or by draping it in tinsel and lights, so director Ronald Eyre has added little ornaments of his own to the dull original. A shining cast add a glitter all its own, transforming a low farce into a high comedy.

'Not Wisely, but. . .'

The play has an unusual hero in Bob Sackett, "wbo loved not wise-ly, but four well," as the program puts it. Sackett somehow becomes simultaneously engaged to four fashionable beauties, thus provid-ing some sort of action as he tries to conceal the liberality of his love from each one and, having been caught out, tries to escape the con-

Howard's sense of humor is repetitious. It consists in setting up situation and then having it go endlessly wrong. Thus Sackett's un-faithfulness is discovered by the women one after another. When he is challenged to a duel, it is not by one angry man, but by seven, and while he waits for his opponents to arrive, his room is invaded unexpectedly not by one woman but by ploit this escalating madness. He lacks the mechanical genius of a true farceur, while his attempts at epigrammatic wit are too often machine-turned.

But the sprightly playing of the cast keeps the action bubbling. There are some enjoyable running gags, such as Dennis Waterman, as Sackett, teetering oo tiptoe whenever he woos the tall Joanna McCallum. Waterman is excellent in the role, always sympathetic, although he is at his funniest in a brilliant extraneous song-and-dance oumber with a trio of black waiters — an inventive addition by the director to cover the scene changes. Polly James, Cherie Lunghi and Sheila Reid as the other women in his life give sharply individual per-formances full of humor, and the cast is a strong ooe, even down to the smallest parts, such as the exub-erant Bille Brown as a son delighted to discover his oew mother is as young as he is.

The expertise and high spirits almost convince one that the work can still hold a stage. It seems any-way, an appropriate end for a the-atrical year in which good productions have propped up some bad plays.

Lest we forget that it has been another year for dud musicals, at the Cambridge Theatre Michael Lombardi's "Troubadour," with music by Ray Holder, is a dreary offering saved from total disaster only by the ingenious sets of Tim Goodchild.

Medieval in setting, Lombardi's book is mediocre in concept, a confused tale of courtly love and a romance between a wife-beating troubador and a pacifist princess that only proves that a little Came-

The book and lyrics veer be-tween the pedantic and the grating-ly anachronistic. The music is bland and the performance ordinary. Kim Braden's hectoring, governessy princess provides an ex-cellent argument for wife-beating. four, all of whom have to be concealed in cupboards. Unfortunately, Howard is unable to ex-"Troubadour" is certainly nothing

Weaker Mexican Variety in U.S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (NYT) - Most marijuana being sold

Although some Mexican marijuana is still sold in the United States, has dwindled from about 75 percent five years ago to as little as 10 er Colombian strain by users.

creased from $20 to $30 two years ago to $40 to $50 today.

France's Curie Institute Tackles 'Atomic Diseases'

New Methods Benefit Radiation Victims

New Year's Eve more than a decsie ago, a Belgian nuclear scientist we taken to a Paris bospital by hours. He lost one leg, but his life organs. organs to Paris this month for In Ju is twice-yearly medical checkup.

He is doing well. Mr. Jansen's case is among about M major incidents of radiation expostre to result in treatment at france's Curic Institute, which bas iercloped a revolutionary bloodmustusion technique to deal with nomic diseases."

With the number of nuclear kilities, including atomic-research mers and power plants, increasing rapidly in Europe, the danger of radiation accidents is also increasing. And few cities can prowic adequate medical treatment.

Leading Center

The Curie Institute - named for the discoverers of radium. Pierre and Marie Curie, and housed in a inestory building near the Panten - is becoming the leading micar-medicine center in Europe.

dad despite treatment at the insti-me but the other patients have the saved. In addition to the Belin, the survivors include five lugoslavs, two Frenchmen and six lugarians. The Algerians are the liest to undergo treatment here. The institute boasts some of the Three radiation victims have most sophisticated equip-led and a team of highly special-ad physicians. The heavy equipto operating rooms deep untiterized instruments that lobe and measure radiation. They in detect the intake of a radioacbe substance and follow the moveof isotopes in a patient with

De Robert Calle, head of the the Institute, said that considere progress had been made since marrow grafting on the first fation victims was performed in 1958. Because of the danger rejection and infection in bonebr. Henri Jammet, executive difor of the institute and chief

Feared Dead Tribul Oreck Ship

OPORTO, Portugal, Dec. 28 in a storm off Portugal and ties feared that 21 of the 24-Officials said that three survivors four bodies, including that of captain of the 315-foot Tenor-had been regovered but that if feared "the rest of the crew is official said that the ship was the entrance to the port of and that the captain was and to proceed because of an out be 'insisted because he had a wounded man

PARIS, Dec. 28 (Reuters) - On medical adviser to the French Atomie Energy Commission, said there were anxious moments in treating some of the nuclear-radiation victims. With every new group of patients, he and his 30 assistants work to determine the extent and the dose of radiation received and The scientist, Ferdinand Jansen, the dose of radiation received and the works at the Belgian nuclearits effects on the spine and vital

> In June, seven Algerian patients were treated at the institute. They included an elderly woman who died in the hospital, ber lungs com-pletely burned. "The others were burned all over like ehickens on a spit," Dr. Jammet said.

instead of bone-marrow transplants, Dr. Jammet and his team used continual transfusion of concentrated red and white corpuscles to replace dving cells. The four sur-

Bob Luman, 40, A Country Music Star in U.S., Dies

NASHVILLE Tenn., Dec. 28 (UPI) - Country music entertainer Bob Luman, 40, a member of the Grand Ole Opry cast for 14 years and one of its most popular vounger stars, died yesterday of Mr. Luman had been suffering from continuing health problems. Born to Nacogdoches, Texas, he was best-known for his lively stage shows and such hit records as "Let's Think About Living." and "Lonely Women Make Good Lovers The singer-guitarist began his ea-reer in the 1960s after turning down a cootract to play profession-al haseball with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He became a regular on the "Louisiana Hayride" radio program in Shreveport. La. where he also had a TV show.

Charles G. Mortimer

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., Dec. 28 (UPI) - Charles G. Mortimer, 78. retired chairman and chief executive officer of General Foods, died

Christmas Day.
Mr. Mortimer joined General Foods in 1928. He served as the company's chief for 11 years beginning in 1954 wheo he was elected president. He served as chairman of the board or chairman of the board's executive committee from 1965 until 1971.

Lincoln Miller

NORTH BEND. Wash. Dec. 28 (AP) — Lincoln C. Miller, 65, for-mer project manager for NBC In-ternational in Saudi Arabia and a former associate chief of the State Department's broadcasting station, now Voice of America, died Monday.

Thomas F. Reynolds

EVANSTON, III., Dec. 28 (AP)

— Thomas F. Reynolds, 67, 2 former managing editor of the Chica-Sun-Times and a one-time White House correspondent for UPI, died in an Evanston bospital viving Algerian women and two children, who suffered severe burns all over their bodies, are now undergoing plastic surgery. They must remain under medical surveillance for several years.

The patients came from the Constantine region of eastern Algeria. In all, 22 persons there were exposed to radiation, but the less seriously affected were treated in

Metallic Object

Dr. Jammet refused to give more than sketchy details of the radiation source, which he described as a metallic object the size of a pen. It is believed to be an instrument used in ehecking pipe soldering, mainly in the oil industry. The object giving off iridium-192 radiation, was found by chifdren playing in a field. They brought it home and their mother put it in the kitchen. Several weeks passed before it was discovered that the family members and their visiting relatives and friends were affected. The Yugoslav scientists, including two women, were the victims of an accident at an experimental plant in 1958. They were treated with bone-marrow grafting. A thick liquid containing 10,000 to 15,000 millioo marrow cells was injected into their circulatory systems.

One of the patients had only 15 white blood cells per cubie millime-ter — of a cormal 4.000 — left in his body when he was admitted to the Curie Institute.

Healthy Children

Three days after the bone-marrow grafting, the blood of the Yugoslav patients became practically normal. One of them died as the result of a serious hemorrhage, hut the others made a good recovery. The two women have since married and given birth to healthy children.

Dr. Jammet said the Belgian patient picked up a radioactive rod while working at Mol in 1966. His left leg had to be amputated imme-

Dr. Jammet said that although a number of minor accidents have occurred at Western nuclear plants, security precautions have worked well. But France nonetheless is building up the Curie Institute to deal with major cases. The Belgian, Austrian, Yugoslav, Italian and Iranian governments have signed contracts for the Curie Institute to care for their radiatioo

Japanese Actor Kills Himself

TOKYO, Dec. 28 (AP) - Movie actor Jiro Tamiya, 43, died today after shooting himself at his home in Tokyo, police reported. Mr. Tamiya had been a leading man in several popular Japanese films. His only well-known part in a foreign film was that of a Japanese detective in the London-made Vellow Dog "

Yellow Dog."

He is said to have been depressith since the beginning of the year and reportedly was facing financial difficulties. Mr. Tamiya was es-tranged from his wife and child.

It couldn't happen? Historical precedents to the contrary abound. The wines of ancient Greece were once considered the finest and were exported all over the Mediterranean. The Romans also thought them best - until those Johnnycome-latelies made better wines and took over much of the Greeks' export market.

increasing quantities.

second rank.

Gallic wines in their turn found such favor on Roman tables and in other parts of the empire that in-A.D. 92 the Emperor Domitian decreed the uprooting of half the existing vines in Gaul. If California wines are the wave of the future, they took an ast ingly short time to get where they are. France has a winemaking tradition that is at least 2,600 years old. What bttle tradition California had begun to accumulate, since the first Spanish missions were established late in the 17th century, was nearly wiped ont by Prohibition.

Yet Prohibition may have been a lessing in disguise. It ended during the Depression, which was fol-lowed by World War II, and it was only in the postwar era that the vineyards began to pick up serious-ly again. It meant a fresh start, a new generation of winemakers unburdened with practices of the past.

They have at their disposal the finest oenological school in the world. The University of California at Davis has been praised as the best by such giants of the field as Professor Emile Peynaud of the University of Bordeaux.

lo the early '60s, young California winemakers began putting into effect the lessons learned in the explosion of knowledge coming out of the universities and research lab-

Sharps and Flats

GENEVA - Budd Johnson will be at the Popcorn Club Dec. 31 to welcome the New Year.

BERN - Singer Vera Love is at the Mocambo through Jan. 2.

LONDON - George Melly is featured at Ronnie Scott's through Dec. 30; Cedar Walton and Pamela Knowles come in Jan. 2 for a twoweek engagement. Osibisa is at the Hammersmith Odeon Dec. 31 at 8 p.m. The Digby Fairweather quar-tet will be at the Pizza Express Jan. 2 at 9 p.m.; the Tony Lee quartet will be there the oext night, and the Ron Rubin quartet and Bruce Turner are there Jan. 4.

PARIS — The group Ibycus will be at the Theatre Ranelagh Dec. 30 at 5:30 p.m. The Archie Shepp quartet is at the Totem in The Stadium through Dec. 30. Appearing nightly: Steve Lacy at the Campagne Premiere at 8 p.m. through Dec. 31, Chet Baker and Luther Allicon et the Chanelle dec I owned to the Chanelle dec lison at the Chapelle des Lombards at S and 11 p.m. through the 31st and singer Anna Pruchal at the Petit Forum at 8 p.m. through Jan. 7. This week's top single record in the United States is "Le Freak" by

-FRANK VAN BRAKLE

Goat Sale Sets Record

MELBOURNE, Dec. 28 (AP) — An Angora goat was sold today in Hobart for a world record price of 28,000 Australian dollars (about $31,640), An eight-year-old buck named Glenroy Titanic, the goat was purchased by an unidentified Tasmanian breeder Tasmanian breeder.

LUXURIOUS VILLA California

In European traditional style, situated in its own 7-acre park in Santa Barbara's prestigious Montecito suburb. 90 minutes by auto NW of Los Angeles. Spectacular view of mountains and ocean. Mediterranean climate. Site for movies and fashion shows. Generally regarded as the outstanding location in area, yet affords complete privacy.

Large reflecting pand with fourtain, heated pool, elaborate French gardens. Lorge rooms with high ceilings, formal dining-room, library, music room, sitting-room, separate servant's quarters. $1,000,000.00.

R&R Investment Properties 10680 W. Pico Bivd., Suite 360, Los Angeles, Calif. 90064, (213) 559 - 8770. FOR SALE - URGENT - Due to cassation of business in Europe

1) PARIS 16th, in calm area, small private townhouse in perfect condition, decorated, furnished, 3 bedrooms, cellar, small garden. Frs. 500,000 .- (Swiss francs). 2) CRANS-sur-SIERRE (Switzerland). Furnished Studio, 35 sq.m. with balcony, in the town center.

Frs. 100,000.- Swiss francs).

Agencies abstoin.

Write under reference G18-118244, Publicitas, CH - 1211 Geneva 3, Switzerland.

Original masterpieces for sale. Egyl v. He rept of the excitement that is Tariuto Residurants. Suops. Business. Evoluting No tui acurtment homes we aide. And the standing names the state.

Each a misseppiece of design and luxury.

A bachelor, sime 2-3 begins and one pedificuse are still available.

From $22,000 $1585,000. But remember there are only a few left." For an appointment call (416,196) 6616, or write 8A Hazeitan Ave, Taronto, Canada, MSR 252. The Residences at Hazelton Lanes

> For buying, selling, renting or managing REAL ESTATE THE PRINCIPALITY OF MONACO CONSULT: AGED!

Because living well is a work of art.

26 bis Bid. Princesse Charlotte. Monte-Carlo, PRINCIPAUTE DE MONACO

Tel.: (93) 50.66.00 Telesc: 479417 MC. Free documentation upon request.

FRENCH RIVIERA MANSION: $2,900,000 Riviera's most luxurious estate at Mougins golf-links.

24-carat gold decorated ceilings. Roman bathroom. 35-person dining-room. 7 boths. Huge pool. 8.500 sq.m. gardens.

Tel.: (93) 90 02 58 (France).

U.S.A.

INVESTMENT AGRICULTURAL AND UNDEVELOPED LAND

AVAILABLE IN LARGE TRACTS We arrange all details of purchase. Individuals or groups contact: GALEN L. HERITAGE, P.O. Box 377, West Plains, Missouri, 65775, U.S.A.

CASINO

INVESTMENT Principal seeking funds for new concept Las Vegas existing Hotel/Casino. To arrange personal appointment CONTACT, tests Lings, All Dieg, London Hitton Jon. 10 through Jan. 20 or inquire through A. Moussolli siness Advisory Services, S.A., Geneva Phone 36-05-40 TELEX: 23342,

CANADA "QUEEN ELIZABETH TOWERS"

in the centre of Ottawa, capital of Canada. GUARANTEED NET CASH INCOME 6% ON YOUR INVESTMENT FOR 5 YEARS Prices from $40,000 - $1,20,000

200 Luxury Condominiums

50% Cosh Protect your money Buy real estate. ailder and guara TREBEL CONSTRUCTION LTB. one of the largest North A

Please write te: Wirzen Real Estate Ltd., 85 Richmond St. W., Toronto, Oni. MSH 2C9, Canada, Phone: 416-863-0071. Telex: CKVR NTL TOR 06-23621.

MANITOBA CANADA

2,160 ha. virgin land. Half has been cultivated. Extensive list al cultivated. Extensive list of lings and machinery ideal for all cereals, oilseeds and row crops. Owner will sell for $2,100,000 Cdn. and will lease back with an 8% return. BRUCE WENNBERG A & L LTD. 809 - 167 Lombard Ave., Winnipeg, Canada.

When real estate becomes international

...you multiply your prospects. Same property. More potential clients. You reach companies that plan to expand, individuals on the move, citizens of the world, and wealthy investors everywhere.

Talk to them every Friday in the International Herald Tribune.

Win Ship Night

h History

NYSE Closing Prices December 28

31%— 16 15%— 19 16%— 1

13%+ % 47%- %
116 \(\text{ } \)
13\(\text{ } \)
14\(\text{ } \)
116 \(\text{ } \)
116 \(\text{ } \)
116 \(\text{ } \)
117\(\text{ } \)
12\(\text{ } \)
12\(\text{ } \)
13\(\text{ } \)
14\(\text{ } \)
15\(\text{ } \)

11%— % 15%— % 12%— %
29%— % 16%+ % 25%
31 — 4

1¼ 6¾— ¼ 21½— ¼ 20¼ + ¾

1978 HIGH-LOW

. 322,10

- 311.60

214,90 - 125

134.20 - 80

133

370

550

73.05 -

38.50 -

110 - 03

535

98

650

124,90 -

614 - 31270

103.30 -

144.20 - 98.10

48.60

142

45,80

. 241.10

451

51.20

336.50

593 - 300

930

690

Petrol

Shipping As transp world

Bank

Bank

Holding

Holding

Holding

Petrol.

Mail orde

11/6 674 21% 20

31/6 15% 97% 34% 34% 1876 113% 21 /4 21 /4 23% 16% 113% 17% 1876 113%

11. 2180 88
11. 12. 12. 180 1774
3.8 8 47 7 774
3.8 8 47 7 774
3.8 8 47 7 774
3.8 8 47 7 774
3.8 8 47 7 774
3.8 8 47 8 2004
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 5 4 2
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6
4.8 6

| IYis AAIr of 2.15 | 1214 ABcker 1.20b | 1214 ABcker 1.20b | 1214 ABrd sh.70 | 13 ABdcst 1.20 | 1276 ABldM .70 | 1216 ABCGN Pf1.75 | 1216 ACCON P

11% BT Mto 5 Beche 40a 251/2 Bekrint 44 1376 BeldwU 1

AQUITAINE.....

CHARGEURS REUNIS

CHIMIQUE ROUTIERE.....

CREDIT COM. DE FRANCE ..

CREDIT INDUSTR. & COMM

THUSOT-LOIRE.....

EURAFRANCE.....

FRODO S.A.F....

MOET-HENNESSY

NORD (Compagnie du)

PECHINEY-UG.-KUHLMANIN.

PSA PEUGEOT-CITROEN....

RAFFINAGE (Cie. Fr.)

REDOUTE.....

ZHONE-POULENC....

SIGS ROSSIGNOL

ADVERTISEMENT

Chose Prev High Low Div. in 5 Ykd. P/E 100s. High Low Quot. Close 12 Month Stock Sis. C High Low Div. In S Yld. P/E 100s. High Low

16 — W 1834 — W 2034 + W 2034 — W 94 — W 5 134 — V 29 — V 82 — V

21% CarnaT 1.96
14% CdPac 1.104
9 Concils .64
77 CapClis .20
17% CapHold .92
2% CarlingO .02e
19% CarlingO .02e
19% Carlol .28
5% CaroCO 5
5% CaroCO 5
5% CaroCO 128
5% CaroCO 128
5% CaroCO 129
26% Carr pt 1.86
14% Carr pt 1.86
16% Carr pt 1.86
16% Carr pt 1.86
16% Carrint pt 1.86
16% Carrint pt 1.86
16% Carrint pt 1.86
16% CascNG .50
16% CascNG .50 2014 934 4054 214 244 244 253 2676 22576 46 11756 2676 22576 411756 2676 274 41756 1 2114 - 1
914 - 76
2114 - 1
914 - 76
2114 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
214 - 1
2

21/4 Contili Rt 24/2 Contili I 150 68% Contollief 2 14/2 Contollie Paris Bourse

YEED |%|

3.3

3.2

5.0

6.3

65

6.2

5.5

36

45

6.9

1.5

5,9

6.5

24

7.5

3.2

5.1

10.7

15.85 -

10.B4 -

9.62 -

4.30 -

83.00 · 55.63c · 82.00

25.92 · 30.34c · 83.50

24.39 - 20.12c - 20.10c

16.41 - 13.34 - 15.60

18.02 - 24.40c - 14.30c

14.08c -

8.74 -

-5.56c ·

35.50c 54.30c · 69.50c

29.27 · 73.01c · 38.20

2.44 - 21.51c - 10.32

5.71 - 12.71c - 20.80d

0.29 - 1.72 - -2.15

6.00c -

42,79 · 132,77 · 134,450

45.57 47.86c

6.34

75.76 - 87.48 - 70.00c

(b) Tax gredit not included

13.30

9.00

P/E

10

27

10

10

12

26

13

12

27

27

537 - 530

900

566 - 535

130

B90

185 - 184.90

129.50 - 129

- 128.50

126.50 - 124.90

61.90 - 59.90

327-50 321

467.80 464

570

475

54.90 - 54.80

28.40 - 25.90

73.50 - 73

75.50 - 75

552 · 550

122.40 - 118

- 351.9

. 1900

353

- 488

- 562

531

871

543

184,9

124

127.50

325

465

55

550

25.45

72

482

75.60

555

117.80

337.20

1900

9% — % 4% — % 4% — % 15% — % 15% — % 15% — % 16% — % 1 682
582
70
68
2574
2276 2276 2276 2276 1174 3276
1174 3276
1276 2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128 2077
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128
2076
128 20

27% 4 274 274 274 17% 4 ½ 17% 4 ½ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 6 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 4 ¼ 15% 6 ¼ 15% 6 ¼ 15% 6 ¼ 15% 7 ¼ 15% 7 ¼ 15% 8 ¼ 15% 8 ¼ 15% 9 ¼ 13% 21% 55 18% 13% 27% 17

14 23¼ 44/2 + 44/2 + 14

278
7.474
1.374
1.474
1.374
1.474
1.374
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.474
1.

ADVERTISEMENT

DEC. 28, 1978

SHRS. OUTS. (000)

14,774

600

2,332

1,672

13,284

25,300

28/4+ ½
75/4- 12/2
75/4- 26/3-

(in Franch Franci)

LATEST COMPANY NEWS

SOGERAP net profit (Oct. 77-Sept. 78) 28.35 MF vs. 19.70 MF (+ 43.9%), Group 3rd quarter 78 turnover (ex. traes, 987.09 MF vs. 805 MF (+ 22.6%).

of Sept. 30, group consol. turnov 10,790 MF vs. 9,618 MF (+ 12,2%).

ubs. UTA 9 months '78 soles -,088 MF (+ 17.7% vs. 9 months '77).

Activity up abroad (Africa, Mid and Fo East) and 1979 laaks further promising.

CCF lead manager of int'l coreorfus in extra $130ml. aredit for Brazil power pk

New SICAV in French securities [FRANCIQ to be offered public by OC group as of Sept.

ompany's first 9 months '78 turnove ix. loses) = 4,298 MF (+3.3% vs. 77).

77-78 net dividend of 13 F (vs. 11.7 F payable as of December 29.

rweld (USA) 1st sam. 78 turnover

$2128 Mil. vs. $171.2 Mil. in 77 (+24%)

rst 9 months consolidated turnovi ix-taxes) = 1,293 MF (+ 26% vs. 77).

Acquisition of Ge du Nord by Bonq Rothschild confirmed as at Dec. 19.

± 9 months 78 corsol. lumover − 20,393M +3.699 of which 52.5% from overseus.

t Benorth 78-79 group contol, lumb 2,445 MF vs. 2,077 MF (+17.7%).

lst. semester 1978 consol. turnover 13,164 MF vs. 12,324 MF in 1977 (+6,892

Rolinco assembly sets 5% share mountain (77-78) as of December 2.

1st sent. 78-79 group consol. turnover 363.77 MF vs. 314.27 MF (+ 15.75%).

New Peugoot oars accord with Yugo Co. for vehicle construction plant.

1978 first semester turn n. 9,278.99 MF (-1.19), ocquires Somo

9% GAF

16h GAF pf 1.26

12h GATX 1.60

7% GCA

15h GATX 1.60

7% GCA

15h GATX 1.60

7% GCA

15h GATX 1.60

17h GCA

15h GATX 1.60

17h GCA

15h GATX 1.60

17h GCATX 1.60

17h GC 8 15 134 0.1 9 672 8 126 18 70 54 60 7 214 n pfwl4.25 0.1 2.60 5.8 9 1.50 5.6 8 1.52c 5.7 18 1.52c 5.7 18 1.60 6.2 54 1.60 2.2 7 tr pf 3 8.8

30% 29% 25% 25% 24% 54 12% 47% 17% 19%

9% GnPort .50
14% GPU 1,80
15% GREAT
23% GTSISM 1
15% GNSISM 257
27% GTE 248
12% GTE pf 2.50
12% GTE pf 2.50
12% GTE pf 2.50
13% GTE pf 2.48
13% GTE pf 2.50
22% GREST 2
23 GROPU pf 1.6
22% GREST 2
23 GROPU pf 2.5
25% GROPU pf 2.5
25%

K-K-K -32 9 490 58 5 111 57 3 67

231/2 174/ 217/2 22% 17% 21

201/2+ %
81/6- 16
16/16+ 1/6
12/2+ 16
30 - 16
30/6- 11/6
22/6
11/6- 11
22/6
23/6+ 16
22/6- 76
24/6- 76
24/6- 76
24/6- 76
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16
24/6- 16

22% 67% 25% 27% 28% 28% 232% 30

24¼ 9 10 14% 15% 11% 57% 13% 9¼

5% 17%— 29%+ 27%— 27%— 9% 16 — 16% 46 24%+ 11%+ 15%+ 15%-16 —

| 16 | KoliC pf 1.37 | 7.1 | 2 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7 | 1.7

101/2 MOSTINE 1.24
511/2 MOSTINE 1.26
511/2 MOSTINE 1664年前,1466年,1777年,1878年

(Continued on Page 8)

14/4-61 --20/4 22/4 + 7% --25 +-26/4-

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES

France Said Balking At EMS Jan. 1 Start

PARIS, Dec. 28 (Reuters) — France will not join the European Monetary System (EMS), the longdebated link-up of Common Mar-ket currencies scheduled to begin on Monday, until its partners agree to phase out controversial farm-price subsidies, a leading government source said today.

The news delivered a blow in the new system which, after months of hard bargaining, was to have begun Monday with all Common Market countries in its ranks except Brit-ain. The source said that the EMS would not come into effect until the problem was solved, and existing monetary arrangements would continue beyond Monday if necessary.

In Brussels, an EEC spokesman said it appeared that the EMS would not be able to start an time unless France withdrew its objections. Emphasizing that be was giving his own, not official, opinion, the spokesman said that the start would have to be delayed until the dispute on farm-price subsidies was

[However, the West German government said it was confident that the Enropean Monetary System would be go into operation the beginning of next month as planned, AP-Dow Jones reported from Frankfurt. Spokesman Armin Gruenewald said "the French president has often said publicly that France will join the EMS nt its incepunn. We have beard nothing yet from him to contradict this." Mr. Gruenewald also said that a dramatization of the French position on Monetary Compensatory Amounts (MCAs) "isn't advisable." He said that EEC agriculture ministers will meet Jan. 15 to discuss the matter in a special sitting. He said it was not in certain that France would not meet the foreseen Friday target date for present-ing the EEC commission with its working rate for the EMS currency

France, along with West Germany, was one of the original advocates of the EMS, a system under which member currencies would float against each other within strict limits, with the intention of creating a zone of currency stability to smooth out West European

But the French government is demanding that its entry into the EMS be accompanied by an agree-ment on a timetable for the abolition of MCAs, which are used to offset currency fluctuations in Common Market farm trade. clashed on the issue and several of the nine EEC members refused to abolish MCAs during meetings of the EEC Council of Ministers earlier this month in Brussels (IHT, Dec. 22). The effect of phasing out MCAs would be to raise farm prices in France while lowering them in West Germany.

. A French expert agreed with of-ficials from other EEC states in Brussels earlier today to a threeweek freeze of MCAs to allow a breathing space for France and West Germany to resolve their differences. But the French are insisting that MCAs must be abolished in stages if necessary, the source

.But the source said the EMS could start up at any time after the two countries settled their dispute on MCAs. He stressed that France

Dollar Advances On Trade Data

LONDON, Dec. 28 (AP-DJ) -The dollar today opened sharply lower against European currencies but finished with gains after better-than-expected U.S. trade figures Were reported.

Continuing central bank support also helped the dollar's recovery.

dealers said. However, the dollar slipped to 193,90 yen from 194.65 late yesterday. Traders said this probably epresented a technical correction occause the dollar was firm against the yen in yesterday's trading.
After trading as low as 1.8130

Deutsche marks in the early morn-ing the dollar recovered to 1.8282 DM at the end of the day in London dealings, compared with 18220 lane yesterday. The dollar advanced to 1.6272 Swiss francs from 1.6150 and moved up to 4.2050 French francs from 4.1725. Serling slipped to $2.0292 from 2.0375 while the Canadian dollar was little changed at 84.40 cents.

France Completes Concorde Program

PARIS, Dec. 28 (AP-DJ) — The ast Concorde jetimer built by france's state-owned Aerospatials has made its first test flight, company officials said. The last of the capit Concordes built by Britain's sevenment-owned British Aero-pace, Aerospatiale's partner in the renurse, is slated for completion in February 1979, ending the proebruary 1979, ending the pro-Of the approximately 300 Con-ordes the builders had hoped to all only nine have been bought by the state-run carriers Air France and British Airways. Two are used for test flickers and discount used for test flights and five are unsold.

still fully intended to participate in

In Rome, Italian officials said that they shared France's concern for reform of the Common Market farm policy but they have made no moves in the current dispute be-tween France and West Germany over MCAs. Italy, like France. wants a devaluation of its so-called green currency to protect its farmers and reduce incentives to import costly farm products from other EEC countries. But it had agreed to leave further discussion of the problem to an EEC agriculture ministers' meeting in mid-January.

the new monetary system

ine, said it is switching to Rolls-Royce engines from Pratt & Whimey to power its Boeing 747 jumbo jets. Qantas, which already has 17 of the jets, is buying twn more 747s and said those will use the Rolls RB211-524b engine, rated at 50,000 pounds thrust on takeoff. A Rolls spokesman estimated the initial order would be valued at $40 million. Other orders could fallow. Ralls called the Quatas sale "a signifi-cant breakthrough." Pratt & Whitney is a United Austria, Ford Discussing Plant

Qantas Switches to Rolls Engines

In an unusual move. Quntas, the Australian air-

Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky and representatives of Ford Motor and its European subsidiary had another round of talks on the construction of a Ford plant in Austria. While Mr. Kreisky some time ago considered Austria's chance to get the $1.5-mil-lion plant as promising. Ford representatives said a decision could not be expected before April. The company says it is negotiating with other Continental governments as well and would closely examine all proposals. Annther round of talks was planned

Maruzen Oil, Kansai Oil to Merge

Maruzen Oil says it has reached a tentative agreement with Kansai Oil to merge next autumn. Maruz-en says the twn nil refiners are now in negotiation to work out details. The merger, if it materializes, would be the first between Japanese oil companies, the financial positions of which bave deteriorated since the 1973 oil crisis. We are now discussing details as to the timing, capital share of each company and others," Martizen says. "We are boping to merge next autumn."

Lurgi Gets China Order

Lurgi Gesellschaften says it has received a 500million-Deutsche-mark order from China for two chemical plants. The plants, which are scheduled for operation in 1982, will bave a daily capacity of 1000 tuns of ammunia from coal and 300 tuns of metha-

China Expansion Facing Political and Fiscal Limits WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (APDD) — There are fiscal, social and political constraints limiting the boom that has developed as China tries to modernize extensively by the year 2000. The Political and Fiscal Limits deals. Yet Mr. Teng's age raises questions about the permanence of this course. China primarily seeks industrial products, not consumer goods, although it does plan an electronics. Historically, the China market has proved to be

The Peking government this year has signed commitments to buy $27 billion in technology from Japan, Western Europe and the United States, and this level of purchasing has stirred great expectations among sellers.

However, China can not afford everything it wants, and large revenues from its bounteous oil reserves are years away. Crop failures could continue to force high agricultural imports, reducing Peking's ability to pay for industrial goods.

Diplomatic relations with the United States should ease China's financial problems by opening the way for tariff cuts and lor U.S. gov-a mirage. Although the current ambitious modernization campaign is unprecedented, it is not irreversi-

5 to 7 Years *China has about five to seven years in produce improvements in the lives of its people if modernization is to last as the policy of China," one Carter administration China expert predicts.

The driving force behind China's great leap toward the West is Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping, who will visit Washington in January, At 74, Mr. Teng is in a hurry to entrench his modernization policy so his successors can not reverse it; hence, ernment and commercial loans, but the breathtaking pace of business

Japan CD-Market Outline Disappoints Some Banks

TOKYO, Dec. 28 (AP-DJ) -Conditions for issuing certificates of deposit (CDs) in Japan are emerging, though some financial institutions are not fully satisfied with the terms.

U.S. To Probe Charge of EEC Steel Dumping

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (UPI)

— The Treasury said today that it had started an anti-dumping investigation involving the sale of carbon-steel plate from five European

The complaint that prompted the Treasury investigation was filed by the Lukens Steel and follows an allegation made yesterday by David Roderick, president of U.S. Steel, that up to 25 percent of the foreign steel imported in September and October entered at prices below the trigger price.

The Lukens complaint alleged that carbon-steel plate imported from Belgium, France, West Germany, Italy and Britain was being sold in the United States at less than fair value and below the "guidance prices" set by the European Economie Community itself. It does not allege that the sales are below the producers' costs of pro-

During the last year, the Treasury said, carbon-steel imports have risen sharply, from 38.5 percent of plate imports in 1977 to 43.7 per-cent this year, and account for more than a quarter of the domestic steel-plate market. In another development, the Treasury said that it will begin auditing selected steel-importing firms to further assure that monitoring under the steel trigger price mechanism is effective."

Meanwhile, the American Iron and Steel Institute said November steel imports totalled 2.02 million tons, up 4 percent from the 1.94 million tons imported in November 1977. For the first 11 months, imported steel tonnages rose I4.8 percent to 19.76 million tons, which exceeds the 1977 record total of 19.3 million tons.

Japan Restricts Steel to EEC

TOKYO, Dec. 28, (Reuters) — Six major Japanese steelmakers will continue to restrict their steel exports to the European Economic Community, Nippon Steel said today.

It said the decision, which is snbject to government approval, was made after a request from the EEC. It said the community was fighting recession in the steel industry by restricting imports.

Under a three-year agreement Under a three-year agreement that expires this month, the Japanese exports of steel in the EEC were kept to 1.22 million tons a year. But the actual exports fell short of the qunta with 533,000 tons shipped during the first 11 months of this year, compared with months of this year, compared with 1.13 million tons in the same period of last year, Nippon said. The other companies involved in the self-imposed export controls are Kawasaki Steel, Nippon Kokan Kaishn. Sumitomo Metal Industries, Kobe Steel and Nisshin Steel.

yesterday outlined some of the conditions for issuing CDs, which are notes issued by banks against largedenomination deposits by customers. While the final details remain to be settled in the next month or A Finance Ministry statement two, the following terms have been > • The maturity of CD issues will range from three to six months. Authorization to extend maturities to a year, which many banks want, is not expected soon.

• Interest rates on the CDs will be free of government control are set by the government.

• The ceiling on the total volume of CDs issued by any financial institution will be a certain percentage of its shareholders' equity. The minimum volume of any one issue of CDs will be 300 million yen (about $1.5 million).

• All financial institutions, including foreign banks but excluding security houses, will be allowed to issue CDs. The resale of issued CDs re-

The lease of issued CDs requires the issuer's agreement.

The long-awaited opening of the Tokyo CD market had been regarded by foreign banks and Japan's so-called city commercial banks as a source of long-term yen loans. But the 6-month maturity limitation undercuts these bopes for use of the market. Terms of one year or longer are offered on floating-rate CDs in most international capital mar-

This and other restrictions on the suance of CDs reflects compromises stemming from opposition by other Japanese banks, such as longterm credit banks and trust banks which have opposed the introducnon of CDs because they will conflict with the bonds issued by those banks. Under government regula-tions, nnly the long-term credit banks, the trust banks and Bank of Tokyo Ltd., a city bank with a unique foreign-exchange role, are allowed to issue bonds in Japan.

Regional and mutual banks have also been against the introduction because of fears that the city banks will absorb the funds of local municipalities and regional corpora-tions by issuing CDs.

Foreign banks are especially disappointed by the short maturities allowed on CDs because they want a source of long-term yen funds to match their lendings nI equivalent length in the Japanese currency. Nevertheless, they have welcomed the introduction The method for setting a ceiling on the issue volume of foreign banks is still under discussion.

Belgium Posts Rise In Consumer Prices

BRUSSELS, Dec. 28 (Reuters)—
Belgian consumer prices rose 0.44 percent in December and were up 3.86 percent from a year earlier with the index, base mid-1974 to mid-1975, at 130.09, the Economic Affairs Ministry said today. This compares with a monthly rise of 0.31 percent in November, when the year-on-year rate was 3.82 per-

The ministry also reported that the wholesale price index, base 1936-1938, rose 0.86 percent in No-vember to 867.7 after a fall of 0.16 percent in October. The rise, mainly reflecting higher food prices, leaves the index 0.43 percent above November of last year.

industry to make color-television sets for domestic sale. The National Council for U.S.-China Trade estimates Peking will spend $40 billion between now and 1985 on Western Specifically, U.S. businessmen can expect Chinese interest in computers, aircraft, mining technology and offshore drilling equipment, all technology in which the U.S. can claim some superiority. Although some U.S. companies already have arranged big deals, so far, the overwhelming share of business has gone to Japan with the European Economie Community in second China has not bad any trouble borrowing commercially because with little debt, Peking has a good credit rating. But Cbina's creditworthiness could be undermined if it is forced to use large amounts of limited foreign currencies for grain imports rather than for more productive purposes-or for loan repayments. With China's population expanding at the rate of 2 percent a year, most U.S. trade percent a year, most U.S. trade experts believe the country could import as much as $1.5 billion in agricultural products annually for at least the next several years.

Underlining this possibility, China's news agency yesterday re-ported that China harvested about 295 million tons of grain this year, up 10 million tons or 4 percent from the previous year and a record output. However, Hsinhua ac-knowledged that the record harvest

By Anthony J. Parisi

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (NYT) -

In what amounts to the biggest disappointment yet in the search for oil and gas off New Jersey, Mobil announced yesterday that it was abandouing its first well in the Baltimore Canyon after tests had uncovered "no significant quantities"

Mobil had drilled into the very top of the so-called Baltimore

Dome, a large geological formation that had seemed to hold the oil industry's best chance for making a massive strike in this area. Conceivably, oil or gas could still be found in the dome, but three other com-panies have already drilled dry holes on the sides of this structure, and observers said that Mobil's announcement had now dashed hopes

'Still Hopeful'

Mobil emphasized, however, that the Baltimore Canyon still held promise overall. "We're still hope-ful for the area," Alex Massad, president of Mobil's exploration and producing district said in a and producing division, said in a prepared statement.

ward bulge in the rock strata deep beneath the sea floor. Such domes can trap oil or gas in much the same way that an upside-down cup can trap air in a sink full of water, and this one is among the biggest

In August 1976, at the first sale of leases in the Atlantic, the gov-ernment auctioned off more than 300 square miles of acreage above accounted for about half the $1.1

billion that the oil industry spent that day, Mobil spent more beavily than most, paying $83.4 million for its share of the tracts atop the dome, out of its total expenditures

Observers suggested that interest in the Baltimore Canyon would now shift to the so-called shelf trend, an extended pattern of smaller but still promising geologi-cal structures that run along the edge of the Continental Shelf.

Although one of the six dry holes that have been announced to date was drilled on the shelf trend. Texaco has come up with a possibly of $90.2 million.

the Baltimore Dome. Those leases ever found in North America.

The Baltimore Dome is an up-of a big discovery there.

of either.

"fell sbort of the nriginal produc-tion target," although it did not in-dicate what that was. Hsinhua attributed the failure to achieve the target to "a severe drought of a magnitude rare in the 29 post-liberation years and to shortcomings in our work in some Nonetheless, in order to achieve the nation's 400-millinn-ton target by 1985. Chinese grain output would have to grown by 4.5 percent annually. Since China's populatinn, at nearly a billion, increases about 17 million a year, the country needs to produce an additional 4 million tons a year just to keep up with population growth. Moreover, the ernment's pledge to raise living standards, and its need to increase agriculture-related exports, has made it critical for there to be a sharp improvement in agriculture.

Socialist Enthusiasm

For this reason, the Communist Party's central committee decided at a plenary session last week that, starting in 1979, it would increase the state's grain purchase price by 20 percent on compulsory procurement, and by 50 percent on any additional voluntary procurements. In addition, it pledged not to increase the agricultural tax "for a fairly long period to come" and, while production will presumably increase over the years, the state's procurement quotas would not be raised. Through these measures, the central committee hoped "the socialist enthusiasm of our country's several hundred million peasants" will be released.

The Carter administration is considering granting China Export-lm-(Continued on Page 9)

Mobil Abandons Baltimore Dome Well

Mobil said that it would move its drilling rig 35 miles south, to the southernmost reach of the shelf trend. And last week, Tenneco said it would drill two wells on tracts adjacent to the Texaco find.

"You've got to be discouraged about the Baltimore Dome," a knowledgeable oilman who asked not to be identified conceded. "But you've got a trend out there that's

Braniff Is Fined

LAKE CHARLES, La., Dec. 28 (UPI) — Braniff Airways pleaded no contest yesterday to U.S. charges that it used illegal tactics in an attempt to force Southwest Air-lines out of business during the ear-

U.S. Judge Edwin Hunter fined

Braniff the maximum $100,000 — the same fine levied against Texas

International last June when it also pleaded noto contendere in the

The fine assessed Braniff was the maximum penalty possible at the time the vinlations took place. Since then, fines for breaking the Sherman Antitrust Act have been raised to $1 million for each count. Despite the plea, Braniff officials maintained they were innocent of all charges. They said they accepted all charges. They said they accepted the no contest plea "to avoid the burdens and costs of a trial."

The indictments against Braniff and Texas International were returned in August of last year. U.S.

prosecutors accused Braniff and TIA of filing petitinns before the courts and federal agencies in a deliberate conspiracy to hamper Southwest's operations at Hobby

The charges also alleged that the two airlines tried to prevent their passengers from switching to Southwest flights when their nwn flights were canceled. Southwest Airlines got off the ground despite the actions. The airline has since Airport in Houston.

aco has come up with a possibly expanded operations to more than commercial discovery of natural a dozen Texas cities.

SU.S. 5,000,000 FEDERATIVE REPUBLIC OF BRAZIL

Floating Rate Bonds due 1984

Notice is hereby given that the rate of interest for the period 24th December 1978 to 24th June 1979 has been fixed at the rate of 14,25 per cent. p.c.

The Fiscal Agent: KREDIETBANK S.A. Luxembourgeoise.

$100,000 for

Illegal Tactics

mine the extent of its find.

gas there and is about to start testing a second well nearby to deter-

Leading Index Declines

U.S. Trade Deficit Off in Month

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (IHT)

— The U.S. trade deficit narrowed to $1.95 billinn during Navember from $2.13 billion the previous month, the Commerce Department reported today, despite fears that an oil-buying surge prior to the OPEC price rise would widen the gap. Hinwever, the data pushed the 1978 tntal deficit to a new yearly record and the department also re-ported that the index of leading economic indicators, which tends tn foreshadow econnmic trends, deelined in the month.

The November deficit, which was the 30th in a row, compares with a $2.93-billion deficit in November 1977 and was only the fourth time all year that it fell below the $2-billinn level, the Commerce Department said.

The deficit for the first 11 months of 1978 stood at $26.74 billion in surprass 1977's record $26.5 billion, the department said.

Imports last month rose 0.4 per cent from October to $15.21 hil-lion, a record, after rising 0.1 per-cent in October to $15.14 billinn and rising 7.3 percent in September in $15.12 billion.

Exports increased 1.9 percent to $13.26 billion compared with a decline of 3.1 percent in October to $13.01 billion and a rise of $7.7 percent the month before to $13.43 billion.

Oil Imports Up

Imports of petroleum and related products rose 2.3 percent in No-vember to an adjusted $3.58 billion after falling 3.5 percent in October to $3.5 billion.

The department also said that the U.S. trade deficit with Japan narrowed in November to $674 million from a deficit of $838 millinn in October on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Overall, U.S. imports last month declined in eight of ten major categories including food, gold and machinery and transportation equip-ment, And four of the major export categories increased last month from the previous month including chemicals, aircraft, coal and gold.

Leading Index Off

Calculated the way most other nations compute their trade figures to include the cost of insurance and freight on imports without affect-ing exports, the trade deficit in November narrowed to $2.92 billion from a deficit of $3.06 billion the month before.

Most companies active in the Baltimore Canyon bave declined to issue more than terse statements about their results, partly because a second lease sale is tentatively scheduled for February and the companies want to keep their proprietary data as confidential as possible. Thus, even after nine months of drilling, the industry's true impression of the Baltimore Canyon is still difficult to discern.

Mobil has only a 25 percent interest in the tract involved in yesterday's announcement, howevyesterday's announcement, however. Its partners are Getty (23 percent), Sun (15 percent), Amerada Hess (10 percent), Anadarko (10 percent), Texaco (8 percent), Marathon (5 percent) and Pan-

BLEU Has Small Surplus

BRUSSELS, Dec. 28 (Reuters) -

The Belgo-Luxembourg Economie

Union's current account showed a 16.5 billion francs and a deficit of Canadian (4 percent).

The Department also reported the index of leading economic indicators decreased 0.6 percent in November following increases of 0.4 percent in October, 0.9 percent in September and 0.5 percent in August. The November decline brought the index to 137.7 percent of the 1967 average compared with 138.6 percent in October.

The department said five nf ten indicators available for November contributed to the decline: the number of companies reporting slower deliveries; contracts and or-ders fur plant and equipment; stock prices; money supply and new orders.

The biggest upward influence was the increase to 40.6 from 40.4

in the average number of hnurs in factory workweeks. Other upward influences were a lower layoff rate in manufacturing, faster growth in liquid assets of business and consumers, a faster rise in key wholesale prices and a higher number of building permits issued. Figures nn new business formation and inventories were nnt available in time for inclusion in the index.

The department's index of coincident indicators, which tends to move up or dowo simultaneously with economic activity, rose 1 percent in November in 142.8 percent of the 1967 average.

The index of lagging indicators, which tends to trail economic trends, increased 4.4 percent in No-vember to 157.2 percent. The ratio of these two indexes, which tends to signal turning points in the econ-omy in advance of the index of leading indicators, neclined to 0.93 in November from 0.94 in October

Page 7

Farm Exports of Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP-D): — U.S. agricultural experts set a record for the ninth year in a row in fiscal 1978 and helped to pure the nation's trade deficit from $48.2 billion to $34.8 billion, Citibank said vesterday.

The farm exports increased 14 percent over 1977's record to $27.5 billion and showed a $13.4 billion surplus over agricultural imports, the bank said as in monthly eco-nomic letter. It noted that U.S. farm imports rost 12 percent to the year to a record.

Citibank quoted a Department of Agriculture forecast that farm exports are expected to reach $24 billion in fiscal 1979 with a surplus of some $15 billion.

Wall St. Broadly Lower; M-2 Falls $500 Million

- New York Stock Exchange prices retreated in moderate trading on continued concern about unrest in Iran and caution ahead of the weekly banking statistics.

After the market closed, the Federal Reserve reported the M-1 moncy supply rose $100 million in the latest reporting week but the broader M-2 fell $500 million and the M-1 Plus also dropped $500 million. The data puts M-1 growth over the latest four weeks at 0.7 percent compared with the 13 weeks previously, M-2 similarly showed a 5.2 percent growth.

The Dow Jones industrial average lost 2.60 to 805.96 but losers paced winners 1,047 to 444 on vol-ume of 25.44 million shares, up from 23.58 traded yesterday.

In the government securities market, the Federal Reserve twice tried to lower the key federal funds rate by adding reserves with funds trading at 10%. However, fed funds finished at 11½ percent. Philip Morris slipped % to 71%.

It raised cigarette prices 55 cents per thousand. Sony topped the active list, adding is to 81s. White Motor was also a prominent gainer, rising 1/2 to 7/2 in active turnover. Among the losers, NCR dropped 11/2 to 61, Burroughs 1% to 73/2, Owens-Corning Fiberglas 14 to 254. Honeywell 14 to 704 and Chessie System 1% to 26%. Dome Mines climbed two to 78, Lane Bryant 11/4 to 21 and Timken 13/4 to 4934. MacAndrews and Forbes jumped 3% to 18%.

American Stock Exchange prices also fell in active trading with the index off 0.66 to 149.42 and the average price per share down six

In other developments, Hudson's Bay said that over 60 percent of the sbares of Simpsons Ltd. and the class B shares of Simpsons-Sears Ltd. have been tendered under the company's combination cash and

Mexico Raises Price Of Oil by $1 a Barrel

MEXICO CITY. Dec. 28 (Reuters) — Mexico will increase the export price of its crude oil by $1 to $14.10 a barrel during the first quarter of 1979, the state oil company Pemex said today.

It said the decision, which followed agreement by the Organiza-tion of Petroleum Exporting Coun-tries to increase their prices by 14.5 percent, was in keeping with Mexismall provisional September sur-plus of 1 million Belgian francs (about $346,000) compared with an upward revised August deficit of co's policy of pricing its oil higher than world levels. Mexico, which is 4.6 billion francs in September of last year, the National Bank reportnot an OPEC member, exports its oil mainly to the United States and approved the merger into a subsidiary of Juhus-Manville. In Chicago, wheat closed irresularly higher, corn lugher, oats loner and soybeans mixed on the Board of Trade. Wheat was up '4 to 24 cents; corn up '4 to 112; oats off 1 to 112; and soybeans off ', to 6

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (Reuters) stock offer. The offer has been ex-Shareholders of Olinkraft inc.

Detroit Sees Strong Sales

For Spring DETROIT, Dec. 28 (AP-DJ) -Betting that the pace of new-ear sales will not show any significant downturn in the early part of 1579. U.S. automakers have set first quarter production schedules that would boost already sizable dealer inventories even higher by spring, Detroit's tentative plans cail for domestic auto output to climb 7.9 cent from a vear earlier to highest level since the record 1973 first quarter, sources said. If the industry adheres to its current schedules, it will be building cars much more rapidly than it expects to be selling them in the quarter. That means the addition of some 300,000 cars to dealer lots by April After that, automakers apparentby expect the usual spring upswing in deliveries to begin reducing what would be a record method of over two million units.

Whether Detroit sticks with its current plan depends on what hap-pens to auto sales over the next several weeks and nn any changes in the industry's assessment of the potential spring auto market. Currently, there is considerable disagreement about the outlook for all of next year, with forecasts ranging all the way from a boom to a moderate would be a record inventory of over

Automakers seem fairly confident, however, that at least the first part of next year will be good ennugh to support brisk produc-

Sources say automakers tentatively are planning to build about 2,445,000 cars in their U.S. plants in the first quarter, compared with about 2,267,000 a year earlier. Industry sources, though, go out of their way to emphasize that current plans are highly preliminary and that there is a good chance schedules will be trimmed if sales show any sign of softening after the first

SIEMENS WESTERN FINANCE N.V.

CURAÇAO, NETHERLANDS ANTILLES

Warrants Attached to Our

51/2% U.S. Dollar bonds Due 1979 Adjustment of the Option Price

> Holders of warronts are hereby advised that pursuant to a capital increase with subscription right for shareholders effected by Siemens Aktiengesellschaft, the option price for each ordinary share of Siemens AG in the nominal amount of DM 50.00 to be purchased by exercise of the warrants will be reduced to effective January 8, 1979. Warrants are not exercisable from January 2 to January 5, 1979, both days inclusive (Articla 2 of the Canditians of Warrants),

DM 219.60

We expressly remind all holders of our warrants that the option rights will expire on August 31, 1979.

Willemstad, Curação, December, 1978.

The Managing Directors

Old Court
DOLLAR COMMODITY TRUST
Pricts on December 21st, 1978
U.S. $28.80 Bids, U.S. $30.63 Offer.
Next dealing date January 8th, 1979
N.M. ROTHSCHIED ASSET MANAGEMENT (C.I.) LTD.
P.O. Box 58, Guernsey C.I.
TEL: Guernsey 26741. Telect 41507.

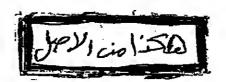

Eurocurrency Interest Rates

1 M. 11 %-12 2 M. 17 15/16-13 1/16 3 M. 12-12 % 6 M. 12 %-12 % 1 Y. 12-12 %

Ameterdam Brussels Frankfurt Lendon 30 London 500 Milen Paris Sydney Tokyo (n) Tokyo (a) Zurich

25,40 94,04 141,16 432,40 295,42 35,45 76,10 441,19 364,64 3867,91 289,50 and lead to a sharp decline in production."

Page 9 INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1978 AMEX Closing Prices December 28 12 Month Stock Sis. Close Prev High Low Div, in 2 Yid, P/E 100s, Nigh Low Quot. Close 376+ 16
1376
376 276
1776- 16
726
976+ 16
11
2776+ 16
776- 16
6 - 16
2776
15
316
1776
15 International Herald Tribune We've got news for you U.S. Commodity Prices NEW YORK, Dec. 28 - Cash octo Accro, R offe 4 Santas, TEXTILES 214.76 59-40 0.33 40%-43% 6.00% 30% 4.780 146.25 NEW YORK FUTURES 54.55 56.85 55.80 54.25 — .40 54.70 54.90 51.40 54.30 — .55 51.25 51.30 51.10 51.10 — .90 48.90 49.25 49.80 49.25 49.80 49.25 49.80 49.75 48.80 — .70 56.75 — .75 Est. soles: 215; soles Wed, 134, 3% Grangra 4% Grangra 4% Granno 18% Granno 18% Granno 1% Granno 5% GREIT COFF 17,580 Mor May Jul Sep Dec Mar May 88-08 88-15 88-06 88-07 --13
88-08 88-12 88-02 88-02 --13
88-04 88-07 88-00 88-00 --11
88-00 88-03 88-09 88-00 --11
88-00 88-03 87-29 87-29 --10
87-23 87-31 87-27 87-22 --10
87-19 87-25 87-19 87-16 --14 Cents per lb.
132.50 133.00 132.00 132.40 --0.78
122.50 127.50 128.60 122.30 --0.78
128.60 128.50 127.51 128.74 --0.54
128.60 128.75 127.25 128.50 --0.21
128.50 127.75 128.50 127.46 +0.38
128.50 127.50 127.50 128.50 +0.38 644 K 5 + 16 274 K 716 K 174 H 176 K 156 + 16 SOYBEAN OIL
SOOB BLA Gold
Jon 25
Mor 25
Mor 25
Aug 25
Aug 25
Sep 24
Oct 21
Dec 21
Jon 2
Mor 2 Thursday's New Highs and Lows Est. sales: 656; sales Wed. 704 Total open Interest Wed. 62,142, off 143 from Tues. 11/4 open Inferest Wed. 6,375. up 84 from 1046-- \(\lambda\) 12\(\lambda\)- \(\lambda\)
12\(\lambda\)- \(\lambda\)
12\(\lambda\)- \(\lambda\)
13\(\lambda\)- \(\lambda\)
15\(\lambda\)- \(\lambda\) COCOA 30,000 h Mar Moy Jul Sep Dec Mar IMM Futures NEW LOWS--- 107 ents per re. 173.00 175.60 173.75 174.90 +1.60 175.25 176.05 175.25 176.10 +1.70 176.00 177.00 175.00 176.20 +1.30 176.05 176.05 176.25 176.05 +1.30 174.25 175.50 174.25 174.75 +1.20 173.00 174.50 173.00 173.75 Ind/Mch 12pl
IntrsPw pi
Itel 1.Aspi
Long IsL pi
Mocy piA
Mork Ct 1.20pl
MossMuf Inv
McNall Cp
Maffed piH
MoPub Svc
MoP 5 2.41pr
Montgom Se
Montgom
Mos Se
Montgom
Mos Se
Montgom
Montgom Paind 1.50pf
Paind 7.15pf
Unell 3.50pf
Unell Mar 0.4333 0.6358 0.4284 0.4335 — 0.0010
June 0.4525 6.4547 0.4491 0.4535 — 0.0003
Sept 0.6670 0.6712 0.4497 0.4575 Unch.
Dec 0.6835 0.4885 b 0.6835 0.4885 b + 0.0005
GUILDER
Mar N.T. N.T. N.T. 0.5050 Unch. Ameron
AllicityElpi
Allich 3.75pf
BlinneySm
Corti-leed
ChilpneyT
Cling 9,30pf
Coleco Ind
Collins Alik
CME 1,90pf
CmE 8,40pf
Coned Spf
Coned Spf
Coned Spf
Coned Spf
Cont All-Lin
Culbro Co
Dovi PL. piE
Def Edison
Del E 9,32pf
DiamShm
Dillion Cos
Eosco Corp
Elpiss def
Equimn's Cp
GMAT 3,75pf
GentAlol Spf
G 1.57 1.58 FRENCH FRANC Mor N.T. N.T. June N.T. N.T. Tues.
ORANGE JUICE.
15,000 lbs.; cents per Jon 115,00
Anar 117,00
Anar 117,00
Anar 117,00
Jul 120,07
Jul 120,07
Jul 120,07
Jun 114,5
Jun 114,5
Jun 114,5
Anar 110,0 Sales Wed. 410. Mor N.T. N
YEN
Mor 5307 5
June 5431 5
Sept N.T. N
Dec N.T. N
Initial 0.00 omitted UICE:
2mts per lb.
115,00 115,00 114,25 114,25 —0,35
117,20 117,25 117,25 17,25 —0,35
119,00 119,35 118,75 119,25 —0,25
120,90 121,00 120,25 120,45 —0,25
121,50 122,12 13145 121,90 —0,18
114,50 116,40 116,00 116,10 —0,10
110,25 110,50 110,50 110,10 —0,10
110,00 110,00 110,00 110,00 +0,05 5325 5439 N.T. N.T. 5295 5422 b 5329 b 5445 STERLING
Mar 20345 2,0365
June 2,0250 2,0290
Sept 2,0130 2,0250 b 2.0200 2.0290 b - 0.0070 DEUTSCHE MARK.

Mar 0.5401 0.5614 0.5545 0 0.5904 - 0.0007

June 0.5712 0.5737 0.5540 0.5705 - 0.0007

Sept 0.5793 0.5835 b 0.5705 0.5905 - 0.007

Dec 0.5995 0.5912 b 0.5915 0.5910 Unch.

Mar N.T. N.T. N.T. 0.5990 Unch. China's Expansion Facing PLATINUM
50 froy oz.; deliars per froy oz.
Jen 362,00 324,00 327,00 322,00 -1.20
Apr 353,00 357,80 352,00 352,80 -1.50
Jul 356,50 359,00 354,50 355,00 -1.50
Jon 361,10 365,00 364,50 361,70 -1.50
Jon 361,10 365,00 364,50 361,70 -1.50
Jul 370,00 370,00 369,30 367,30 -1.50
Jul 370,00 370,00 369,30 367,30 -1.50 Political and Fiscal Limits (Continued from Page 7) eign managers and technicians to port Bank credits and administra-tion officials say a U.S.-China trade agreement, including sharp cuts in tariffs, could be negotiated by early rur new enterprises. But both actions entail risks to political stabili-Soviet Deep Well ty. Nationalistic sentiment remains strong in China, and reliance on the West is by no means universally pen Interes! Weds. 9,104 up 182 from Sunk to 2.2 Miles GOLD 100 lray ounce contracts OLD 100 Tury ounce controcts

25.00 724.50 220.51 222.10 + 0.26
eb 25.00 27.50 225.50 225.10 + 0.26
for 226.50 277.50 225.50 225.10 + 0.26 for 226.50 277.50 225.50 227.10 New pt 275.00 277.50 226.50 227.20 + 0.40
eb 230.50 275.30 250.00 230.20 + 0.40
eb 230.50 275.30 250.00 230.20 + 0.40
ec 246.00 246.30 250.50 274.60 + 0.40
eb 250.30 225.50 247.30 244.60 + 0.40
eb 250.30 225.50 247.30 247.50 + 0.40
eb 250.30 225.50 247.30 247.50 + 0.70
ec 246.00 240.50 256.30 257.70 + 0.50
ec 246.50 247.50 247.70 247.70 + 0.70
Soles estimated i 14.45
The Designative Exchange announced trading MOSCOW, Dec. 28 (UPI) --- Soviet scientists have begun yet another deep drilling project, about 9.3 miles into the Earth's crust.

Tass reported yesterday that the first stage had been completed, pear the city of Saatla in the Kura lowlands of Azerbaidzhan, to a depth of 2.2 miles.

"A series of seismic, gravimetric, radioactive and other investigations are being carried out in the well itself," Tass said. Earlier this year a well on the Kola Peninsula was repopular. Yet creating a foreign educated Chinese elite to manage the economy could be equally unsettling to a society that is remarkably class conscious. China also lacks skilled workers to operate and maintain the sophis-ticated equipment it is importing. Moreover, its transportation and Although government officials and businessmen would not speak on the record of their concern about the stability of China, particularly after Vice Premier Tengmost privately concede it is a major communication systems are anti-queted, raising doubts that China can move raw materials to factories and finished goods to market in an 82 2 30 7 20. 4 23 4 5611 28 orderly way. 4% 12% 6% 2¼ 146 6¼ 2% 8¼ To overcome these hurdles, China is sending thousands of students concern.

The Great Leap Forward.

China's previous errorr at modernization, albeit without Western help, was a fiasco that paved the way for the Cultural Revolution of abroad and preparing to accept for-4½ 2½ Juniserr
946 5¼ Juniserr
4
6½ 3 KTelin 30e 8.9 13
5 134 Koisin 4c 2
3 11-16 KoneMil wi
1034 3½ KoeoKi 7
17½ 734 KendiCp
12½ 734 334 Ket Co 20e 4.4 4
134 24 Kieckim 23 4.4 4
134 24 Kieckim 23 4.4 4
134 24 Kieckim 23 4.4 4
134 25 Kinark 8
134 1 Khey Ori 3034 6 King Rd 40
1.7 5
334 154 Kirov Ex
43 336 Kir Mis 4
44 2½ Kieck'v 7
976 5¼ Kleineris 7
771 3¼ Kunstr 15 43 12 well on the Kols Peninsula was re-ported to have reached a depth of five miles. Citibank in China Link 376 2 164-16 976+16 104-16 134-16 1 + 16 116+16 116+16 176-16 3% 4% 9% 10% 12% 11% 23% 4% 17% 23% 33% CHICAGO FUTURES NEW YORK. Dec. 28 (Reuters) Yugoslavia Trade Plans

BELGRADE, Dec. 28 (AP-DJ)

— Yugoslavia and China agreed to exchange goods valued at the equivalent of $400 million in 1979, Bbout double this year's trade, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported.

NEW YORK. Dec. 28 (Reuters)

— Citibank said today that it has banking relationship with the Bank of China, bringing the number of U.S. banks with such relationships to at least three. A Citibank official said the bank's previous limited correspondent relationship with China was expanded about 90 days ago. why for the Cultural Revolution of the 1960s.

"When you undertake a far-reaching program of this magni-tude," says Nicholas Lardy, a Yale economist specializing in Chinese economic planning, "there is a pos-sibility of considerable political ins-tability that could discount aleast December 28, 1978 Open High Low Close Chy doffers per bo.

3.43 3.46½ 3.424 3.444 + .924
3.334 3.37 3.334 3.234 + .924
3.21½ 3.245 3.21½ 3.23 + .91½
3.26 3.30 3.23 3.25 + .91
3.40½ 3.41½ 3.29 3.39 + .90¾

Sales Wed. 4,605.

Total open Interest Wed. 37,815, up 54 from

WHAT'S IT CALLED ?

THAT'S TERRIBLE

MET!

IT CERTAINLY

REMEDIAL LIVING!

DO YOU HAVE

BERTHA BARF "?

EXCHANGES

FROM NOW ON I WANT THEM

TO CALL ME THAT TO MY FACE!

WE CANT!

HALF THE POPE

IS STILL IN

THE BAT

AS SOON AS I SAW

THEY'RE REFERRING TO ME

AS THE SUPREME RULER!

I DON'T BLAME YOU WHAT

WOULD YOU LIKE IN IT'S PLACE?

IT ON THE LIST, I SIGNED UP.

IT'S A NEW COURSE

I THINK IT'S JUST

ID LIKE TO EXCHANGE THIS WANDA WEE-WEE DOLL I

EXCHANGE

DAGWOOD, SOME

WANTS

SOME DESERT?

THE FLAG

AT HALF

MAST?

MEAN

DESSERT

OF THE EMPLOYEES ARE TALKING BEHIND MY BACK!

AND IT DISGUSTING.

WHAT I NEED

TN C.P. SNOW'S whole shelf of povels there's not an explicit sexual scene. The closest to it occurs in one of the earliest novels he wrote, "The Search," issued in 1934. Even there, in one sentence auburnhaired Andrey, taking Arthur's hand, opens the bedroom door, and in the next sentence he wakes to see her looking at him with a wistful smile. Since that time the tides of awful candor have swept over Anglo-Saxon culture, carrying many of Snow's fellow povelists to an almost clinical explicitness. But not Snow. Io an interview I had with him in 1972 he noted that he was constitutionally reticent and couldn't prevent his reticence from couldn't prevent his rencence from cootinuing. As to the new fashions in candor: "I shouldn't be influenced by these at all."

So his latest book, "The Realists," carries a tingle of surprise. Though it's not a novel but a work of literary criticism, it resears the securality of the authors. stresses the sexuality of the authors he writes about. They are his eight favorite novelists. Each gets a chap-ter: Stendhal, Balzac, Dickens, Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Henry James, and Proust, plus a neglected Span-ish genius, Benito Perez Galdos. He expatiates oo their sexual vigor or lack of it, oo how it manifested itself in their daily life, and how much it affected their fiction. We find that the luckiest novelists gave joy to their women, thereby enriching their understanding of the female sex and of life in general.

Leaving a Ghost

Take a prime example, Dostoev-sky. He didn't have a "sarious rela-tionship" with a woman until his first marriage at 34, with the result that his initial novels ran abnor-mally chort of say and searchist. mally sbort of sex and sensuality. Moreover, that marriage proved bitter, with little or no sexual satisfaction. Still worse was a brief, stormy affair with a liberated young woman. It "left a ghost in-truding into his life long after-wards, and more than a ghost in some of his women characters." But with his second wife, Anna, he experienced a passionate love which blessed the final 14 years of his life. "That is why," says Snow,
"the major novels of those last 14 years are sensually much richer, and much more balanced between mind and body, than anything be had written before. There is nothing disembodied about the women in "The Idiot," "The Possessed," or "The Brothers Karamazov," Opposite Dostoevsky, Snow sets Henry James. He suffered throughout his career from "an extreme sexual timidity" which was a part of "the lack of fundamental instinct that is the single great weakness of his art." For example, the perb novel, "The Portrait of a Lady. Its heroine, Isabel Archer, is nearly sexless and so her reflections on her disastrous martiage are shallow, though Henry James himself thought he made them profound.

However, it would be a caricature of Snow's lively literary criticism to see it as mainly sexual.
Rather, it's mainly biographical.
His critical approach to the author's work is through the author's life. And because Snow is a sound novelist who knows how to tell a story better than many of his peers, the result is often very interesting. In Dostoevsky's case Snow movingly describes his grim child-hood, his epilepsy, his four years in irons as a political prisoner in

Solution to Previous Puzzie

Siberia, his return home to write, his poverty, his successes, and his troubles with publishers - as wel' as the baim of his love for Anna Throughout the chapter Snow relates these things to Dostoevsky's marvelous fiction.

To Snow, the novelists in this book are all realists, though he has to stretch the term now and then He's convinced that the realists do best what he himself has always tried to do. As he observes disarmingly about Henry James, "Like al writers who expound a critical the ory, he was, of course, staking a claim for his own work." Snow: realists recount a story which gives us pleasure, and they also offer us the instruction which stems from finding out something about other people and ourselves. They revea in their most notable books both intuitive wisdom and keen percep-tion. So they tell us what life is tru-ly like.

'Cold Potatoes'

These authors, to Snow, belons a the great tradition of the novel However, toward the authors he considers ootside it, the authors of what he dubs "experimenta fiction," he shows an enduring hos. tility. Among them he number: James Joyce and Virginia Woolf, yer he finds experimental fiction a; "dead as cold potatoes." This results in a severe limitation on hi literary criticism, leading him to such bizarre judgments as tha James Gould Cozzens was a bette novelist then William Faulkner. W encounter this hostility as far back as his reviews for London's Sunda; Times from 1949 to 1952 and as re cently as in this book. Despite these limits Snow's criticism is rewarding. Like his fiction it shows his insight into human experience; his observations ar frequently wise. In addition, be of ... ten persuades us that we should read and reread the novels b writes about. He makes literatur inviting — something which is rar in modern criticism and merit more praise than it ordinarily gets.

Carl Bode, professor of English of the University of Maryland, has beed doing preliminary studies for a critical biography of C.P. Snow.

OWashington Post

Victorian Villa To Go on Block In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (UPI) -Unless someone with a penchant for living oo a grand scale comes up with $1.9 million, the Gramercy doomed as the city's last great Vic tonian single-family residence.

Queeo. Victoria's portrait. 2444 sketched from life by the American plus artist Thomas Sully in 1838 (sever at the years before the mansion was built with the property of the mansion was built being the property of the proper dominates the ballrom-sized fifth floor Red Room where Sonnenberg used to entertain guests with after in dinner movies. The portrait and the statement of the furnishings of 37 rooms of will be the part of the furnishing of 37 rooms of the part of the part

Sold at auction next June.

Somenberg, who died at 77 ir 2...

September, had bought the house with his in 1931, about 50 years after Mrs 2...

Fish and her husband (a descent plate dant of Peter Stuyvesant) player half hosts there to society's "400." Son nenberg vetoed preserving the house as a museum or landmark tem his will specifying that all the arting of and antiques were to be sold.

The Sotheby Parke Bernet galler in bearing will handle the auction, and war realtor Patricia Mason is in charge in part of celling the bears She thinks in Parket. of selling the house. She thinks in the light attract a nonprofit founds which tion, a foreign mission to the United and ed Nations—or a private individual wealthy enough to pay the pur a hand chase price, plus about $25,000 to here and a life of the chase price. year in taxes, $11,000 for heat, and salaries of at least seven servants.

By Alan Truscot

BRIDGE

There is a wide variety of inferences that the average player over-looks completely. Try looking at West's hand on the diagramed deal, and study the bidding on which he must base his opening lead. North had bid spades and hearts and then jumped in diamonds. Hesurely has at most one club, and a likely distribution is 5-4-3-1 in that order. South obviously has exactly three spades and at least five dia-

He bid Blackwood with an accless hand, and must have intended to play five spades if his partner held only two aces. His final selec-tion of diamonds rather than spades may be because he has more than five diamonds. But it may also be based on the need to score a 12th trick in dummy by ruffing a

This second explanation was the correct one. South had bid the hand well and reached the best slam. He counted five spade tricks and five diamond tricks, together with the heart ace and one club ruff. In six spades North would have to rely on a heart finesse. On the routine lead of a high club, which 99.9 percent of all players would select, the slam would have rolled home easily. West would shift to a heart, but South club ruff in the dummy draw trumps and claim his contract. But inductily for South, Western was listening to the bidding and in terpreting it correctly. He led heart, and South had no choice. How finessed the queen, and was dow, one when East produced the king.

All that remained was to complete ment West on his lead, and try the think of some retrospective way t reach the only unbeatable slam; si diamonds from the North side C the table. NORTH (D) VAQ82 43. EAST WEST 493 CK1698

097 4Q1095 SOUTH ◆KQ7 ∇43

◆KQ1086 4872

$00th 2 ¢ 2 4 4N.T.

Pass Pass Pass Pass

CROSSWORD. By Eugene T. Maleska A N U T S В,

ACROSS

- A one Funicular Kind of string
- 12 Alda, as Pierce 13 Demisemiquaver predecessor 14 Hinny's kin 15 Mohawk River
- 16 A.L.'s "Famous Arnos'
- 17 Neglect 18 Bruce Jenner's
- specialties 20 French resort city 21 Gardener, often
- 22 Split-levels, e.g. Creek craft 28 Morse course: Abbr.
- 30 "The Iliad," for one 31 Companion of free
- 33 Tapestry city Landlords'
- incomes 39 Disgrace, in
- 41 Dutch
- 42 Alaskan island 44 Green monkey 45 Sigurd's horse

WEATHER

47 Star of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" 49 Vallant

es Virginia willow

DOWN

t Place for a creations

3 Type of type

Do harm to 5 Gunwale pin

Comebacks

devotions

9 Dank 10 Dodgson girl

(wasp)

---- dauber

(di

11 Allots

8 Book of

2 Like Keatsian

chapeau

67 Still

68 Lob

69 Realty

- 52 Cambodian coin Sign 55 Dorm form 61 Isinglass
- Twain 26 Cloudy number 27 Eight-sided 29 Indian people of 62 Wavy, in heraldry the North 63 Exomple of oligophrenia 64 It follows Ab
 - 32 Straight --artow 34 Mayo and Yaqui - of Cleves

44 F.D.R., D.D.E.,

etc. 19 Golf-club socket

24 — pub. acct. 25 Holbrook, as

23 Throb

В

 \mathbf{N}

 \mathbf{q}

E

E

1

Z

A

R

of

X

0

R

G

A

 \mathbf{N}

R

Ι

P

1

R

В

Y

MESSAGE

FROM THE GENERAL

- 36 Request to a welcome guest 38 Literary
- relative of Adano performer 43 Screeds
- 46 Exculpate Los -A-bomb fame 49 Intimate
- 56 Zola 51 Like some gems "f Get ----, 1951 song
- -us a child is born" --- me tangere 58 Wayne quality 59 Zilch at
- Wimbledon 00 Dir. from Bern to Basel

OMALLEYS

PET RAT

AWAY

PASSED

ARE YOU

GOING TO TELL

CAN'T SPELL?

THE GENERAL HE

idings U.S. and Canada at 1700 les at 2000 GMT; all others at

INTERNATIONAL FUNDS

ADVERTISEMENT

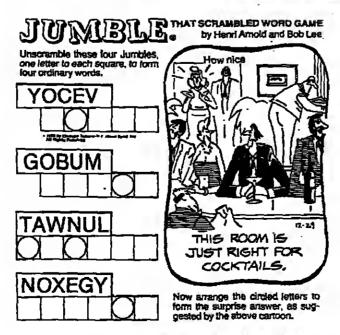

December 28,1978 exception of some Swiss funds of symbols indicate frequency (m)—monthly; [r]—regularly; Other Funds BANK JULIUS BAER & Co Lid: (w) Alexander Fund (w) Trustour Int. Fd (AEIFI... (w) Austral. Select Fd... (w) Bandselex - (ssue Pr.... (w) CANIT... (w) Canital Gains Inv..... $7.01 $7.22 $1.46 $F 123.50 $ 9.93 $ 10.47 BANGGE VON ERNST & CIE.: -- (d) CSF Fund...... -- (d) CFF Fund N.V..... SF 15.55 SF 270 S 6.23 LF 1,370.00 $ 170.36 $ 3,07 $ 901.74 $ 7,87 BRITANNIA TRUST ANGT (CI) Ltd.:
—(w) Universal Doller Trust.
—(w) IniT High Interest Trust.
—(w) High Interest Sterling.... (w) Convert Fd Int. B Certs (d) Convert. Bond Fd. N.V...... $)4.91 $ 9.58 $ 44.26 $ 0.30 $ 15.72 CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL : -- (w) Capital Int'l Fund....... -- (w) Capital Italia S.A...... -- (w) Canvertible Capital S.A. $15.54 LF 1,130.00 $ 3,674.33 $ 192.43 $F 1,511.00 $F 54.22 $ 11,71 DM 40.69 $ 0,31 Aus.3 9,05 CREDIT QUISSE: - (d 1 Actions Suisse OIT (NVESTMENT FRANKFURT (d) Global Int'l Fund..... (w) Haussmann Hidgs. NV 5 255.21 $ 255.21 $ 30.37 $ 10.61 $ 106.59 $ 109.52 $ 10.13 $ 10.13 $ 147.17 'B 4.99.00 $ 24.61 $ 6.41 DM 37.80 $ 93.54 $ 9.34 FIGELITY PO Box 679, Hos Rey C.J.: FIGELITY POB 195, St Heller, Jes — (w) Fidelity Sterling A — (w) Fidelity Sterling B — (w) Fidelity Sterling O £ 1534 £ 1534 G.T. MANAGEMENT LTD: 5 45.73 5 44.11 1,512.00 5 11.95 5 38.83 5 42.45 5 25.67 (w) Japan Selection Fund. (w) Japan Pacific Fund.... — (w) Berry Pac, Fd, Ltd.... — Iw) G.T. Asia Fund....... — (q) G.T. Bend Fund...... — (w) G.T. Deller Fund JARDINE FLEMING: $10.81 $0.44 $1.95 $20.70 $5.26 $42.43 $29.51 LF $19.00 384.29 3 14.74 — (r) Jordine Jason Fund... — (r) Jordine S.East Asia... morn Set, Fund LLOYDS BANK INT. POB JEGENEVA (Nor. Amer. Inv. Fund...... Nor. Amer. Inv. Fund..... Nor. Amer. Bank Fd..... NAME. Putnem Intern't Fund.... Rento Fund... ROTSCHILD ASSET MGAT (Bermulo): - (w) Reserve Assets Fd Ltd AGEIO CROURE GENEVA $4.52 39.44 - (r) Porton Sw. R Est ... $F 7455 $ 14.85 $ 15.57 $ 4.65 DAN 95.80 SWISS BANK CORP: -- (d) America-Valor . 3572.13 $167.01 $46.02 $367.03 $46.52 $36.05 $10.53 UNION BANK OF SWITZERLAND

 \mathbf{m} Sparty. THE DOCTOR SAID HE MIGHT DISCHARGE ME TOMORROW/ CAN I COME OVER TO SEE YOU AFTER ALL VOU NEED TO DO IS GIVE ME A CALL TO BE SURE I'M HERE, AND YOU CAN COME OVER ANY TIME! YES, I KNOW THAT MEDICATION / IT'S A RELATIVELY NEW ONE
AND THE RESULTS HAVE I COME HOME ? M JUST CLOSE THE DOOR THANK YOU. WE WILL ... THEN AGAIN, THERE ARE TIMES WHEN RULES THE APARTMENT MUST BE BENT ... SIR THEM PEOPLE LEFT IS EMPTY YOU IN THERE, BIRDS OF A FEATHER FLY TOGETHER, TOO.

FLAG BACK UP

THERE WHERE

IT BELONGS!

Print answer here:

Jumbles: PORGY GLUEY INJURE UNFAIR Answer: Where the short sprinter was unexpectedly successful—IN THE LONG RUN

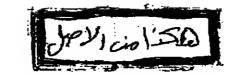

Imprimé par P.I.O. - 1, Bd. Ney Paris 75018

DENNIS THE MENACE

SHOULDA WARNED YA, JOEY... THE ONLY SAFE WAY TO EAT A CHOCLATE-COVERED CHERRY IS ALL AT ONCE.

Jey colose

E. German Athlete Says She Was Forced to Take Drugs

By Michael Getler

BONN, Dec. 28 (WP) — An Dlympic-class East German athlete who defected to the West last year laims that she was forced into takog performance-boosting drugs by per former trainer in East Berlin. The statement by 20-year-old Renate Neufeld —a sprinter who had been, until late last year, in training with the East German team being assembled for the 1980 Olympics marks the first time that a major

East German athlete has spoken out on the alleged use of bormone drugs to bring home medals for her

East german athletes, especially the women, have achieved extraordinary successes in the last few Olympic Games, outperforming countries — including the United States in the 1976 games — with far larger populations. This has touched off continuing allegations in the West of widespread use of drugs by the East Germans; claims that are repeatedly denied by East that are repeatedly denied by East German outhorities.

Neufeld, in an interview with the vest German sports news service ent tablets two or three times a day outlished here today, said that her for the TSC sports club in was repeated after ten-day breaks. West German sports news service published here today, said that her trainer for the TSC sports cluh in East Berlin first ordered her to begin taking hormone tablets when she was 18, as preparations began for the 1977 summer season. She said that she refused at first but later agreed under threat of various reprisals.
The sprinter — a short-distance specialist who had helped her clinh wio the East German national juo-ior 400-meter relay title in 1976 -

Painful Side Effects

Neufeld told the sports ageocy that she developed odd side effects, including a painful hardening of her leg muscles that sometimes caused difficulty in walking, occasional loss of her voice, a thin growth of hair oo her upper lip and, like oo other members of her by a guy in a gray suit," said Ricky Marsh, who received letters from 200 colleges. "When I flew out to see Michigan State, it was the first time I bad ever been on an air-

"An alum wined and dined me and called me all the time. I liked his attention. It was an ego thing, having a guy around all the time telling me I was somebody special."

Marsh, who played pro hall for Golden State last season, decided on Nebraska, but was unhappy and transferred to Manhattan College in New York, where he made the dean's list and earned his degree in management. He says the lessons he learned his last year in high school will last a lifetime.

you everything, and the coach usu-ally knows," said Marsh. "There were offers of cars and money. I needed a stereo, so a eheck came in the mail for $350. I went out and bought it. I had never owned anything like that before.

"Nebraska had a sugar daddy, a black man who took me over to his house and offered me the home atmosphere. After three weeks at Nebraska I never saw him again."

The activities of the alumni, with or without the coach's knowledge, seem to be uccontrollable. How can you stop them from slipping a $100 hill in a recruit's pocket? And promised me a job shoveling snow in the summer," said ooe highly recruited player from the New York area. "The alumni are always pushing mooey to front of you or leaving envelopes in your room when you visit. It makes them feel like

"Wheo I was recruited, an alum how can you prove they did it?

"It's the alumni wbo promise

strual cycle.

By May, 1977, she said, she tefused to take any more pills because of the side effects and was not permitted to see a doctor our-side the club Instead, the club doctor ordered psychotherapy, she Neufeld said that ber troubles were increased when she refused to apply for membership in the ruling Socialist Unity Party of East Germany. She claims that the training money she received as a member of the Olympic squad was withdrawn and that her trainer had said that this was just a warning.

"If I did not basically change my artitude, neither outstanding sports performances nor a good education would be any belp," she said she was told. "Instead I would soon be sweeping a factory floor or, at best, be standing behind a factory

By the fall, Neufeld claimed, she had been taken by plain-clothes secret service men to a police building for interrogation several times.
After that, she decided to defect. She went to Bulgaria on a vacarion, linked up with her Bulgarian hoy-friend, who is oow her busband, and slipped into West Germany from Bulgaria late last year.

Anabolic Steroids

She said that she brought out, with her samples of the two types of tablets that she was given in the East and the sports agency said that these had been analyzed by Prof. Manfred Donike of the West German sports federation as ana-

Neufeld said that she decided to speak out oow because her fother. an English teacher in East Berlin. had lost his joh since her defection and a sister, a talented handball ployer, was expelled from ber sports school and club for the same

Neufeld lives oear Munich with her busband and their two-month old baby. Reached by telephone this morning, she said that she could confirm everything that appeared in the interview but deelined to elaborate further. She said that her assertion applied only to what she knew about her own sports club and its members. She did not elaim detailed knowledge of what goes oo elsewhere in East

By Dave Anderson

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (NYT)

In sports, the popular image of an athlete's agent is that of a bloodsucker. But an agent can also provide a blood transfusion. For an athlete, there is nothing better than a good agent, and nothing worse

But which agents are good or bad? More important, which are bonest or dishonest? Until now, about all an athlete could rely on was heresay. But now there is a list of 208 lawyers and agents willing to put their credentials and fee structures oo the line for an athlete's in-published by the Association of Representatives of Professional Athletes, whose administrator is

William Weston, a University of ble agents are," he says. "I wanted to do something to improve the image and professionalism of agents and at the same time protect the young athlete." More than 2,000 directories have been distributed so

Conspicuously Absent

"I got tired of hearing bow terri-

Baltimore Law School professor.

than a bad agent.

Aside from ottracting certain in-terest io the sports world, Neuleld's statements also appear to have con-siderable propaganda value for West Germany and perhaps the United States.

The interview with Neufeld was conducted by Willi Knecht, a West German specialist on East German sports who also works for "Radio or the Allied Seator" (FO "Radio or the Allied Seator" (FO "Radio or the Allied Seator") in the Allied Sector" (RIAS) — a jointly operated U.S.-West German government radio hroadcasting operation based in West Berlin that broadcasts into the East.

The interview was printed oo the front page of the anti-Communist West German newspaper Die Welt this morning and Neufeld also granted an interview to RIAS which was broadcast yesterday.

Paid for Interview

Asked in a telephooe interview today if she was paid for the hroadcast interview, Neufeld said yes hu declined to discuss it further. Knecht said later that he had paid her and would get the money back from RIAS. Knecht said that Neufeld and her husband were very poor when he first met them after their defection and that he offered some money as a humanitarian gesture. It was not unusual, he said, for people to be paid when they appear oo radio or television interviews. In East Berlin, Renters reported that a spokesman for Neufeld's for-mer club denied her claims. "It is not the practice here that athletes are forced to take anything," the spokesman was quoted as saying. "She must have her own reasons for making such allegations."

Asked if hormone tablets were ever used by the club, the spokesman said only: "I would rather not make any comment on that."
In mid-1977, a female East German shot-putter, Ilona Slupianek, was disqualified in the European Cup track and field finals in Hel-sinki because she allegedly was on drugs.

Io the 1976 summer Olympic Games in Montreal, East German athletes won an astounding 90 medals, including 40 gold medals. But many Western observers believe that the East German training and selection programs for sports — especially toternational sports that bring recognition to the East — would yield a bumper crop of medals on its own merits.

Arthur Ashe was in good form as he defeated Bruce Kleeg in three sets to advance to the 2d round of the Australian Open.

Clerc, No. 2 Seed, Defaults In Australian Open Tennis Wales Open in Sydoey last week and nursed the knee through only

MELBOURNE, Dec. 28 (AP) -The No. 2 seed, Jose-Luis Clerc, to-day forfeited his first-round match in the Australian Open tennis tournament because of a recurring knee

Clerc, from Argentina, had won the vebreaker to clinch the first set against Australian John Marks, hut then stunned the large crowd by retiring on the advice of his doctor.

He damaged the ligaments in his right knee during a tournament in Buenos Aires four weeks ago. Clerc was in pain during the New South playing his best form as be fought back after an early service break to level at 5-5. He grabbed the tie-breaker with several topspin one practice sessioo.

Ciere said: "It gave me a little trouble in practice and I consulted a doctor before the match. He told me to try it out and to stop at the first sign of pain. It was so bad that now, I will go home and see o doctor in Buenos Aires. I won't play

Despite the injury Clerc was dis-

"I'll just have to rest the knee

it became impossible to run.

tennis for at least three weeks."

3 Seeded Players Eliminated Clerc was the third seeded player to disappear from the tournament after the first round, Yannick Noah of the Cameroon Islands succumbed in five tight sets to Australian Ross Case. Noah, the 10th seed, seemed headed for an easy victory when he raced through the first two sets but Case lost only seven games in the last three sets.

Besides Noah and Clerc, Austra-lian Geoff Masters, the 14th seed, was defeated by countryman Paul Krong 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Veteran Australians Tony Roche and Ken Rosewall passed easily to the second round. Roche, nursing a stomach muscle iojury, topped Romanian Ion Tiriae, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3. Rosewall, 44, worked Chris Stansbury of the United States around an outside court to win. 6-2, 6-4, 6-lefthander. Ruffles, who had an operation for tennis elbow to Washington three months ago, was eliminated by countryman Brad Drewett. Arthur Ashe, an American, was An arm injury brought the down-fall of Ray Ruffles, an Australian close to his best form as be defeated Bruce Kleeg, also of the United States, 6-3, 6-3, 7-6. Australian Bob Giltinan and

Egyptian Ismail el-Shafei ducled three hours under the searing sun before Giltinan won 6-7, 6-4, 6the final game, when a ball from an

College Basketball

It Seems Worth It to Break NCAA Rules

By Fred Rothenberg NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP) -

When Edgar Jooes was playing high school basketball hut oot realby attending high school, a man saw his academic transcript and advised Hubie Brown, now coach of the Atianta Hawks, to draft Jooes for the pros.

"The guy will be a pro but be'll never be a collegian," the man said.

"There isn't a school in the world that can accept him."

Brown didn't sign Jones; the University of Nevada-Reno did, using a transcript from Barringer High School in Newark, N.J. that omitted all his failing grades. A year latea, Nevada-Reno was on NCAA probation for signing a scholastically ineligible player.

The hole Children

In You lot

Centenary Co lege was on proha-non for six yet because it accept-ed Robert Parish, who oow plays pro basketball for Golden State. Centenary converted one set of test scores to make Parish eligible, but the NCAA told the school that only another set of scores were val-

Southwestern Louisiana lost its basketball program during 1973-75 for having what the NCAA said was a record of 118 violations, many of them involving gifts of money and clothing to recruits and

David Thompson was so good in high school that be put two schools on NCAA probation - Duke because an alumnus bought Thompson a sports coat and two pair of pants, and North Carolina State because it gave Thompson an illegal tryout.

One recruiter said he lost a star player because a rival Eastern school stole him with a year's supply of beer for the player's father.

Just a Fling

It is not at all unusual for a high school senior to be wooed by a woman, sometimes a cheerleader, during recruiting time. One former player said he "fell in love" with a theerleader who was provided for him during a visit to an Eastern school, and reneged on a verbal greement to go elsewhere. But af-ter enrolling, "she wouldn't even look at me." He eventually transferred to his first choice.

When Jeff Ruland was being reemited by Kentucky, stories circuthoroughbred horse. The NCAA and Kentucky denied the story, saving that it was Elvis Peacock, a star football player, who was of-fered the horse when the Kentucky football program was recruiting

Kentucky's hasketball program, however, was punished for other reching violations. The Wildcats won last year's NCAA championship despite the penalty of baving their scholarships reduced. In 1951, Kentucky also won the national tile hut lost its basketball program the following year for giving cash school ever to be punished by the

Does cheating pay? It seems to. lones, fighting in court an NCAA ruling of ineligibility, has not had to sit out any games. Neva-da-Reno has been 46-34 over the est three years, while Jones has geraged 18 points and 10 re-bunds as a freshman; 24 points and 13 rebounds as a sophomore, and 16 points and 10 rebounds as a Nico van Thyn, sports informaton director at Centenary, says six The of probation was worth it in he long run. Parish, twice the leading rebounder in the country although the NCAA did not recog-size his statistics brought national actain to the tiny school in Louisi-

And Bo Lamar and Larry Fogle Put the Ragin' Cajuns of Southwestern Louisiana on the basbethall map before the program As for Thompson, Duke cheated and lost; N.C. State cheated and on, carning the NCAA crown in 174 with Thompson in the lineup. The cheating comes in many tens — falsifying records to make the country academically eligible; promacy to get him to enroll, and continuing to provide money, free partments and cars just in case by thinking of taking his game

Tates Locke was one of the teaters. In 1975 he was caught rowiding money and plane fares as some of his players of Clemsoo the fiercely competitive Atlantic Coast Conference. The probation period for Clemson expired this

NHL Results

WHA Results

fortunate but I want to leave it die.

head coaching job at Jacksonville. "Wbat's bappeoed has happened," Locke said. "It was un-I'm back in the business and I'm proud of that. I'm the one guy wbo has come back. It turns my stomach to talk about it.

But he did tell all in the publica-tioo Basketball Weekly last year.

"I got tired of losing," he said.
"It's as simple as that I didn't do year and Locke then accepted the this because the Joneses did or because it made me a big man. I did it simply because I didn't want to get beat anymore. That's all.

"And as a result, I feel like I've cheapened the game. When some-one meodons the thing to me, it's just like they're driving a knife into For the player, the pressure to cheat is not so strong, but it is "I was just like anybody else, a

Ask Carter if You'd Like To Know About Cheating

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP) - Reggie Carter knows all about cheating in recruiting for college basketball.

Carter, a gifted backcourtman, was a highly recruited senior at Long Island's Lutheran High School three years ago. Hawaii, far from his native New York, won the recruiting battle.

Like several of his teammates and many other college players across the country, Carter accepted free plane rides to and from his oew school, a ear and money for an apartment - all in violation of NCAA regulations. But

Carter pleads guilty with an explanation. "I was recruited by Rick Pitino and I figured he knew when be said everything was legit," said Carter. "Then when I got there I found an entirely different situation."

One-Day Job

Carter said Pitino told him that the air fare from the islands and back would come from money he made working at a job in Hawaii. "But the job never came," said Carter, now playing at St. John's after sitting out a year as a transfer and 14 additional games as his NCAA punishment, "I worked one day tarring a roof, but that was just a manufactured joh."

Pitino, oow head coach at Boston University, was a graduate assistant when he recruited Carter. "I had no idea Hawaii cheated," he said. "Otherwise I wouldn't have heen there. I never promised Reggie Carter any more than room, books and tuition.

"I got him a job in New York tarring a roof, but he left because he said it was too hot. He called [head coach] Bruce O'Neill, and that's the last thing I heard about the joh.

Carter said Pitino told him that his room in Hawaii would be in a dormitory. But Carter said there were no dormitory rooms available when he got there, so he had to live in an apartment. The NCAA Manual states that if an athlete lives in non-institutional housing, he cannot receive more than the school's official room and board allowance, which was $250.

High-Rent Neighborhood

The apartment he found, Carter said, cost $350 a month. Even though Carter had a roommate, he said the $250 would not stretch to meet his food, clothing and entertainment costs. He said that was how the illegal payments started. O'Neill, who said be quit the coaching joh at Hawaii before he could be fired, said dorm space was limited because in-state students had priority. He admitted the payments to Carter and others.

"We weren't trying to be bandits," O'Neill said, "We just wanted the kids to be able to live, not get rich like they do at some schools. We tried Pitino said his recruiting job kept him away from Hawaii most of the year. He said be was furious when he found out, three months after school started, that Carter was off-campus. That is when Pitino said he investigated and found out about the illegalities at Hawaii. Since Carter lived so far away from campus, he needed a car. He said he turned his season nickets, which he could sell at face value, over to O'Neill, and then he got his car.

The illegal payments were going on before Carter arrived but, he said, the players he talked to did not tell him the truth. "The team bad five players from the New York area, and if it was like this, I thought one of the guys would tell me," Carter said.

Kept in the Dark

Pitino, who was in his second year at Hawaii when Carter was a freshman there, said he was kept to the dark by O'Neill. "I was just out of college. This was my first coaching job, and nobody I talked to had heard anything bad about Bruce O'Neill. As soon as I found out about the illegal things, I told O'Neill I was leaving.

"I assumed everything was legit, but I must take the blame for not knowing enough myself. I must live with that. Before Reggie came to Hawaii, he was definitely not a cheater."

O'Neill, who has been placed on a lifetime ban by the NCAA from coaching again at Hawaii, said he never explained to Carter or the other players the possible ramifications if their illegal activities. "I don't think any coach ever does," he said. "Let's face it, if you're in college, you must have enough common sense and intelligence to know nature of the ballgame." Now a salesman for a Hawaiian televisioo station, O'Neill said he misses basketball and would like to one day get back into coaching. But be admits that Carter was the real victim. "He's suffered the most I suppose we let him down in a way."

Carter said: "That was a year of my life. I was going so far away from home that I figured they'd tell me the facts. If you can't trust the coaches, wbo can you trust?"

Washington Wins Last 8-Oar Race

but Vancouver's crew stacked up enough points to win the overall tropby in the Nile River Rowing Regatta.
The Canadians, most of them students at the University of British Columbia, placed third in the main event behind the Washington Huskies and the Leander Rowing Club of England. Seventy-four athletes from five foreign countries participated in the regatta, which began last Saturday with an eight-oar contest in Luxor, 500 miles upriver from

The Huskies, fueled by an unusual diet of peanut hutter and candy bars, dominated the show hut were only entered in eight-oar and pairs events, giving them no chance at the overall trophy. Washington's coach, Diek Eriekson, said that he was "nickled pink" with the Huskiies performance, which gave them a 1½-length victory in the eight-oar race in a time of 5 minutes, 35 seconds, and a ne for second with Egypt in the point

In the featured race, Washington's coxswain. Mark Allison, 20, said that the Hr kies got the lead and vafter 20 strokt "Leander was hanging tough all the way, but we here."

CAIRO, Dec. 28 (AP) — The University of Washington won the featured eight-oar race yesterday but Vancouver's crew stacked up ished fourth.

Vancouver, Washington's tradi-

Bad Lack for Vancouver

nional rival, was plagued hy bad luck, especially io yesterday's finals. The Canadians needlenosed, 65-foot shell collided with an Egyptian fishing boat that wandered across the course just before the hig race. "We smashed into a boat and the gunnels were all caved in, explained the coxswain, Peter Jacksoo. "The bow was split and we had to change boats."

The collision occurred in failing light and delayed the final race the regatta's maio event - until nearly sunset. Shaken by the accident, the Canadians got off to a slow start and were further hampered when their oars smacked into those of the Egyptian team. Canada's crew in the pairs Fred Withers and David Orr also finished second to Egypt. Only in the four-oar race did Canada score a first, defeating two Arab boats. "It was disappointing for us." said coach Rod Bell-Irving. "We were asleep at the start on the pairs cheat," said Jim Harrick, assistant coach at UCLA and head of the coaches association's recruiting and we smashed up o boat in the rights. Still, it was a thrill to be committee. "I think it's minimal.

Thanks From the Gang

The local boosters are also a major source of potential cheating. The economy of any college town rises and falls with its major sports teams. Winning teams bring in more fans and more revenue, and the local merchants show their gratitude in many ways.

"A lot of the alumni owned res-taurants, where we are for free." said Kevin Grevey of the Washing-ton Bullets, who played his collegi-ate ball at Kentucky. "I found out I wasn't supposed to do that after my sophomore year. But it was heaven for my first two years. One North Carolina booster rewarded star Mike O'Koren with a $50 hill after a Tar Heel victory last season. O'Koren declined the money, and told his coach, Dean Smith,

"I told my players what hap-pened and warned them that the man could have been a gambler." Smith said. With the pressure to win coming down on the coaches from so many places, the temptation to sign the star high school player by book or by crook becomes particularly pow-"When I first was hired by North Carolina, the president told me the only ways I could lose my job would be if the school was put on NCAA probation or my players weren't citizens on the court," said Most chief administrators, however, doo't issue those kind of guidelines and most schools don't have North Carolina's winning the score. Thousands of players out there are getting illegally paid. It's the tradition. "I've never been in the situation where I was under pressure to win right away, where my job depended on winning in one year," said Bill Foster of Duke, who previously built winning programs at Rutgers and Utah. "When your back gets up against the wall, you do things differently. I just thank God Duke gave me a five-year contract."

Bob Cousy, the former Boston Celtics star, was a successful coach at Boston College before he quit in 1969 because, he said, he did not want to cheat.

"The blue-chip athlete in football or basketball who has his hand out can pretty much get what he wants," said Cousy. "Even if junior walks away from the handouts. mommy and daddy will be there."

Not Everybody Agrees But the NCAA denies that cheat-ng is so widespread.

David Berst, the NCAA's enforcement director, said declara-tions by coaches that everybody ats was a part of the intense "We hear the same ooise from some coaches, but it's not publi-cized when we check the charges and they don't bear out," Berst said. "Cheating does occur, but I don't think it exceeds 15-20 percent of the Division I institutions."

Ned Wulk of Arizona State, tion of Basketball Coaches, agreed with Berst. "Cheating is not as prevalent as everybody makes it out to be," he said.
"I think 15 percent of the schools

We did a survey."

(This is the second articles in a series.)

A Consumer's Guide to Reliable Agents hut also directors of player associations for the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League, respectively - a conflict of interest, some think.

"We'd like to have them," Wes-ton says, "but they haven't been willing to join yet. We hope they Ed Garvey, the executive director of the National Football Players Association, is the godfather of the agents' group. This directory is, in essence, a consumer's guide to the sports representative," Garvey writes. "The goal of the organization is to help you make an intelligent choice if and when you decide you need to have someone belp you to your contract negonations. Only those who subscribe to our code of ethics, pay dues, and attend seminars to keep them up to date on develop-

But conspicuous by their absence in the directory are some of the most celebrated sports agents the International Management Group that Mark McCormack heads: Jerry Kapstein, Michael Trope, Larry Fleisher and Alan Perhaps those agents are waiting to see how the ARPA grows. Or perhaps they believe they don't oeed to advertise, so to speak, in the directory. Larry Fleisher and Alan Eagleson, of course, not only are agents for individual athletes

NBA Leaders

NHL Leaders

	6	A	Pb
Latteur, Mon	23	33	56
Truffler, NYI	29	29	54
MacMillion, Atl	16	36	5
Choulmard, Atl	22	26	50
Clonne LA	23	26	45
Federko, St.L.	13	34	4
Bossy, NYI	25	28	4
Middleton, Bos	15	29	44
D. Petvin, NYI	14	30	44
McNoti, Bos	20	22	4
Sittler, Tor	19	23	42
Lysiak Atl	18	24	4
Giffies, NYI	12	30	42

WHA Leaders

20 to 10
3333	24	57:
34 14	42	56
29 21	30	51
33 23	23	46
31 19	24	43
28 12	30	40
29 24	15	39
29 20	17	37
31 17	19	34
25.12	21	33

ments within professional athletics will be listed in the directories. If an agent approaches you, and he is not listed in this directory, you should ask him wby be is not in the directory. Before signing any contract with an agent, you should check with our office and force him to disclose his fee structure, his educational background and other pertinent information which is listed herein for those who have filled out the ARPA questionnaire." Not for Superstars

The directory is not aimed to help the "superstar" or the first-round draft choice. "Those players are like the guy who finishes first in his law-school elass, he's going to get a job and a good contract," Weston says. "The directory is primarily for the kid coming out of college who knows nothing about negotiations and contracts. I've already had about 100 calls from college football players this season who want an agent to handle their NFL contract after the May draft. This is the first class that has had the directory ovail-able."

certain agents, or suggests that cer-tain other agents be avoided. "But there are pitfalls that an athlete should be aware of," Weston says. "The worst is what is known as the 'full fee,' meaning if an agent negotiates, say, a five-year $250,000 contract with a $15,000 advance for a 5-percent fee, he should not take his full fee ($12,500) out of the $15,000 advance. Unless the five-year coo-

Not that the ARPA recommends get only a portion of his money if he has a career-ending injury or if of ability. If the player does oot get the full $250,000, the agent does athlete ever plays. The fee should come out of dollars actually received by the player, not out of dollars that may oever be paid."

The law professor also men-noned "double dealing" hy agents who suggest clients invest to busiopportunities in which the agent also has a financial interest, in the "buying" of athletes by agents with advance payments

NBA Results

Wednesday's Results.
New York 114, New Jarsey 104
Philodelphia 122, Indiana 110
Atlanta 115, San Antonio 107
Detroit 131, Houston 119
Boston 112, Kansus City 103
Los Angeles 106, Gotten State 104
Seattle 122, New Orleans 103

while they are still competing in college, also a violation of the National College Athletic Associatioo The hustler, the schemer is not golog to join our organization," Weston says, "But if an agent is not in our directory, at least an athlete can now ask him, 'Why didn't you sign up?" and it should make it difficult for the agent to explain why he did not. If we had this group several years ago, perhaps we could have avoided some of the terrible disasters that some agents created for some unsuspecting athletes."

Looking back, Weston recalls that the Dick Sorkin case crystal-lized the agent problem. Dick Sorkin was the Long Island agent who pleaded guilty to seven counts of grand larceny last year and went to jail. More than 50 professional hockey and basketball players were bilked, with authorities putting their losses at about $1.2 million, whieb the agent used in unwise stock-market investments and racetrack gambling.

"That's what really got Ed Gar-yey and me thinking," the law professor says. "And now we've got it organized," But perhaps Weston oeeds an agent himself. For guarding the io-tegrity of agents and the finances of says. McCormack's monthly phone bill is more than that. Guidry Honored ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28 (UPI) -- The Sporting News has named Ron

Guidry, the star New York Yankee pitcher, its man of the year. Guidry had a 25-3 record and a 1.74 ERA.

athletes, his annual fee is $7,000, he

3. 6-7. 9-7. A dispute occurred in adjoining court forced a let to be played after Shafei had smashed a wioner to give him break point on the Australian's serve. Giltinian won the next two points to elinch the match.

PARIS AMUSEMENTS CENEMAS - THEATERS - RESTAURANTS - NIGHT CLUES

CALAVADOS BY. 27-28 JOE TURNER - LOS LATINOS Bar - Restaurant Luches, Dinners & Suppers. 40' Ave. Pierre ler de Serble (Corner Hotel George V) OPEN DAY AND NIGHT-Air Cond Reserve for New Year's Eve DINNER "A LA CARTE" - DANCE

Observer

Get Divorced And Get a Job!

By Russell Baker

cans will become poorer next eager to do so. The more difficult week. The new, bigger Social Secur- case arises with those slightly older ity tax starts eating into take-home women who were bred to anticipate pay on the first of the year. At the lives as what used to be called same time, the international oil mooopoly will start raising prices so that almost everything will cost Fewer dollars. higher prices. Result: lower standard of living. The trick, of course, is to increase income faster than the Arabs and the federal government can gried you down. But

The president's guidelines oo wage iocreases will make it almost impossible to stay ahead of the wolves by the usual method of putting a knife to the boss' throat and demanding more salary. In any case, salary increases don't really work, since they only move the breadwinner into a higher tax bracket, thus enabling the government to prune his paycheck more vigorously.

For the average family, the easiest solution is to replace nonworking wives with women who can bring in a decent income. Prices in the United States are now based oo the assumption that the average bousehold enjoys two incomes. Houses that cost $28,000 ten years ago now cost $56,000. Apartment rentals - at least in New York -have doubled in four years. The value of the dollar bas declined to 50 cents since 1967.

The economy, obviously, now assumes the presence of two wage earners per household where, until recently, there was only one. Eco-nomics has made irrelevant the quarrel between feminists and their foes about women's right to work.

Her right is no longer an issue of arguing tights at all any more, the question is whether her husband has the right to insist that she work. In progressive arrangements un-der which the woman works while the man stays home with diapers and dishes, she, of course, should also enjoy the right to insist that he get out and bring home the bacon, or else get out. Economics, after all, always takes precedence over principle when Arabs and tax men have the house surrounded. First feed the face, goes the old maxim. Save the big talk for afterward. Most younger women are capa- somewhere.

NEW YORK — Most Amerible of working, and many are even "homemakers." The homemaking skills, though invaluable to the culture and extremely difficult to master, unfortunately are not in demand by the great companies that provide nutritive paychecks. In a word, these women are unemployable. The man allied to one in an economy that requires a two-income household is in as much trouble as a mule in quicksand. He can always send ber to school to learn a new trade or profession, someone will say without thinking lo fact, the costs of schooling nowadays are based on the assumption that the student comes from a five-income

By the time a "homemaker" had been retrained for the modern job market, ber spouse would doubtless be seized by the government for sale at tax auction or have his gears clogged with sands from Arabia for failure to ship enough money to Mecca.

There is only one solution for dealing with these unfortunate women. A change in the divorce laws might be enacted authorizing the severance of marital relation-ships in which either partner is incapable of fulfilling his or her ecocomic duty to double the bousehold income.

What would become of these poor creatures once they were replaced by skilled breadwinners and turned into the streets will doubtless trouble humanitarians, of whom, fortunately, there are very few in state legislatures - which write divorce laws.

It is unlikely, however, that they would present anything compara-ble to the problem created by the vast oumbers of unemployed black teen-agers, who are also necessary victims of economics.

True, unemployed divorced consequence; she now has an obli-gation to work. In fact, if it is worth out on street corners and running with gangs that mug and steal to obtaio petry cash for their homemaking necessities in abandoned tenements. Since all would be well beyond the vigor of adolescence, however, and since most would be well advanced into oriddle age, it should be relatively easy for law-abiding citizens to fend them off with kicks and punches.

On Christmas and the Fourth of July, the president might even issue proclamations praising their sacri-fice. At Thanksgiving there would always be a free turkey dinner

By Willa Perschek

LONDON (IHT) — No. 3 St. James Street, as most men-about-town are aware, is the address of Berry Brothers and Rudd, wine merchants, whose shop, a handsome, shiny-black wooden structure with five arched windows, has remained almost unchanged both inside and out since the early 18th century.

Curiously enough, the first thing that strikes anyone entering this low-ceilinged es-tablishment — with its worn floor, its collection of Windsor chairs and rows of framed prints on pine-panelled walls - has nothing

Scales

It is the famous "great scales," a machine suspended from a large steel beam in the ceiling and originally used to weigh coffee. The firm was originally a glorified grocery that supplied coffee, butter and eggs (as well as wine) to Anne Boleyn; across the lane she occupied the manor bouse that later became St. James's Palace. Occasionally a customer would also ask to be weighed, and gradually the oumber of weight-watchers increased and the management attached a wooden chair to one side of the scales.

"In 1765 we decided to record our cus-tomers' avoirdupois, along with the clothes they were wearing, in our weighing books, 16 leather-bound volumes which today con-tain over 30,000 entries," says Anthony Ber-ry, a tall, white-haired man, the firm's present chairman and a member of the sixth

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

J.S. Wherton, V.P. & Treasurer atterious Heritoge Life Insurance Ce 11 East Fortyth Street Jockson/Us, Florida 3/2072 Inii 974-354 1776.

SOUTH FLOREDA LAND 3 percels of land, 350 to 6,000 scres. All cash. Confect. ROBERT M. COUF, Broker, 220 S.W. 9th Ava., Soile 106, Hollandole, Provide 30097. Tels 305-454 2029.

SPECTACULAR

CONTEMPORARY

IN NEW YORK

U.S. HOMEFINDERS

INTERNATIONAL

location professionals specializing in inderthal sales, remain and investments, the estective and his family. For more information writes. 311 Per Road East. Westport, Ct. 0689, U.S.A. or relephone 203 226 4211.

The Weighs

Emperors, kings, prime ministers, poets and dandies all called at No. 3 to order their wines and seat themselves on the scales. Many recorded their weight again and again. George Gordon, the sixth Lord Byron made his first visit in 1806 when he was still a freshman at Cambridge and was shocked to find his weight was 13 stooe, 12 pounds - rather much for a boy of 17 who was oo

In 1811 Byroo returned from the Near East, bringing with him the first two cantos of "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage" and fame. His first stop was at No. 3. To his delight the scales showed that the hardships of travel had brought his weight down from 194 pounds and freed him, momentarily at least, from the specter of obesity. "One thing I do not regret' Byroo wrote to a lady friend "is having pared off a sufficient quantity of flesh to enable me to slip into an eel skin and vie with the slim beaux of modern times.

The books also reveal that Beau Brummel, that famous arbiter of elegance, anxiously checked the results of his eating and drinking no fewer than 39 times - a small oumber compared to the Duke of Fife, the third Marquis of Donegal, and Sir Charles Bampfield Bart, who entered their weights 200 times apiece.

Empries

At Berry's, the only indication that there is traffic in wine is the display of empty wine bottles from various periods. When a customer wishes to buy a bottle or two, the salesman slips through a trapdoor and de-scends the narrow staircase to the cellars which extend far under St. James Street the underground roof bad to be reinforced in 1852 so that the Duke of Wellington's gigantic bronze funeral car would oot crash

Three years earlier Prince Louis Napoleon (the emperor's nephew), who had recorded his weight upstairs, used one the cellar's transepts to meet secretly with friends (over a number of bottles of claret) to plot to take over France.

Although Berry's holds a Royal Warrant (along with several other wine merchants), a large proportion of their table wines sell for under £2 a bottle (about $4). "The recent high prices at wine auctions give a complete-by false and artificial impression of the value of wine" says the chairman. "The good Lord didn't mean a bottle of Chateau d'Yquem to be kept for 100 years and then sold for £5,000. And of course if you keep a wine too long it gets ullaged and past its prime. And that's tragic."

Some customers weigh in on the "great scales" at No. 3 St. James Street.

At the rear of the shop is a small, graceful room with a fireplace, framed prints of the Earl of Lonsdale, the Earl of Roseberry and other former Berry customers, and several horsehair-covered sofas and chairs. It is the parlor — so called because it was once part of the quarters in which Berry's great-great grandfather lived.

Miniatures

Customers are intrigued by a glass cabinet that holds a number of microscopic bottles — a duplicate of the wine cellar Berry's father was asked to design for Queen Mary's dollhouse at Windsor Castle in 1923. "My father approached the delicate task rather like a craftsman carving the Apostles Creed on a grain of rice" says Berry. "Everything was made exactly to scale, and every bottle or cask contained exactly what it said it

The bins contain dozens of bottles of wine in 38 varieties, including an 1851 Cockburn Port, an 1876 Chateau Lafitte, a 1904 Romance Conti and so on. There are also table wines for the retinue and hangerson, who were assumed to bave less cultivat-

"The filling of the bottles, which are one-hundredth the normal size, was a frightfully difficult task, a single drop of wine being larger than the opening of the bottle" says Berry. "My father solved the problem by using pipettes, but even so the champagne had to be deprived of its sparkle before it could be introduced into the bottle. And of course the cellar is equipped with its own thermom-eter, corkscrew, case-opener and cellar book."

Storage

Only a relatively small amount of wine and spirits is kept in Berry's ancient cellars. Several years ago the firm built a modern warehouse for wine bottling and storage at Basingstoke, Hampshire, where 100,000 cases of wine are stored at the ideal 55 degrees

"About 30,000 cases are customer's stock, some dating back to 1914," reports Berry.
"The storage charge is 84 pence per dozen bottles a year. The demand for storage facilities is rising as fewer and fewer people have cellars of their own and as more and more realize that the most economical way of buying wine is to buy it young. The customer can draw out as much or as little as he wants, even a single bottle if he wishes, and we'll deliver it to him."

Of all the notable customers over the centuries, one of the most remarkable was George Cruikshank, the roistering 19th-century political cartoonist and illustrator of Dickens, who was a frequent visitor. As one of his friends put it: "No man drank with more fervour nor carried his licquor so kindly, so merrily."

Cruikshank was 55 when, in 1847, he suddenly joined the temperance movement and appeared on Berry's doorstep shouting "Give me back my thousand pounds!"
When Cruikshank ceased to be a teetotaler is not clear, but when his will was examined after his death it was discovered that be had fathered 10 children (the last at age 82) by a mistress whose house was not far from his own. The provision for her in his will, while requiring that the money be invested in the Temperance Building Society, went on to bequeath to her such of his "furniture, books and wine" as were in his house at the

Mrs. Janet Smith get a congratulatory kiss from comedian Larry Grayson as she receives winnings of $1.26 million in a British soccer pool. At left is her husband, Mick, a train engineer.

PEOPLE: Wins $1.26 Million

A 38-year-old British housewife has won £629,946 (about $1.26 mil-lion) by predicting weekend soccer scores. Organizers of the weekly Littlewood's pool said that Janet Smith, from Longleavens in central England, had beaten odds of more than a billion to one in picking eight draws. Mrs. Smith, a mother of two, said: "I was staggered. I just couldn't believe it."

On New Year's Eve at New York's Waldorf-Astoria, it may still sound like "the sweetest music this side of heaven," but the revelers will be dancing to a different drummer. A little over a year after his death, Guy Lombardo's baton has been passed to his nephew, Bill Lombardo, a 30-year-old who until last March was a drummer for a "rock-oriented" band in San Francisco. Those mindful of tradition will be comforted to learn that for the band's 50th New Year's Eve performance, the familiar beat goes on, although Lombardo says a pop sound might be heard more frequently than in the past.

Former West German Chancellor Willy Brandt has begun two months of treatment at a heart center at Hyeres, France, oear Toulon. Brandt suffered a mild heart attack in mid-November and was hospitalized at a Bonn clinic until Christmas Eve, when be was allowed to join his family. He is expected to remain at the center until Feb. 20 and then go to Lake Geneva in Switzerland for a working vacation.

Industrialist Cyrus Eaton celebrated his 95th birthday. His wife Anne said her husband would give no interviews at his home in North field, a suburb of Cleveland, but she reported that Eaton, one of the few U.S. businessmen to gain the trust of Soviet officials, is enthusiastic about President Carter's deci-sion to establish formal relations with China, "It's something that he's been advocating for some time." Mrs. Eaton said.

A note went up on the bulletin board in the editorial offices of The New Yorker magazine, ending for the moment rumors that William Shawn, the magazine's editor for the last 26 years, is about to retire. "Peter Fleischmann has asked me to stay on in my job and I have agreed to do that in an atmosphere of friendship and understanding."
Shawn's note said. Fleischmann is magazine's board chairman. The 71-year-old Shawn, who has been referred to by colleagues as the best-known least-known man in America," had fueled the rumors about his retirement last week when he posted a note asking the staff to stay calm and not to pay attention to the gossip. Shawn is only the second editor in the magazine's 53-year history. He succeeded Harold Ross, a founder of the magazine, when Ross died in 1952.

Brace yourself, Kitty, Matt DRlon is walking into the sunset with another belle. Actor James Arness, who starred for 20 years as Marshal Matt Dillon in the "Gunsmoke" television series, has married Janet Surtees. Arness and Miss Surtees were married Dec. 16 at the First Christian Church in Studio City, Calif., disclosed studio spokeswon an Gail Cottman. The 55-year-old actor is currently starring in the ABC-TV series. "How The West

CHLOE IN GENEVA for a pleasant time. French/General/English/Span-ish. Cell 32 55 83. LONDON: "LA PARISIENNE ESCOKTS"

LONDON: "LA PARISIENNE ESCORTS for the best girls in Jovan. Phone us now, London 01-637 2152.

BSCORT SERVICE: By well educated and attrocive pariets. Apparedon. Tel: 247731, Teles: 17178.

WHEN RH LONDON, call Chelsea Girl Escorts for the prefilest and freedist girls in town. DI-584 6513/7249.

BY FRANKFIRT CALL Helps: Requirill, and amusing: Tel: 287080.

GENEVA attractive & defightful escort, Immale or male, cold Laikz 28 74 49.

LONDON. For someone special. Super girls. (01) 221 2081.

LONDON ESCORTS, maleste, very diagreet, Tel: 1 UK. 01-402 77 48.

BLITE ESCORT IN PARES Tel: 542 43 04.

MISS ESCORT otherctive golds in Por-is, Tel. 280 43 14.

MRANO ESCORTS. English & Indian all. pints. Tel. 607 1306. 606 4017.

MANDOLINE .IN PARIS: Tel. 32

MANDOLINE IN PARIS: Tell
774.75.45.
ESCORT SERVICE FOR FRANKFURT.
Cell for a pice size. 563629
MALE ESCORT SERVICE. Cell Arester dem, tol. (220. 56.00 Jr.
TOPE OF LONDON TOWN. During girls foreway. 01.579 6444.
GO PLACES - TOP LONDON Intelligent partners. Tel. 262.3108.
BORNIE EN NEW YORKs withy and elegont secont. 272.4679.2999.
FOR: YOUR ESCORT (N PARIS. cell. 500.73.88.

	ANNOUNCEMENTS
_	HOW TO SUBSCRIBE
	to
	THE WALL STREET JOURNAL
Red	es for 11,K. 6. Continental Europe: $190 1 Year $100 6 Months $ 50 3 Months

Delivery by Jet Air Freight from New York every business day. (Other area rates on request.)

nd order with payment to THE WALL STREET JOURNAL International Press Centre 7a Shoe Lone London E.C. 4, England (Attn. Mass. Roth) ALSO AVAILABLE AT MAJOR NEWS-STANDS THROUGHOUT EUROPE. ASK FOR IT.

SUBSCRIBE INTERNATIONAL HERALD

TRIBUNE AND SAVE.

As a new subscriber to the international Herald Tribune, you can save up to 47% of the newstand price, depending on your country of residence. For details on this special introductory offer,

P-IT Subscriptions Department, 181, Avenue Charles-de-Gazile, 92200 Neully-sur-Seine, France, Or phone Paris 747-12-65 ext. 305

ALL NEGHT NEW YEAR'S EVE Dinner Forty, Fiz. 90, TOP BANANA AMERI-CAN RESTAURANT, 46, rue das Lom-bords, Pars 1st, Reservotions; 236 48 48 ofter 5 p.m.

You'll see-

"The point was to rent

the apartment fast...

"And I did. Just two days efter my ad appeared." That's an actual quote from someone who recently offered an opartment for lease in the classified columns of the Herald Tribune. We receive testimonials like that all the time.

Perhaps because Herald Tribune readers are responsible and responsive people. Better off than most, better piaced, better paid. And so to a better position to buy the things they see advertised

So if you want to rent an apartment... or sell a car... or hire

Just telephone 747 12 65 to Paris to place your ad.

Herald Tribune ads work.

ANNOUNCEMENTS WANT TO KNOW the INS and OUTS of Parts? Buy "A Touch of Parts" THE magazine for visitors - bargains, strokegets, new places, special pleasures. On sole major newstands Fra. 10. MIDAS MAINTER SHOP, Paris, Tel. 672.46.52; Nice, Tel. 55.38.74.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

LOW COST PRINTING You have the apportunity to place you printing world in Greece. Attractive crices as working without Trade Unions Rotory Press available for daily newspo pers, mogazines, books, business forms, continue forms, labels. PRESS-HELLAS S.A., 11 Directos St., Athens (Tavras), Tel: 5243666/6665473.

FROM JEANS TO MACHINES, FROM COAL TO COMPUTERS

BUSINESS SERVICES U.S. TAX RETURNS prepared 1977/1978 Phone for appointment. Geneva 02255/45-6. New York 2172/398-0180. SUN N.Y. TUNES, jet Euro-delivery. Box 86, Machelen, Belgum. Tei. (32-15) 21.04-63.

LONDON BUSINESS ADDRESS PHONE/TELEX Exacquisat, Sulta 60 87 Regent St., W1. Tel., 439 7094.

LONDON-LUDURIOUS SERVICED of fices or just reliable prestige business address, phone answering, teles, etc., services, ADFONE Business Services test. 1963, 150 Regard Street, London Wil. Tol., U1 439 6288, Teles: 261 420 PARIS ADDRESS, Champs-Dyses. Since 1957 LSP, provides mai favwarding, $25/month. Telephone, teles, meeting rooms, 5 R. d'Artos, Paris 8a, Tol.; 359,4704 Teles; 642504.

OFFICE SERVICES YOUR OFFICE IN PARIS
ANSWERING SERVICE TELEX
secretory, arranto, molibox.
24 hours or day.
Caft, FAT. 609-95-95 Paris.

OON'T select just ANY agent without first referring to John Dingser at R. 6. Bednightwesting. Specialist in a Worshouse, Office copprediction, Shops, etc. throughout the Nether-lands. Sel. The Hopus 670-656910.

INTERNATIONAL ST LEAN CAP FERRAT
West side with see view, smed villa with 5 bedrooms, 3 bedrooms, drowing
com, bloody, kirchen, large terroce, also separate quest house with 3 rooms,
Lond area 1,800 se.m.
Price Frs. 1,500,000,
77, BLVD BU CAP,
066600 CAP DT ANTIBES
TEL (93) 61 44 84, TELEX, 970174F. COTE D'AZLIR. SPECTACLILAR VILL

COTE D'AZUR, SPECTACULAR VILLA on Mediterranean with uninterrupted sea views to CAP FERRAT. MONTE CARLO 4 km. Modern Resion style. All marble floors. 45 fr. Uning room, 4 bedrooms, 2 boths, 2 showers en suite. Large ferroos. Polite, cypresses. Swittming pool. Also lodge: large fiving, 4 bedrooms, both, stower, large ficher. 5400 scn. Double car particular. 5400 scn. Double car part. Talephane. Company owned. All enquines to Sterling Trust, 60 rue du Stand, GENEVA, Switzerland. COTE D'AZUR. - Villeforanche Sur Mersox excaptional duplex villes facing the most beculful bay in the world, with direct occess to the sea, storting from Frs. 800,000 for 100 sq.m. Fiving spool, Tele on son (53) 01 27 19 or SLF. 50 Blvd. Vietor Hugo - 06000 - NBCE - Tel. (73) 82 03 98. This outstanding design residence of 14 norms is a luxurious showplace of unusual specializations and quility constraint in a 2+ agree serving of wooded privacy. Only 30 minutes to midtown Marshothan in the afficient community of Sneden's Landing, N.Y. $ 255,000, Box 13047, Herold Tribune, 92200 Neully, France.

OFFICE SERVICES

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

FRENCH PROVINCES

KAPNIST

GREFCE ATHENS, IN MOST ELEGANT

suburts, lorge lucurious villu for private life, surrounded by its crem gorden. Close to Mount forms & its Cosno. 20 min. from morvellous beach. High justified price. S. Softrepoulos & Sons, 5 Zolecobo Sr., Athers 134. Tal., 01-3635184/3637015. CONNECTICUT. Let us help you find a home for sale or read in our area. Listings will be seen receiving your requirements. Wheeler Red Estrice, 8cc il 146, DAREN, CONNECTICUT. Executively homes, for rest or sele, in pleasant New York City suburb, Franch society. Bell 18 (1997) 1997 (1998) 1997 PORTLGAL ALGARYII - LARGE VILLA Popular Abufuira: 1st class stands 3000 sq.m. Ideal convenion high class dub. Port 40 cars. Eigiblity 50% Tourist Grant Immediate sole 0.M. 220,000 (squivo-lent), Radinvest, P.O. Box 12, Quar-teira, Tel. 65790, Algarve.

CONNECTICUT Setter residential properties for Sale or Rent. Professional relacation service. For brodure, please write: COUNTRY HOMES, 2700 Summer Street, Stom-ford, Connecticat 06905, USA.

PRINCIPES - READY TO GO
ROBBA GUEF COAST
Premium tubdivision 125 cores planned for single family, townhouses is patio homes-500 units. Set section of R.
Nyers. Fronts on Cypress Lake Gelf Course. Public water 6, syever, Zonad 8 approved with all engineering for subdivision site 8, unity work completed. A.
Redr. 522 Fifth Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10036.
[212) 764 3000.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

U.S. INCOME PRODUCING form for sale. Guaranteed 8% yield cash on eash. Contact: Intercontinental Income Properties Corp., Dalas, Tesus, ILS.A. 214-696 2522, Wr. Fred Deal. INVEST IN PRIME U.S.
COMMERCIAL LAND
igh Yield, Secure Investment, shuoted in U.S. Sun Boll, Exquire:
CENTENNIAL RUNDING CORP.
5 S.E. SCOOD, Avenue, Suite 705,
Migni, Florido 33131. W. BYRD THOMPSON, REALTOR to state in amount of the control of MOBILE HOME PARK Knowelle, Tn. offers excellent potential return on unestment. Approximately 40 comes; 180 polls with city water, electric ty, sewer systems, ternis court, play-ground, swienning pool. Price $540,000 costs (net). Contact: REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE GREAT BRITAIN

GREAT BRITAIN

CENTRAL LONDON - Executive service apportments in new buildings comfortably furnished and fully equipped. Doily maid service (Mon. thru Fri.), and four TV. Phone for brochere (IV) 388 1342 or write Presidential Estates (Monfar) Utd., 1 University St. London (WCTE 61E.

LONDON. For the best furnished flats and houses. Consult the Specialists. Philips, Kay and Lewis. Tell: London 629 8811.

MAYS for large selection of furnished properties. Wimbledon and throughout Surrey, Phone: (01) 946 6262 or Osshon 3811.

HOLLAND DUTCH HOUSING CENTRE Deluze rentals. Valoriustr. 174, Amster dom 920-723222 or 794958.

LH.S. MAKELAARDU EV Apartments and houses for rent and for sale. C. Krusemansh, S. Tel.: 020-768022.

Renthouse International 020-448751 (4 lines) Amsterdom, Amsteldijk 162.

HOMEPHOES INT. Furnished/unfur-nished homes Amsterdom, 020-777956/27605 Sethoventr, 81. PERRE'S SERVICES: In Amsterdom, Hilhertum & Unright grass, Tel : 085-12198.

PARIS AREA FURNISHED EMBASSY SERVICE Apartments, Houses 265 67 77.

LATIN QUARTER rw, luturous double receptors drooms, kitchen, both, shone. 5,000. Tel: 280 20 42, Lease of Very Beautiful FALBOURG SAINT HONORE 200 SQ.M. Free immediately.

Ferniture & decorption new.
Tel: 225 12 24 office hours.

Department for foreigners Soles & rentals Tel.: 742 62 65. PARC MONCEAU: very hourious, up per floor, 2 receptions, 3 bedrooms, 2 berts. Frs. 8,000, 720, 35 12.

RESIDENCE SERVICE

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE EMPLOYMENT TEACHERS WANTED PARIS AREA FURNISHED PLAISANCE: 3 rooms + small kitches & bath, phone, 6th floor, no elevated Tel: 603 04 47 after 7 p.m. STAY "CHEZ VOUS" IN PARIS. From ATTENTION ALL SCHOOLS AND COMPANIES WITH EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED

American Advisory Service

USA

REAL ESTATE WANTED/EXCHANGE

PERSONNEL WANTED

Don't raise INTERNATIONAL SECRETARIAL JOBS

MONDAYS

in the BIT Classified Section.

SAFETY & TRAINENG SUPERVISOR Middle East, required by major of drilling contractor. Applications are in vited from Arab nationals who are in lingual Arabic, Sometimes and English parties only with a degree in Engineering and experience in Patholeum locality. He will be required to administrative and investing programs for drilling top personnel and assist supervisor in training materials and assist supervisor in training materials and resident and the will be carry out safety inspections of drilling rigs. Send dentated opplication in English & returns to Box 35508, HT, 10. Kingsway, Landon W.C.

TEACHERS WANTED

TEFL TEACHERS

SAUDI ARABIA

Minimum BA in English, Inquisitos, or modern fereign longuage, Puis one year destroom experience in TEFL, MA must be an some disciplines or in TEFL/TESL. Consideries with degrees in other disciplines must have four years TEFL experience of which two must be overseen, fleasures should include full devias of TEFL experience, including materials used, educational terrel, contact hours. Use of audio-vavid equipment. Previous applicants will be considered and need not recopyly. Openhaps for 1979, Housing, transportation for employee and family. Plus other excellent benefits.

Asumes to:
Manager

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TRAINENG, (Box 8) Northrop Corporation,
F.O. Box 77,
Ohahran, Saudi Arabia.

shallo to 4-room operments. Comfort-oble, fully equipped. 1-2 weeks or monthly reneal. LOVAC, 18 rue Bonche, 7500P Paris. Tel: 874 38 95/878 64 07. Teles 641000F ADAR. When you have a teaching position fill, whatever the level or subject, can recruit across Europe shrough International Herald Tribune. SURESNES, sumphous villo: 6 rooms large garden, letchen, 2 boths, tele phone, garage. Frs. 4,400.764 07 10. will appear each Saturday in the D Classified Section. To place your a contact your local IHT representati jackfresses in today's Classified Section

International Herald Tribone, 181 presue Charles de Gaulle, 92200 Neurily, France Tel: 747 12 65 Tx: 612832 602 40 40 EXCLUSIVE SUBLIBES Philo., Po. 4 bed-rooms, 2 dens, living room, also office. Central cir, 2 to boths, 1 to cores. Min-imum 1 year lease. 3975/month. P.O. Box 859, Bryn Mawr, Po. 19010. Tels 215-522-1334. STITUATIONS WANTED

ARDE DE CAMP, VALET, COOK, SEC RETARY, French man, 40, with US working permits, best references. Ar Sodergysts, 6 nue de Poncaou, 75002 Paris, Tel. 233 97 45. TEACHERS AVAILABLE TEACHERS

FOREIGN SERVICE WIND for INTERNATIONAL TEACHING JOES seeks for executives posted Paris, from studios to 5 rooms, rent guaranteed by company or embosey. Paris 285 11 08. Seturdays in the IHT Classified Section. Starting January 6. EMPLOYMENT > POSITIONS AVAILABLE CANADIAN FAMILY LOOKS FOR Norry/Houseleager (halped by oxid), expensence and references required, to care for 3 chalden, oges 7.5.4. Must begin immediately, Family returning to Canada next July, Salary open, Attractive conditions. Cell. 720 B1 14 forts.

PAGLISH ARUM'S HELPS, Normal free now. NASH Agency, 27 Gro-Parside, Brighton, U.K. T.281 868. AUTOMORILES MITISH MOTORS Wright Brothers Monte Carlo, druct locary decim ROUS ROYCE and BENTLEY can or ronge gwick delivery lottest models.
Tals F73 50.64.84. This ATOSSO TELCO.
MERCEDES NEW LIPO ASO SEC-5-line, oil subros. Also 200, 220 8. disease. Immedicite delivery. Mayriar Motors, 18
James Street, London W1. Tels III-491
2825/497 1908. Thr. 22704.

SITUATIONS WANTED

AUTO SHIPPING RANSCAR 20 rue Le Sueur, 75116 Poris. Tel: 500 03 04. Madrid; 411 19 61. Antworps 339785; Connes: 39 43 44. AUTOS TAX FREE

U.S. AUTOMOBILES General Mators, Chrysler, Fore AMC 494 Jeep & Bazer, Station waggors, Brand netw, diff. colon some day delivery with Swii papers and Rome, places, Paymer in U.S. dollars. RAMITY MUTORS INC.,

AUTOS TAX FREE BAW CONCESSIONNAIRES G.B.

ITD., the U.K. importers can offer tox-free from stock BAWE in RMO, U.S.

U.S. and Australian specifications. Coll us today: Export Division, 56 Park Lane, London WIY 3DA. Tel. 01-6299217. Telesc 261360.

MERCEDES, PEUGEOT, FIAY, etc. New and used. EAT., 216 Fbg. St. Honore, Paris 563.96.56. Tix 641611.

BAGGAGE SHIPPING HOMESHIP WORLDWIDE 22 Rus Travisa, Paris-Re. Tal.: 246.24.55. Cell Charles. Also small/medium movings.

MOVING ALLIED VAN LINES INTERNATIONAL WE TRY HARDER.

FRANCE: DESBORDES S.A.
272.35.16, 272.30.58, 887.57.40. GERMANY: INT'L MOVING rankfurt, 0611-392-325. Munich, 089-142244, Hamburg, 040-364990.

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL CHARTER A YACHT IN GREECE DI-RECT from Owner of a Reel, VALEF, A. Themistodeous 22r, Prosss, Tel. 45 29 57, T.K.: 21200. KENYA SAFARSS, Niester Tours, 623 Grand Building, Trafologe Soucre, London WCN SHN, (DI-930 1895). LAFLAND SKI.—TREFOUNDS, One week 5225, Also insuperienced sters. Dis-on, Box 100, 20301 Abe 50, Finland.

HOTELS RESTAURANTS NIGHT CLUBS U.S.A. TUDOR HOTEL, 304 East 42nd Street, New York City, in feat-ionable, East Sale Marketian, half black from UN. Single from $32; doubles from $40. Telezu 422951.

ANIMALS DOGS. All breads. Clipping, boarding, 10 Pts. de Villers, 75017 Paris, Tel.s 754 95 24, 967 17 41. Open Sunday. DIAMONDS

> DIAMONDS Fine diamonds in any price range of lowest wholesale prices direct from Antwerp. Full Gueronies. For free price list write: Districtions from Commissions of the Commission of the Comm Olettics it sport oachen Goldenstein Established 1928, Pelikoenstraat, 2000 Antwe Belgium. - Tel.: 21.33,26,60.

SHOPPING ANTARTEX SCOTTISH SHEEPSKIN Com, rugs, hondiums, sweeters, etc. Donold Macdonald (Antartex), LONDON, 1/3 Kingsbridge SWI, EDINBURGH: 17 Cusen Smeat, YORK; The Shombles, and NARROGATE SI Portionner Smeat, FACTORY SHOP, Alexandras, Loch Lomond, Pertenal soles or mail. Color catalog free on research Lomond, Personal sales catalog free on request. ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORT INTERNATIONAL PARIS.
Top class, multilingual guides, for Poris, most exclusive Escort Service call:
574 08 99.

-SAMUEL JUSTICE ESCORTS & GUIDES

ESCORTS & GUIDES DALIA IN LONDON For that Special Guide 01-731 4180. AMERICAN ESCORTS - U.S.A:I RIXEDO ESCORT INTERNATIONAL Paris' best choice of escerts Tel: Paris 222 60 55.

Quick, efficient VJ.P. service to meet YOUR unique requirements business and/or leasure. ALL LIFESTYLES, Everywhere, USA, TR. Hotline 212 V61 1945 212 359 6273 212 461 6091, 212 461 2421.

CONTACTA INIT'L. The no. 1 executive except service in Europe.
GERMANY: Fronkfurt, Cologne, Bonn Duesseldorf, Westpoden, Montz.
SWITZERLAND: Zurich, Bossl, Winter Austra. Berns. thur, Luxern, Berne. Central Booking for the above men tioned cities, Germany 06103-86122.

> NO USE SITTING ALONE, CALL .. COSMOS wide selection of lovely and multilingual escorts. Open everyday 9,00 a.m. until 2 a.m. Fasts 976 87 65.

IN MAYFAIR LONDON Amanda Jay EXCLUSIVE ESCORTS 01-499 7319/7310

stiemen, have you ever seen P to an attractive lady ? For a memo ble time, please call 970 49 48. PARIS ESCORT LADY

PARIS WELCOME INT'L

refined, estructive and discree! Call 579 01 70. MARHABA IN PARIS I High class Male and Female Escent for every social occasion.643,75.17.

How to answer Box Number Ads: All replies to l.H.T. Paris box numbers published without International Hurseld Tribune. 181. Avenue Charles de Gaulle, 92208 Noulby, France. who will forward.

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD OR ENTER YOUR SUBSCRIPTION at our office negrest you AUSTRIA: Mr. McKim White, Bonkgasse-8, Rm 215, Vienna 1, (Tek: 63-84-06.)

BLORUM: Mr. SR Firmerly, 23.
Ave. de la Toson-6 Or. Str. 12,
1060 Brunels. (Tek: 512,5740.)
BETTSH: SSLES: Fer subscriptions contact the Paris wifee. For odvertising only contach Mrs. Sugar McBryde. (H.T. 103. Kingswey, London, W.C.2. (Tel: 242,6593.
Telex: 242,000.)
GERMANY: Fer subscriptions contact the Paris affice. For odvertising contach Mes I: Dertinger. LH.T., Grosse Escherheimer Strosse.
Telex: 41,721, HTD.)
GRECCE Mrs. Jean-Cloude Renney-Talen, 416/21, HTD.;

CREECE M. Joan-Cloude Rennesson, Findareou 26, Athens. (Fel. 3618397.)

IRANA ARM. Mahmudi 12, Bostons Street, Kooroan Kobir Ave., Talman 45, Iran. Tetz. 232908, ITALY: Mr. Antonic Sonthorton, 55 Vio della Mercede, 00187 Rome.

Tal. 279/34-37. Telest. 610 161).

APANA: Mr. Todoshi Mori. Medic Soles Jepan Inc., -Doichi Mori. Suntano. 2566. Tel. 504 1925.

LEBANON, SYRIA & JORDAN: Trons Arsto Medic Adventage Management (TAMAN) P.C. Bost. 688, Sairus, Homno. Tel., 340044, Sursock. Tel., 333257.

MOROCCO: Mr. R. A. Stogel. 2
Res Murdoch, Cascislance, [164.
27.36.R3 or 22.00.90.

NETHERANDS: Mr. A. Gran, Hobbensestront 28. Amsterdem
1007. Tel. 120.76.86.66.76.86.

57. Re. 1313.
PORTUGAS: Mrs. Rick Amber. 22
Res des Icheles Verdes, 1200 Ushon. [164. 67.793.8.66.2544].

SCUTH AFRICAN Mr. Robert A.
Hortemend, Interactional Media.
Representativis, P.O. Box. 4.145.
Commendum, 2000. Tels. 23.
0717. Teleus 8-4013.
SOUTH EAST AFRIA. C. Chestey &
Associate Ltd., 35. Ho Lee Commercial Building, 30-44 D'Aguillor Street, Central, From Rome, 18th phones 5-23007. Teleus 5-255
Free HJ.

SPAIN: Altrado Uminoff Sormanto, Padro Tessina 8, Barto Nort
1, Office 317, Modrid 20, Spain.
Tel. 255.3306. This 2335 MART
2. 2335 MART
2. 2355 MART
2. 2

* Classified Ads * Subscriptions * Renewals

.

LAN CO SED